

THE NEW YORK

DRAMATIC MIRROR®

VOL. XXI., No. 539-

NEW YORK: SATURDAY, APRIL 27, 1889.

PRICE TEN CENTS.

NYM CRINKLE'S FEUILLETON

DOVETTA THE PINK OF AMATEURDOM. HOW THE PROPHECIES OF ITS SUCCESS FAILED ON THE FIRST REPRESENTATION. THE PET OF THE PRIVATE CIRCLE AND HER PROGRESS INTO PUBLIC VIEW. THE THE-ATRE OF THE METROPOLIS LAGGARD IN CENTENNIALISM. WHERE TO ESCAPE THE ROW OF THE BIG CELEBRATION.

The Spring sunshine brings the amateurish nd tender sprouts to the surface of the stage as it brings them to the surface of the earth. Could such a lettuce leaf of opera, as is Dovetta, have sprung into green life at any other time than this? Son.ehow, it looked as if the charming creatures who planted it, dug about and manured it, said to themselves, the whole city is taken up with the Centennial, nobody is thinking of anything else; now is our chance to put Dovetta on without attractng attention, except from the foresworn riends who have heard it in our parlor. This operetta, produced at the Standard with all the éclat that personal friendliness and, is the pink of amateurdom. It had all the tenderness of a boudoir tulip or an album water color. It was the triumph of reet inanity and parlor propriety overd. Every care had been taken that it an too much; that it should not be vulgarized by newness or brightness or human interest. Your fastidious lady who s music in the bay window, without the slightest interest in what goes on on the other side of the panes, invariably takes her product when it is completed and appeals to the people who are on the other side. She is ted up above the market that she must ave a batcalion of personal friends to protect her in selling her goods. These friends stand round with the drawn swords of their sideration and warn you not to judge, not to criticise, not to be bored, because she is a Amateurdom is always carrying these deli-cate vases of talent out of the boudoir where they belong, and setting them in the roadway shed. Gallantry is always gathe ing up the pieces with tears and lamenting the brutality of the highway.

Two hundred deeply interested, social adirers of Dovetta have for the past month le the primrose paths of New York echo with their praise of the opera. The fringe of than in a new play, especially at these Censcented circle fluttered with the flattery. | tennial times ard in Arcadia that it was the passion wer of genius. I was told in Bohemia that the American lync drama had arrived. There had done it. Authoritative amateurs played its best numbers. Social wits quoted its crisp sayings. The Areopagites of the tea-table proed its success

Strange, isn't it, that this cot rie was wholly destitute of a judgment that was fit to go into the market? Dovetta, that had charmed the hypercritical souls of the friendly sets; that had sown the air with promises—failed utterly and instantly the moment it was set in the cold blast of popular appreciation.

I know a delicious musician, whose violet eyes make melody without an instrument. She breathes pastorals, and every motion is a madrigal. But the moment she begins to se, she remembers something. Her f douvre is a reproduction of Menin's Wedding March. Her bacchanal is "Il Segreto;" her nocturne winds in and pin. She is the most delightful reverberator I ever encountered, but she isn't as of it. She never, in all her life. ed a new succession or continuation of notes. But she lives in the constant hallucia memory that enslaves her. And I have sicians in her parlor listen to strains | rived. of Verdi and Flotow with lying admiration and assure her they were new. A silken hypocrisy closes in her whole life. She never utters anything but voluptuous lies. She ever hears anything but silken deception.

If some hideous monster should say to her, 'My dear, your music isn't composed, it's ed. It doesn't come out of you, it through you,"-there would be a

Everybody has admired the net of a private endowed with talent, who let her back hair down and entranced us on special evenings when the world was barred out. There w always aunts, who said, "Dear, dear, to think of the poverty-struck creatures who are winning the world's acclaim while this gifted child is kept here in private! It's a shame She belongs to the race. What a sensation she would make, wouldn't she?"

I think we all had this feeling. Personal contact with her so took the edge off our judg-ment that we magnified her beyond all measure. We could not understand that it was the woman and not her talent that we were admiring We told all our friends about this divine fire and this true mettle and the magnetism and the presence and the sympathetic quality. There grew up an atmos phere of adulation and expectation.

Do you remember the night she appeared in public? Can you ever forget the poignant interest that we felt; how indignant we were that the women in the box seemed indifferent and the people behind us conversed. Do you recall how much smaller the genius looked on the stage than she did in the parlor? How her voice, that had always been so full, seemed to be muffled and weak? How the strangers in the house mistook the other woman for the star? How, somehow, the angel's dresses didn't have the swing and the steps lacked the firmness, and altogether how amateurish she was, and, in some inscrutable way. diminished?

Those lisping hawthorn buds who believed Dovetta was an inspiration must have had a curious sensation when they saw, to their astonishment, that it was dull, weak, slightly tiresome and wholly unoriginal. And nothing but a public experiment would have deter-

It is not often that men on the stage "travel," as our slang has it, on their personal charms. But Mr. Joe Emmet is a case in point. It seems a long while ago since he first fascinated us with his beauty, his nasal voice and his inimitable step.

Now he has come back. Slightly corpulent, and tries to keep up the same illusion. I wonder if his admirers see him as he is, or only as he once was. I wonder if they would not rather have him keep on with Fritz and "Sleep My Baby" than try to do something new. We have our stage superstitions. We would rather see Maggie Mitchell in Fanchon

And speaking of this theme, do you not feel, my dear Mirror, that the theatre of the metropolis has been laggard in Centennialism? taken in all that is military, naval, social and industrial in our community, but the art en deavor stops at an exhibition of pictures. It appears to me that the managers and actors ight have offered a worthy contribution to this event. There certainly might have been one great performance of a worthy play. A million strangers will be in town-what special dramatic event marks the occasion? Where was the public-spirited Manager Daly and Manager Palmer and Manager Hill and Manager Frohman? Where was the ever fertile Mr. Boucicault and the ever patriotic Steele Mackave? Where was the American actor, Mr. Barrett and his support, the ever popular Mr. Booth? Where was the ever genial Mr. Jefferson and the ever public spirited Clara Morris? What was the ever young John Gilbert thinking about? Where is John Sleeper Clarke hiding? What's the matter with Rose Coghlan and Mrs. Bowers and plethoric Denman Thompson?

Not a Centennial sigh, by Jove! Even the jubilee Pat Gilmore, who wrote a national ode when there was no occasion for it, is as mute as a clam, now that the occasion has ar-

What an opportunity for Edwin Booth to have blown a bugle blast to his fellow artists and railied them for a memorial effort! These enthusiastic people only needed a spark to have all exploded together in a feu de joie of Centennialism. They would have come at his call and the theatre would have had its Centennial, I am sure.

Poetry in the presence of the venerable Whit-tier; decorative art, new ballads and songs see for some time at the performances of for the people and marches for the bands; commerce closing its doors at a sacrifice of millions; traffic suspended in favor of a geant; business forgotten; but the d sn't time and can't afford to celebrate. otten; but the drama onths ago that excellent actor, Mr. Louis Aldrich, made the welkin ring with his Americanism Now that the welkin is specially prepared he doesn't care for it. I reed at the time in these columns that in less than three months the kind of patriotism that Mr. Aldrich was chanting would be Philopena, Mr. Aldrich!

There isn't a more deeply-dyed American than Billy Florence. And he was brought up in New York, too. Every fibre in him goes out to Gotham. I don't know, but I have an idea he will go a-fishing till the fuss has blown

Perhaps the theatre has so often got a black eye in its attempt to be American that it has learned modesty, and left patriotism to express itself with brass bands and brewers wagons. But all the same, I feel confident that had a representative actor made an appeal it would have been honored.

Just as this paper goes to press the city will be in the premonitory throes of centennialism. The ground is beginning to shake now. May it not be that the theatre, which has so often been a refuge for us from ourselves, will on this dire occasion prove a refuge peaceful and safe from our country cousins?

And here I am tempted to give a bit of advice to the million who are trying to hire windows in streets where the procession does not pass. If you would be at rest-absolute, deathlike rest-go to Dovetta until the row is

This serene abnegation of music and morals contains in itself the nepenthe of the grave. In it are all the panaceas of an iron will mingled with the memories of a generation of NYM CRINKLE.

GRATIFYING PROGRESS.

The appeal of THE DRAMATIC MIRROR, reainding professionals of their duty to become embers of the Actors' Fund, is still producing good results. This week there are nine names to be added to the list of seve nine person who have joined the Fund through the persuasive influence of our columns. This swells the aggregate to eighty-eight new members, the names of those who have sent in the requisite two dollars to pay their annual dues being as follows:

BEATRICE RINEHART CONRAD. FRANK DRUMEIR, MART ROGERS. R. M. GULICK. W. H. SMITH. JOHN P. LOUGNEY, WILL CHATTERTON, WARREN LIOVE.

Alexander Fisher, in forwarding two dollars for his membership dues, writes that all who are connected with the stage should send in this trifling sum at once, and that they would, if they remembered "Charity begins at home.

Fred. G. Conrad, manager of the Rinehart Opera company, writes:

Enclosed you will find $2.00. Kindly place m wife's name on the list as a member of that grand institution, "The Actors' Fund." We both hope to Mart Rogers says in his communication that he wants us to "keep the good work going." Nothing will please us better than to comply with his request, and we trust that many more will enable us to enroll their names on the list of members brought into

CRANE'S SINGLE STAR SEASON.

William H. Crane was walking rapidly up Broadway, dodging the falling telegraph poles and trying to nod to innumerable acquaintances when a Missos representative met him the other day.

"No. I'm not going abroad this Summer The trouble with the theatre is that it has to the Paris Exposition," said the genial no public-spirited leader and commander. | comedian. "There will be too great a crowd | ness."

of the engagement at the Star Theatre, I shall go to London, Out., to assist in the benefit to Mrs. Holman, with whom I started in the profession some twenty-six years ago, and then I shall go home to Cohasset for the

My next season opens on Sept. 16 at the Chicago Opera House. I have two new plays, one by D. D. Lloyd, of the Tribune, who is too well known for me to have to say much of him, and the other by Matthews an Jessop. Then I have The Balloon, which was produced in London by Charles Wyndham, and is now enjoying a run over there. My designs on Falstaff have not been abandoned, but I would rather introduce myself in the American comedies, and have the fat knight follow. All the costumes and design for scenery, etc., for Falstaff are as good as ready in London for me, but I will not produce it until toward the end of next sea or the beginning of the one following. I shall play an engagement at the Star Theatre here on Jan. 20 next, coming in for a run, with a repertoire."

LA TOSCA'S SUCCESSFUL SEASON.

Marc Klaw, who recently returned from his Western tour with Miss Davenport, was se by a Mirror representative at the qu Klaw and Erlanger the other day. Mr. Klaw spoke in the most glowing terms of the Davenport La Tosca season.

"It has been," said Mr. Klaw, "the m brilliant tour of Miss Davenport's enti career, and I doubt if any tour, outside of Booth and Barrett's, has yielded a star a bigger profit than has come to Miss Davenport in ions about La Tosca helped this some-La Tosca. Of course, the news what and aroused public curiosity, but a notable example of the strength of the attrac lies in the fact that where we played pro-tracted engagements of two or three weeks the business kept up. Here at the Star Thea tre, during the last days of the La Tosc week, the theatre could not acco

"Miss Davenport's receipts have averaged about $1,000 at each performance, including nights and matinces. These are not far of La Tosca has been generally acknowledged by the press to be the best effort of her life. Melbourne McDowell's Scarpin has been raised without stint everywhere, and he has been complimented for the artistic discretion used in the handling of the role.

'Miss Davenport will continue playing La ca next s on, and will probabl duce a comedy bill for one night each week to give her a rest from the strain of Sardou's tragic heroine. Her season will close week May 13. She will spend a good portion of the Summer on the Pacific Coast.

WAINWRIGHT IN TWELFTH NIGHT.

Gus Mortimer, the manager of Louis James and Marie Wainwright, is back in the city. He is as enthusiastic as ever over the success of his stars.

"We played the biggest engagement dur-ing Holy Week in Baltimore that was ever nown there," began Mr. Mortimer, "and now we are head and heels in the work of preparation of Twelfth Night, for next sea Miss Wainwright this list of artists I'm negotiating with to paint the scenery? Phil. Goatcher, Walter Em Charles Graham, Schaefer and Maeder? There will be a cartload of scenery and Miss Wainwright will carry it all with her. E. Hamilton Bell has finished all the models for the dr and Ben Teal has perfected his work-the arrangement of the scenes and the introduction and fixing up of new business.

"Both of these gentlemen stake their repu-ation upon the work they have done for the play, and both go out to Chicago to direct the production, which takes place at McVicker's about the middle of August, while Mr. Jan opens his season in Boston Sept. 16. James, by the way, is taking a very lively interest in his wife's work, and succe dicted by everyone connected with the

THE NEW YORK DRAMATIC MIRROR OAR OF THE AMERICAN THEATRICAL

PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY

At 145 Pifth Avenne, corner of Twenty-first 8

HARRISON GREY FISKE, MOITOR AND SOLE PROPRIETOR

sold in London by our a nes Company, Bream's and in Paris at the Gre at the New York Post Office as Se

APRIL 27, 188

. The Mirror has the Largest Dramatic Circulation in America.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

lished on Monday morning, the sial holidays necessitating the early of the issue in qu ions and descriptive matter g the plays, players and playbe maron's time, besides several sp es of timely interest and the usual dein advertising pages will be closed on uring afternoon. Advertisements to be more. Advertisements to be mak must be received not later nys. m. of that day.

TOO MUCH AND TOO LITTLE.

ed law; in America the people suffer e of the th in a newspaper on the other side us is the conductor of a troupe of a, which on its appearance last Fall in to the others. Yesterday m's journal, the tive and respectable Era, to have "a can-can of the most outrages charac-tich was a brasen infraction of the rules ey." The evidence showed that the stified by the facts and that interests of public morality at malice.

to, before whom the case was d against the defendant and the to consider itself irresponsible." Is, the verdict of the jury was onsible." ishment must be inflicted on never a chance often. Mr. co offen. Mr. un, for this remark, des se beside Documen in the estiof his countrymen and of appreciative te Lord Chamberlain exercises an abso-censorship over the English stage, but it as that the law objects to his receiving ne of the press in the work of punt that will not trust ments, and that visits a penalty upon per which seeks to conserve public by by exposing and denouncing an ina is peculiar, to say the is country the trouble is all the other cends the tenets of de mes the embodiment of licensed m of our newspapers should be managerial announcements.

The poster is a relic of ignorance. It was mand such a revision of the libel laws as will gence for keeping abreast of current ever guarantee adequate protection from the Moreover, the number of persons that persons t guerrillas that, unhappily, infest the field of a poster is entirely proble influence, character and wide circula-It is acknowledged to be the ablest edited per in the South. But a specimen either of crass carelessness or deliberate misn appe ared in its issue of the 14th of this month, which calls for a satisfactory explanation, or such an apology

WILL MR. GRADY EXPLAIN!

The Constitution, on the date in question did us the honor of reprinting a portion of the editorial, "Actress and Woman," and the erses entitled "The First Commandment," oth of which had been published in Tuz DRAMATIC MIRROR of the preceding week. The Constitution did not omit to credit these acts, but it took particular pains to attribute them both to an obscure sporting and theatrical sheet of this city.

What has Editor GRADY to say about this? The good things in THE DRAMATIC MIRROR are freely scissored by our esteemed conries in every city of the Union. We are glad to furnish them with material to gment the interest and attractiveness of their dramatic columns, providing that they we the courtesy of crediting one item in one dred to its legit

Portunately there are few newspapers in the United States so lost to shame as the Item, of Philadelphia-a paper which habitually steals from the columns of THE DRAM-ATIC MIRROR and audaciously alters the plun-der so as to read as though it had been gathered by its own reports

But, after all, the Item is very small pota tes in the journalistic heap.

NOT OF AN AGE.

ON Sunday last millions of people uni in joyful celebration of the 185 iniversary of the resurrection of their Re

On Tuesday next multitudes will wi the magnificent ceremonies commemorati of the Centennial of Washington's inaugur tion as President of the United States.

These superb memorials are the more sig feant by contrast with the absence of one thich ought to have been a fitting compa

Yesterday was the 305th anniversary of the birth of SHARESPRARE. Except for the meeting of some societies and a fête at the Forrest Home, the day passed without recognition

And yet SHARES mankind as any being that ever lived, wheth he was teacher, reformer or patriot. He has led men's minds with wisdom; he has studre with glo unfading stars; he has fed the founts of honor, love and chivairy, unceasingly; he has lifted mortals to a height where they get golden of, charged against the defendant and the property to be a series of figure for the love and chivalry, unceasingly; he has lifted metall. Justice France, in delivering judgment, made the singular assertion that "the glimpses of the immortality whose name is

But his birthday passed without note. No grateful hosts attested their gratitude for the blemings he has afforded them; no elequence flowed in allvery streams to voice the common acclaim; no pages one from a critical by Rose Cochlen in her straight to the page by Rose Cochlen in her straight to the page by Rose Cochlen in her straight to page by Rose Cochlen in her straight. mon acclaim; no preans rose from a millio throats in praise of the great Bard and

"Not of an age, but for all time," wrote Jonson; and when we who have feasted on odigal store are silent in the tomb his star will still be regnant. Our neglect cann quench its light, or dim its enduring radia

POSTERS AND NEWSPAPERS I N the large cities the bill-board is rapidly declining in favor among theatrical ad-

In the first place, the boards, deadwalls and hoardings are, as a rule, located in such ote or undestrable places as invalidate air potency for the purpose of conveying the class that petror second place, posters to attract the eye must second place, posters to attract the eye must possess a certain novelty of design, else will be be the second place. they be wasted utterly. In the third place, to comes the embodiment of licensed the newspapers are a distinctly better and relatively cheaper form of giving publicity to risciples on which our great republic only appropriate to the time when newspapers aded, the rights of the individual and were scarce and limited in circulation, and mon welfare de-people used their eyes more than their intellipaper, on the other hand, actually reaches a large number of people. Here in New York, for example, we have three dailies, each with THE Atlanta Constitution is a journal of its own highwater mark and the largest cir-

> Speaking of the relative value of the bill board and newspaper for theatrical adving the Philadelphia Times sagely obser It is generally cenceded among alwanced these cal managers that the newpaper is at once cheapest and the best method of reaching the gradual that the condition of Pradelphia at present that upon the principal stretchere are no places for the bill-board and the lit graph. They must be excled to the suburbs, where the theatrical patron never ventures and the amboy, who cannot read, unites with the equily illimate goat, for their speedy destruction. An afron shower will erase the work of days, but down the signs, blur the colors, and general destroy the most ambitious hill-poster. The nepaper is, in truth, the only reliable means of these cal, as it is of other advertisements. It is cheapfarther reaching, and appeals to a better client and the constant increase in the space occupied the theatre advertisements is the leading papahows that this fact is understood.
>
> What is true of Philadelphia, in this con-

What is true of Philadelphia, in this connection, is true of New York and every other rtant city.

ESPRIT DU CORPS.

F the men and women of the stage ant notoriety which the present condition of the press so readily gives to those that feed it with toothsome scandals, would but refle on the ill consequences of their misconduct to other and innocent persons in their profession, they would perhaps pause before crossing the threshold of evil.

It is too bad that the backslidings of the few should bring discredit upon the entirety of a profession which holds a great nu of good women and honest men. But the injustice exists, and protest against it as we may, we are forced to acknowledge it and its wide prevalence.

It seems to us that every man and woman in the profession should feel a sufficient sense esprit du corps which animates certain ilitary and social organiza

The profession needs to uphold its dignity and maintain its self-respect. This can be done by the cultivation of such a morale as will make it impossible for a man or woman to outrage public decency without incurring the ban of the profession and forfeiting its

PERSONAL

JERROP.—George H. Jerrop sailed for Eng-and on last Saturday by the Service. Wainwaight.—Marie Wainwright will sail for Europe on next Tuesday on the City of New York.

se Coghlan in her starring tour

BESTT.-Genevieve L. Brett, of the Cryst Slipper company, sustained a sad bere ment in the death of her father, Georg m, who died in this city on Wedne

O'Nunt.—James O'Neill left town on Mon-lay for his country seat at New London, conn. He will open his next tour in Monte Cristo on September 2, somewhere in New Ingland.

Rufa.—Mile. Rhéa is reported to have struck luck in the West. Some time since, on the advice of a friend, she bought land in Seattle, W. T., for $5,000, which is valued today at $60,00 mwn.—Prank L. Goodwin, who is act-manager for J. Fowler, of Philadelphia, other of White Elephant and Knight of the Gods, is arranging to have those pirend by prominent managers of this city.

CLAMON.—Laura Clairon was starried.

April 10 to Louis Walther, a wholeselve

H. B. Convey, the B who is to support Mrs. J next season, and who is now starring Captain Swift through the English proving will sail for this country of the country of th

DE BELLEVILLE.—Frederick De Belleville sill not be in the cast of Hands Across the Jarvanson.—Joseph Jefferson, in Rip Van Winkle at Heuck's Opera House in Cincin-nati, on 15th drew a $2,500 house.

Laney.—J. Aldrich Libbey, the rising coung baritone, is meeting with much success in the role of Alvin Barry in Spenser's Little yeoon company.

Bancaort.—Helen Bancroft has resigned

A diff. om Marie Wainwright's company. A difference of opinion regarding the costumes to worn in the production of Twelfth Night was the cause

PERNANDEZ.—Mrs. E. L. Fernandez is advertising for a window to be secured at a reasonable rental from which the theatrical aldren can witness the Centenial Inaugura-

TIMBERMAN.-Mary Timberman, a handsome young actress from the West, has closed season with the Prescott-McLean company ad come to this city. She is looking for an gagement for next seaso DASOLL.-W. S. Daboll has left the Casino company and will go with Francis Wilson. Comedian Stevens, of The Said Pasha company, is to take the part, in The Brigands, which was to have been played by Daboll.

MILLWARD,-Jessie Millward who played Dora in the recent revival of Harbor Lights at the Adelphi Theatre, in London, has the record of having played that part over 600 times. Miss Millward returns to this country with William Terriss next season.

GARDINER.—C. R. Gardiner has gone to California and Oregon to personally look after the three months' tour of He, She, Him and Her through that country. Mr. Gardiner will have no interest in any road attraction with the exception of the above next season.

MATHER.—Margaret Mather will make her last appearance in New York this season at the Grand Opera House on May 20, and will not be seen again until the Spring of 1800, by which time two new plays will have been added to her repertoire.

REIFFARTH.-Jennie Reiffarth left the Conried Opera company in Denver on Saturday last and returned to this city for a well-carned rest. Her part in The King's Fool is now being played by Lulu Nicholls, who was for-merlywith the Wilbur Opera company.

of responsibility to deter them from doing that which, under existing conditions, cannot but cause a diminution of the esteem and respect with which the guild is regarded by the rest of the community. There should be inculcated in every breast something of that LAMONT.—Helen Lamont, having recovered

> RICKETTS .- Tom Ricketts, the baritone, who is to star next season under the management of Upham and Currier, will sail May 2 for Europe. On his return he will bring back a number of European novelties. The original Majiltons, who have not been seen in this country for several years, will be members of his com-

BIOGRAPHY.—Stage memoirs and autobiographies are becoming a feature of theatrical bibliography. Lester Wallack's autobiography has been published, the first part of Joseph Jefferson's will appear in October, W. J. Florence is about to write his memoirs, and there are rumors of another history of the Booth family, to be supervised and edited by for Europe on next Tuesday on the City of New York.

Skipp.—The friends of M. T. Skiff, the veteran manager, are arranging a benefit for him to take place at an early date.

Booth family, to be supervised and edited by Edwin Booth. Fanny Davenport is writing a biography of her father, E. L. Davenport, and Mrs. Langtry's life may appear on the > Provincial.—A gosling on the Cleveland Plain Dealer has made a discovery that will terest the dramatic profession generally, de a study of Shylock in particular, It is that Shylock's greatest scene is the so-called Trial Scene. is the country editor wont to turn the drama over to the office fledglings? The writer of the article here referred to knows as much about the drama and dramatic art as he knows about the geography of Saturn.

>
> Villers, the artist and war correspondent of the London Graphic. closed his lecture season at Woodstock, N. B., on the 17th inst. Mr. Villiers came to this untry last Pall for the purpose of delivercountry last Pall for the purpose of deliver-ing a series of illustrated lectures on war sub-jects, in the larger cities, but the Presidential campaign forced him to cross into Canada, where he made a popular and financial suc-cess. It is his intention to return to the United States for an extended tour next ARLE.-At Sunderland, England, on the oth inst., Osmond Tearle was tendered a han-quet and presented by Richard Fynes, of the net and presented by Richard Fynes, of the few Theatre Royal at Blyth, with a pair of conse ernaments. Mr. Fynes, in a speech, in of the destruction of his old theatre.

Ir. Tearle, who was then in America, at once sent a telegram expressing his sympathy, fol-louing it with a letter containing a £10 note. He had also offered to open the theatre and give him the first night's receipts, which he did, the manager realizing £52 by Mr. Tearle's nd him who can! The ladies call h

"In Memory of John McCullough" is the itle of a beautifully printed book, prepared by William Winter, which has just been issued from the De Vinne Press. It was printed m type and the edition is limited to five

The frontispiece is a good photo-gravure rtrait of the tragedian. Included in the are an appropriate biographical by Mr. Winter; the poem of praise by e same writer, delivered in 1881, at the et to McCullough, on the eve of his dere to England; Henry Edwards' touching funeral oration; a picture and description of the McCullough monument, together with an account of the ceremonies at its unveiling.

McCullough was renowned for his big rtrather than for histrionic genius. He left as the record of a genial and generous life a thousand steadfast friends. To these this ttle book will be a grateful memorial.

sted Profe ngs from a paper called the St. Louis Critic, which refer in scurrilous language to several reputable and well-known players who recently ventured within the precincts of that ory city to fulfil engageme ndent asks if something canno be done to put a stop to this blackguardism, nd suggests as a remedy that self-respecting ars and managers shall refuse to play in

The people of St. Louis must be as vile as apers, for the press of a comnewspapers, for the press of a com-nity takes its cue from the public that sup-

The Critic is no more indecent than its local poraries which not long ago conspired to assail and villify Mary Anderson, in the brutal and disreputable manner. The sult was that the newspapers of the entire strage and castigating its perpetrators.

My correspondent can find satisfaction

e reflection that St. Louis, through its ded as a particularly rank and offensive ghill by a large number of the intelligent itants of this great and glorious re

Minne Maddern-who will make her rerance in New York one week from next ay, after an absence of two seasons—is the best developed type, on the contemporary stage, of that description of actress to which the French have given the name of ingenue.

But not only is she unrivalled in that won ing of art and nature, of gentle der pathos, that bestows a rare lescribable charm upon her creations—her ims to distinction and support rest upon an an stronger basis. Miss Maddern has purusly avoiding the easy methods aby so many impatient and less cons as artistes seek to attract public notice; wing all the artifices by which personal nt is secured; sacrificing comal considerations unhesitatingly for the ake of honorable ambition; true as steel to er artistic ideal-Minnie Maddern has modestly, faithfully and nobly upheld, in public and in private, the principles that are most commendable in both the actress and the in. She is an honor to her profession.

erbrain, the piece in which Miss Madern will make her rentre at the Madison Square, will present her in a new sort of part nd among strange surroundings.

It is a lively comedy of mistakes and com-lications, and Miss Maddern's character, un-like those she has hitherto acted, is entirely devoid of seriousness or sentiment. Her in-cursion into the realm of polite farce will be ed with great interest by those that ciate the genuineness and originality of her work.

"Rented: A Husband," is the title of a atrical novel just published by Cassell and mpany. The author, whose identity finds he or she writes with a certain fathe pace very hot. ntly familiar with professional life, about

s of a theatrical esdre that obtained notoriety ten years

Ithough the chief personages have been sished with the romancer's glamor and facts have been distorted so as to form a sentimental tale, the disguise is so thin that the characters are easily recognized.

The bad taste of the writer who will select such a subject for a work of fiction is not extable, even on the plea of paucity of in-ntive skill. When the scandal-loving presshas once shaken the dirty linen of disreputa-ble people under our asses and then thrown it into the rubbish-heap of obscurity, the list should let it rema

Unfortunately, however, the novelist of to day usually sets forth with a bag on his back and a pick in his hand to unearth the treas ureo of the human garbage-barrels and let ose upon the air the fragrant perfumes con-nined therein.

Contemporary fictionists are divided into two classes: those that give us milk and those that give us muck

Mr. Daly went to church, like the devou Catholic that he is, on Good Friday.

His company worked all day at rehearsal. Thus it is that treasures are laid up for us in heaven and the hox-office

"I heard the score in advance," said a friend of Mrs. Raymond's to another man in the lobby of the Standard, after the second act of Dovettta on Monday night.

"Well, I prefer to hear it in retreat," said the other as he jumped into a hansom, and ordered the driver to rush him to some place where he could buy a little oblivion.

"The Giddy Gusher Papers" is having a large sale. The book is eagerly sought by those that admired the lamented author's brilliant Coming events cast their shadows before. and the closing of the season is indicated by ndry unmistakable precautionary signals.

The players on whom fortune has grinne are engaging passage for Europe and the Ex-position, or selecting choice abiding places by untain, lake or sea. The plain, ordinary folk, who have gotten through the campaign and earned their Summer salt, are casti sheep's eyes at sundry quiet watering places or modest rural retreats, where fresh air, sunshine and flannel shirts may be enjoyed inex-

But there will be an army on the burning pave and in and about the sweltering urban professional haunts, during the long and dreary term of idleness and theometric altitudinosity.

It was delightful along the Riverside Drive on Sunday afternoon.

The nondescript crowds wheeling along the Western road of the Park in heterog perambulatory procession left the Riverside to the comparative few, and there was a conquent absence of crush and confusion.

Among those up there for whose benefit the river sparkled, the breeze spread the grateful Spring odors of fresh earth and green growing things, and the sky wore its bluest Ea et, trimmed with fleeciest vapors, were A. M. Palmer, in a Victoria drawn by a sparkling team of bays; John Schoeffel and his omplished wife, Agnes Booth; Joseph oward, absorbing the Southerly zephyr like an air-plant and revolving paragraphic pyro-technics for the Press, and Marshall Wilder. ging along in a little trap, surveying the beauty of the Hudson and refreshing his mental arithmetic with calculations of the holding capacity of Palmer's.

Those that spent their Easter afternoon in this way had the very best of it.

Joseph Howard, Jr., has moved from the Tribune to the World building, where he has secured more commodious quarters for his rapidly increasing business.

For a young man Mr. Howard seems to be getting on capitally, His daily column of ragraphs in the Press is read with avidity and copied like the old masters, Bad actors and vulgar variety performer should go to England. The courts over there protect all such from newspaper critiscism and protest-vide the case of Barnes vs.

Comic opera at the Casino, Broadway, Standard and Palmer's will make the month of May unusually merry.

But one or two of the big musical four, Aronson, Wilson, Duff and McCaull, are likely to get tired of the sport when the juleps nest again, along in July.

The Casino with its roof garden, which draws as much money as the opera, will have ent beneath a nom de plume, is the advantage over its rivals. But from

The book, as a literary production, is without merit of any kind; but the plot derives a more on the high seas. He gave out that he been used in its construction. It is not, as country about the middle of September.

would sail for England on the 15th of next month and then he slipped aboard a ship last Saturday and put off without saying good-

Mr. Kelly, of course, took this prein order to avoid the reporters, from whom he shrinks like a maiden star from her first

Mr. Kelly made all arrangements for Grace Hawthorne's tour before his departure. She will open at the Union Square in November. Camille, Marion Delorme, and another piece from the French will constitute her reper-

Wilson Barrett lost a good deal of mor during his American visit. · His business was ood-large in some places-but his salary list and running expenses were so extrava-gant as to leave no possibility of clearing a

He brought sixty-eight people, many carloads of scenery and several plays that the public didn't take to kindly.

The flattering unction which Mr. Barrett lays to his soul is that he is a tragedian and can act Hamlet. This delusion lost him a large fortune at the London Princess' where, had he confined himself to such roles as Jack Hearne and Jack Veulett, and left the Sh spearean and classic drama wisely alone, he might still have been playing and managing Romantic melodrama is Mr. Barrett's forte. and no one is more attractive in that line of work. But he insists on trying to do something which others can do so much better that he suffers sadly by comparison.

Mr. Barrett will make a big mistake if, as he contemplates, he makes Claudian the principal feature of his repertoire over here next

He will also suffer, as he did before, if he again books his route from England, and jumps wildly about our theatrical territory like a lively flea, from Jericho to kingdom come and back again.

Yesterday, according to time-honored of and the provisions of Edwin Forrest's will, the anniversary of Shakespeare's birth was cele brated at the Forrest Home at Holmesburg. A. M. Palmer, Henry C. Jarrett and several others went over to attend the ceremonies

Maud Granger asks me to say for her that she did not leave the Two Lives company in Baltimore, with salaries unpaid, as the papers erroneously reported.

That distinction belongs to Mr. J. K. Til-lotson, the author of the play and manager of the company.

Miss Granger had nothing to do with the enterprise, beyond playing the principal part for a salary, which, for several weeks, she didn't get.

RYLEY AND RILEY.

J. H. Ryley, of the Casino company, has met his namesake, James Whitcomb Riley, the poet, very often during the past se In fact, their routes seemed to be almo identical, and the poet's name was always the first to greet the comedian on the hotel registers out West.

"Occasionally this led to complications," said Mr. Ryley, in speaking of the matter to a reporter. "In Buffalo, for instance, my wife was summoned to the office to answer a telephone call.

"'Hello! Hello!' she answered back in response to the ring. ale voice; 'Is that Mr.

Ryley? "No. He is out."

" What time will be return?" " 'At three. But who is this speaking?'

"Never mind that. Tell him a lady from Rochester, and he'll know. Say she'll call at the Genesee at six. Don't forget!"

"'I'll not forget,' said Mrs. R., and she

"A lady from Rochester,' said I, amazed, when I heard the story. 'Ah! Of course, it's the other Mr. Riley. I must go and have the message sent to him.

"'It would be discourteous not to-very," was the sarcastic rejoinder.

"Mr. Riley was not in, but I saw the telephone clerk and made things all right." "And was it the other Mr. Riley who was wanted?" asked the reporter. The comedian spake him nought, but his glance was worthy of a recail.

J. K. EMMET'S NEW PLAY.

Genial Fritz Emmet was discovered by a Mirkor reporter in his dressing-room at the Fourteenth Street Theatre on Monday morning, thrumming his guitar and humming the air of his new "Laughing Jack" song.

"I've no doubt at all over the success of the new Fritz," Mr. Emmet began. "It's here for eight weeks sure, and it may run longer. An impression seems to be prevalent that the play is of the Running Wild nature, simply because Run Wild, the English piece, has you will see for yourself. It is a melod and is constructed from two English pi Loose Tiles and Run Wild. The six a these two plays I have put into th always construct my own plays, you be Ever since Henry J. Byron said to me w I went to him to correct an error he ma 'Why don't you do it yourself,' I have w ten all my own plays, and by it I've thousands and thousands of dollars.

"However, I'm always open for a good or drama. I would pay as much for a good or as anybody, and, if there was anything in it uarantee to make it a success. pay royalty. I'll give a good round sum, I don't believe, after having made my repu tion worth so much money to me, that I shou share that money with a dramatist. I no paid royalty but once and that was to Chr Gayler, who wrote my first Fritz, and it was a big one-he receiving half of what I me for two years.

"I hardly made up my mind what I shall do this Summer but I know I won't have tir to go to Europe as I begin my season in Cl cago about the middle of August. The for weeks I shall have to spare will probably be spent at home. For next season we have over forty weeks booked."

DANIEL FROHMAN'S PLANS.

Daniel Frohman is a busy manager this eason, and he expects to be even more actively employed next season. It was by chance that a reporter of THE DRAMATIC MIRROR caught him at the Lyceum, just before the performance the other evening.

"We shall close the season at this house with a revival of The Wife," said he, "which we shall put on next Monday night for Centennial week. It is an American play and is suited to the occasion. The Marquise, hav-ing proved a success, will be added to the company's repertoire. On May 18 the the middle of August, when E. H. Sothern be gins his annual Summer and Autumn en gagement, appearing in Lord Chumley and The Highest Bidder. He will be supported by the same company as heretofore with the exception of Herbert and Belle Archer. Charlotte Tittel, of San Francisco, a hands lady and a very clever actress, will be Mr. ern's leading support. I have engaged her for two years.

"The Lyceum Theatre company will start for San Francisco on June 6, opening at the Baldwin Theatre there a week later and playing an engagement of a month's duration, pearing in their entire repertoire. The Su mer trip will extend over twenty weeks and will close in Boston. For next season the company will be unchanged, except that Louise Dillon will retire and Effie Shannon take her place. We will open the reg season of the Lyceum about the middle of November, probably with Belasco and De Mille's new play, The Charity Ball. Mrs. Burnett's play is being held over for pext

A CANADIAN FEDERATION.

N. A. Morkill, manager of the Grand Opera House of London, Ontario, arrived in New York on Tuesday. George W. Elliott, until recently the DRAMATIC MIRROR correspondent at London, Ont., accompanied him on his trip to New York, and will remain here on business during the Summer

Mr. Morkill said that he had come here to nake the preliminary arrangements for booking all the one-night stands through Canada, such as Hamilton, London, Ch. Kingston, Ottawa, Belleville, Brockville, St. Catharines, etc.

"I shall return to New York," he said, "on June 1, and take a desk at Randall's or Klaw and Erlanger's. This was my first year of management in London, and I am fully satisfied with the business of the season. I had previously been connected with O. B. Sheppard, manager of the Grand Opera House of Toronto, and in all probability I shall be comsioned by him to book the open time for "The attachés of my theatre presented me with a handsome gold watch on the occa of my benefit, April 8. Frank Kirschner, our advertising agent, made the presentation speech after the second act of Monbars, enacted by Robert Mantell. I was so taken by surprise that I hardly know what I said, but I assure you that such tokens of appreciation establish kindly feelings, and, for my own part, make me feel like working harder than ever next season."

THE SEASON'S CLOSE.

The following companies closed season re-cently: Doré Davidson's Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde; Arthur Rehan's company; W. J. Scan-lan; Paul Kanvar company; Jim the Penman No. 2 company; White Slave compa dale company; White Stave company; Rose-dale company; Louis James and Maxie Wain-wright; Alone in London will close on May 11 in this city; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Florence will close on Saturday night.

Mr. AND Mrs. KENDAL will sail for this

AT THE THEATRES.

STANDARD. --- DOVETTA.

Papalahonta	m
Broken Arrow	De:
RainbowJoseph Lync	38
Dovetta Fatmah Dia:	200
Brambleton Frank Day	id
Florrie Brambleton Rose Leighte	OM.
Robert Brambleton W. S. Risis	1g
Clubby Hattie Delaro Barn Broomy Miss Ruby Stus	92

Dovetta is a nice little and two women of ifficult thing, undertaken by two women of efficient and cultivation, who lack the skill as specced in a field. ta is a nice little attempt to do a very nt not the ambition to succeed in a field here many with greater experience have

Mrs. E. Marcy Raymond's score contains ome rather pretty numbers of a simple ballad tyle, and one or two concerted pieces that are rmonious and pleasing, if not particularly ginal. All her work is amateurish and sugwe of the mild atmosphere of the draw-noom. There are reminiscences of several lar little songs, an inefficiency in every er of finales and the larger ts, and a thinness that is at times irritat-

But the audience at the Standard on Mon ngent of the composer's friends, was most ordial in its reception of her work and ap-lauded everything with an enthusiasm orthy of a better cause.

The libretto-what little there was of it ch was not much, as Mrs. Raymond's e occupied most of the performance) cts little credit upon Miss Betsey Banck-taste or discrimination. It is for the reflects little credit upon Miss Be er's taste or discrimination. at part a wild jumble of inchoate lines that more silly than funny, and which show, general composition, neither plot nor pur-

There seems to be a fatality attending very attempt to introduce the Indian element into comic opera. Poor Lo is neither tive nor an interesting person any-at he is even less so on the boards etta takes us from Washington to the n's reservation, where principals and likewise repair. She is an Indian is who is loved by both a young brave tribe and the military son of a United Commissioner. They seem to have a time in prosecuting their respective suits. I they all take refuge in love songs at the at provocation. The comic characters are togus Indian chieftain, the Commissioner foresaid and two giddy old girls, respectively and pale faced. The human and vocal and if formed by sqaws, braves and my of volunteers dressed like French arry Brown was sometimes droll in the arry Brown was sometimes droll in the arry part of Papalahouta. Joseph Lynde's a baritone voice was heard to advantage he rule of Rainbow, the amorous brave. skrat, a drunken Indian who gets a "pull" his chief, was acrobatically administered large doses by Pred Matthews. Prank wid, made up as Chauncey Depew, was using as Brambleton. Will Rising was a but his singing was often man Diard—the record does not furnish erivation of that startling name—sang acted the title role satisfactorily. He ing song was charmingly rendered as Leighton and Soldene were the gidd an of uncertain san. Direction is beauti

ENTH STREET THEATRE. --- UNCLE JOE proid Harts.

Mr. J. Cody

J. N. Hickman

Prank H. Dayte

A. E. Ada

V. C. Di nd D Lyons

met came forward at the Four-ect Theatre on Monday evening h a new dramatic frame-work for the per-d Uncle Joe, or Fritz in a Madhouse, and is said to have been adapted from an English source. The story, such as it is, is supposed to take place in Australia. Pritz has, as usual, a marked German accent, while his father, Baron Von Woelfenstein, saks with the traditional stage bluster of apoplectic Englishman. Uncle Jog Parker an out-and-out cockney; Mrs. Parker, as he sister of the German Baron, has an af-bested society drawl, while the daughter of the singular pair has a most pronounced frawl, to account for which she is said to have been brought up in Ireland. Fritz pre-ture to dress and live the life of a careless to dress and live the life of a careless gabond, although the son of a decidedly h-toned father. His chivalrous nature ds hum to knock a man down in defense of soman. Owing to his arrest for this act, its is sent off by the old gentleman to shift father's country seat. This leads to the separation of Parker, pére, from his affected spouse. Uncle Joe, accordingly, goes to see his boy in Melbourne, and, in fact, the whole cast seems to follow suit. Fritz meets Collie in Richard's chambers, and she bestows all kind of sisterly affection on him, believing Fritz to be her brother. An attempt is made to introduce a dramatic episode by making Richard introduce Uncle Joe to his friends as Mr. Jones. While Richard is out of the most those founds. room these friends, unaware of his relation ship, reveal to the old man that his son makes fun of him behind his back. When Pritz comes on the scene and lets them know who Uncle Joe really is, these friends denounce Richard for his cowardly action.

The third act takes place in a boarding house which had formerly been a lunatic asy lum. Fritz, under the impression that he is dealing with lunatics, acts so irrationally that he is taken for a lunatic himself. All this was apparently a side show, for it had very little to do with the plot. The last act presents Fritz on a ranch. Richard has reformed and is seen sawing wood, being surrounded by his wife and baby. Fritz has established Uncle los on the ranch with Callie to the history. Joe on the ranch with Collie to take care of him. Mrs. Parker arrives in due time and the usual reconciliation ensues. Fritz obtains permission to marry Collie, and his father confesses himself to have been in the wrong.

confesses himself to have been in the wrong.

Mr. Emmet, of course, introduced his various specialties from the popular domain of song and dance. He was precisely the same Prits he was twenty years ago, except that he possesses a little more avoirdupois. He is essentially a genial actor and charms his audiences by his grace, good nature and pleasing methods. He was provided with various new songs that made a favorable impression, and there were the usual number of children for there were the usual number of children for Pritz to sing to in the last act. Phinlimmon, Pritz to sing to in the last act. Plinlimmon, on enormous St. Bernard dog, came on the stage occasionally, and seemed to enjoy him-joy himself as much as anybody else.

Edmond D. Lyons gave an excellent character sketch of Uncle Joe, but the impersonation of Richard Parker by C. D. Bennet was a poor effort. Harold Hartsell was decidedly mechanical as the splenetic Baron. Louise Balfe gave a commendable rendering to the character of Collie Parker. Her brigue was racy and her comedy work quite amusing. Ethel Greybrook was rather conventional as Mrs. Parker, but at best had a thankless role to depict. Mary A. Penfield doubled the to depict. Mary A. Penfield doubled the parts of Lady Grace and Laura Withus, and was as comely in the first as she was gro-tesque and entertaining in the latter charac-ter. Marie Carlyle gave a capital delineation of an eccentric old maid, her acting and make-up being both decidedly effective. The negro character of Johnie Johns was cleverly enacted by W. C. Utter.

WINDSOR THEATRE.—HIS. POTTER.

Mrs. Potter opened a week's engagement at the Windsor Theatre on Monday night with Rome and Juliet. In spite of her manifest inability to render the role of Juliet in accordance with the ideas of most Shakespeaream crities and her frequent departure from traditional practice, it must be allowed that she greatly pleased a characteristic East Side audience. She displayed her usual vehemence of elocution and general variety of studied attitudes. There was certainly an improvement in many respects since her last provement in many respects since her last pearance in the same part, but the monotsemblance of her vocal inflexions in sracterization she undertakes becomes ne and detracts from much that would resses were particularly noticeable.

The Romeo of Kyrle Bellew is an artistic limits of a better Juliet. In nation worthy of a better Juliet. In oints his acting was of a highly nts his acting was of a highly rder despite his well-known man-exaggerated attitudes. In the duel cene with Tybalt he was really admirable. hange was made in the cast in the subon of R. A. Edwin for Harry Edwards the part of Capulet; a change much to the detriment of the part. Charles A. Smiley as Friar Laurence gave in many respects an ex-cellent rendering of the role, but was a little inclined to fall into sing-song in speaking the rhyming lines of his part. Ian Robertson was admirable as Mercutio although handicapped by a severe cold. Sydney Bowkett was decidedly tame as Paris; a milk and was decidedly tame as Paris; a milk and water stage lover. Charles W. Butler was a humorous Peter. De Los King gave a good sketch of the apothecary. Mrs. Sol Smith as Lady Capulet and Madame Ponisi as the nurse confirmed their long established reputation for artistic work. The rest of the support was fair. The supernumeraries, however, appeared like motionless dummies.

GRAND. -- THATCHER, PRIMROSE AND WEST There is nothing to be more appreciated than novelty in a minstrel performance. Thatcher, Primrose and West, who are at the Grand Opera House this week, are evidently conscious of this fact, and strive to startle the theatrical community with occasional innovations on stereotyped methods. Last season the semi-circle contingent appeared in white Grand Opera House this week, are evidently conscious of this fact, and strive to startle the theatrical community with occasional innovations on stereotyped methods. Last season the semi-circle contingent appeared in white faces instead of black, and this year they appeared of the Lyceum on Saturday night. Next the semi-circle contingent appeared in white faces instead of black, and this year they appeared of the Lyceum on Saturday night. Next the semi-circle contingent appeared in white faces instead of black, and this year they appeared in the Lyceum on Saturday night. Next the semi-circle contingent appeared in white faces instead of black, and this year they appeared in the Lyceum on Saturday night.

pear in what is billed as "Our Grand Shak pearean First Part," being costumed to cor-respond with the famous characters of Shakes peare, William H. West, for instance, de-lineates a comic Romeo, but not more absurd than many Romeos seen on the legitimate stage. Other famous characters represented in the semi-circle are King Henry VIII., Othello, Benedict, King John, Mercutio, Claudio and Hamlet. George Primrose created a great deal of laughter with his song called "The English Swell," and George Thatcher as Touchstone was equally successful in amusing the large audience present.

THIRD AVENUE .-- KENTUCKY BILL.

Frank I. Frayne's new Border Dran Kentucky Bill was presented at Jacob's Third Avenue Thestre on Monday night to a top heavy house. The story of the play is somewhat mixed, but a succession of bloodcurdling climaxes, a liberal use of gunpowder and frequent conflicts between Indians and soldiers fully satisfied those among the audience who are fond of sensational episodes.

A. R. Brooks as Brace Tumble, George A. Weller as Rev. Dewit Graball, Mrs. S. K. Chester as Mrs. Graball, May Nevada as Biddy Tracy, and Josie Nagle as Kiota rendered efficient support to the star. The lion, hyenas, bronchos and dogs that form Mr. Prayne's menagerie displayed much intelligence and were enthaiastically received.

Next week, Corinne.

PEOPLE'S .- LOST IN NEW YORK.

There was a delighted East Side audience at the People's on Monday night. The comedy-drama, Lost in New York, served as the attraction and proved a potent one. The piece contains a number of good situations and some strong dialogue. It, however, lacks originality in plot, and is decidedly incongru-

Patrice, as Jennie, the waif, was pr larly clever and gained unbounded applause.

She is chic in manner, vivacious in action, and possesses an irresistible stage presence. The rest of the company was well-balanced and gave good representations of their respective roles. Among them might be mentioned Ed-ward J. Ratcliffe, George Wright, Walter Fessler, Jo. Paige Smith, Florence Stover, Annie Barclay and Marie Atchison. T. W. Keene, next week.

THALIA .-- QUEEN OF THE PLAINS.

Kate Purssell appeared before a large audience at the Thalia on Monday evening, in the sensational drama, entitled, Queen of the Plains. Miss Purssell, who is of huge stature, did most of the work and received most of the applause. With the aid of two he and a s what free use of revolv ueen of the Plains made things lively, to the reat delight of the boys in the gallery. Next reak, Skipped by the Light of the Moon.

AT OTHER HOUSES.

The Henrietta is reported to be drawing good houses at the Star, where the vocal gymnastics of Stuart Robson as Bertie and the unctuous methods of William H. Crane as Old Nick in the Street provoke a great deal of laughter.

There are only two weeks more of Little Lord Fauntleroy at the Broadway Theatre after Saturday. Now that Lent is over, many shionable people are flocking to see Mrs turnett's little hero presented in dramatic

Country Pair. The Old He

The Old Homestead will give matinees every day next week except Monday, to afford Centennial visitors a chance to see this popular piece.

Tony Porton

Tony Pastor's special attractions this week are Lester and Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Watson, Edwin French and Prof. Parker's dog and cat circus.

and Fifth Avenue Theatre will close on Saturday night, when Nat Goodwin and his ompany will take to the road.

The Madison Sansar Frank. The present engagement of A Gold Mine at the Fifth Avenue Theatre will close on

The Madison Square Theatre's regular season will close on May 4, after which the present attraction, Captain Swift, is to be transferred to the Park Theatre, Boston.

Helen Barry's engagement in A.W.

Helen Barry's engagement in A Woman's Stratagem at the Union Square Theatre will terminate at the end of the current week. Next week Robe metropolitan trial.

A Midnight Bell will remain in po-of the Bijou until the end of the season. A new recitation has been provided for diminitive Dot Clarendon, and Eugene Canfield has added several new verses to his topical song.

McCaull's Opera company may be seen nightly at Palmer's Theatre in The May Queen. Lovers of comic opera would welcome another novelty at an early date.

Said Pasha is in its second week at Niblo's.

week The Wife is to be revived with a special

A CHAT WITH HARRIGAN.

Edward Harrigan, New York's popular daywright and actor-manager, is a highly accomplished conversationalist. A Mirror complished conversationalist. A Mirror representative called upon Mr. Harrigan and s entertained for three hours by the comedian, whose sallies of wit and keen com-ment on things theatrical almost diverted the reporter from the object of his visit which was to ascertain Mr. Harrigan's plans for the future. When the conversation finally drifted into the desired channel, Mr. Harrigan said:

"All I can say is, everything is in embryo. Nothing is settled! I can't get any theatre just now. I can't get any land just now. But I play in this vicinity for the next seven weeks, and by that time there may be a different story to tell. You know I go to San Francisco this Summer, and that I will produce two new comedies of my own in that city. The locale of those comedies is in this city, but they are not essentially local plays, and will be understood on the Pacific Coast as well as here.

"It seems strange to me that people will insist on believing that the character pictures I have drawn and do draw are indigenous to the soil-as one might say-of New York city. They are not. I can pick you out the same types in Chicago, in Omaha, in St. Louis. The banker of this city, the thief, the corner loafer of New York all have their unterparts in the large cities of the Union. Nature is the same the world over.

"But, to resume. In one of the comedies I satirize the so-called effete aristocracy of our appreciated on the Pacific Coast, where I have sts of friends among the Hebrew population. In one of the pieces i play an English swell, and in the other an old German He-

"Was there not some disagreement between you and Messrs. Hyde aad Behman which led to the dissolution of your business relations with that firm?"

"No. There was none. Our contract expired; that was all. I did everything to that theatre. They did nothing. And finally I concluded that if I had to be landlord and tenant both, I'd get out. No matter what was done to it you couldn't make it look well. It was fast going to pieces. What is needed for that theatre is a new building. Eesides, the stage was so big and the scenery in consequence had to be made so large that it took an army of employés to handle it. Again, owing to the large proportions of the house, it was a difficult place to heat. It took an immense amount of coal to get any semblance of comfort in it, and sometimes, for instance, on a real cold night, you couldn't heat it at all. Then the façade was a miserable oneyou've seen it, I guess-and altogether the lace didn't have the appearance of a theatre. My new plays require new settings, and I want the best and brightest audiences before me to appreciate the satire. I don't care to put them before unappreciative audiences.

"The San Francisco engagement terminates my road season about the middle of August. What I shall do then is quite undecided—the same as my business plans. I may possibly return here. I may go to the Adirondacks or I may go to Europe. As I have said, I have not settled about a theatre here. The demand for seats at the Twenty-third said, I have not settled about a theatre here. Street Theatre is as great as ever, and Neil One thing you can rest assured regarding it, and that is that I've got the material to go into a theatre which the New Yorkers want, and if I don't get the theatre I can give it to others—the San Francisco and the New Orleans people are Americans the same as the New Yorkers. I don't build theatres, either rent them. I'm a very good tenant—one that I doesn't move out every first of May. I don't go in for a week and go away for a year. I'm getting over my ambition about New York. There are other metropolitan cities. Let some er fellow do the local work here. Besides, I think a little travel will do me a great deal of good, both physically and mentally. It will freshen me up.

"If need be, I can afford to wait a full year fore settling down. But I hardly think it sary. There's a lack of material about—a lack of production. They've ex-hausted the negro act business—that contiauity of the negro act climaxes of the bobtail now that now goes to make a play—and the ablic is quite tired of the old horseplay. They don't want the blowing eyebrows off and sticking pins in bald heads drama any more. But they never get tired of nature. The farce-comedy makes money, but the true artist appreciates the work of such comedians as Lemoyne and Stoddart."

"There seems to be a general opinion that you are getting rid of your best people, Mr.

"I am getting rid of some of my old people, that's a fact. But I'm not married to any of them. If I start anew I want to start brand new. There is any amount of talent in the n, and any nu mber of new and bright ces in the variety field."

AS IN A LOOKING GLASS.

Have you seen the women out in those oby frills? I mean those great, deep ruffles, eated very closely and fixed around the ek in such a way that you don't know whe r they are sewed on the woman, or whether can be squeezed like a marshmallow drop d shoved between them.

They are as mysterious looking as the hinz, and you don't know just where they n or where they end.

dy called them after Jane Hading, it that was somebody with a short men To be seen in their glory they have to be viewed on Mary Eastlake, who adores them. o years ago, when she was here, she used to present an appearance not unlike some of the old pictures of John the Baptist when his head was on the salver; the huge Toby frill seemed to cut her head from the rest of her dy, and one wondered if it were going to e off again at any time.

ever, I do not think that the decay ated saint had his hair done in a frizzled op or wore a velvet Tam o' Shanter.

Does that sound irreligious to you? I don't ean that it should be, but the old pictures of the saints are so funny, and then, too, I have dways had an idea myself that to do any good in this world, even a saint must have a funny-

A real saint would be a most charming person, but the people who are introcuced to us as saints now-a-days are, to my mind, not all ol ones nor are they a yard wide. They have no patience with sinners and for that reason are not sought for by the majoritythe majority in this wicked world being large ly constituted of sinners, and therefore their ds must be considered.

What a pity it is we cannot find some saints who would reform the mean sinners—those who talk scandal, who tell small lies, so nixed up with the truth that they become difficult to deny, and who cannot, to save their souls, find good in anything.

They are the sinners I would like to have lone up in boiling oil, or else soaked in the ntrated lye that emanates from their own yarns

You see there are sins and sins. That i re the Catholic Church is so wise. It

During Lent, in Paris, the fashionable folk eat the devil around the stump by only cing for charity; the Archbishop of Paris hid not quite approve of this, and so discussed mestly with a grande dame, who quite wed in the fashionable affairs given for the benefit of the poor. She argued her cause well, and the dear old Archbishop aned her in this way

"To dance," he said, "even for the poor in these penitential days, is a sin; but"-and here he could not help smiling-"you tell me that so very much good comes from it, that I see I shall end by granting you that it is only a-jolly sin."

+ + + I thought the Lambs' Club would not have any literary men among its members, yet Henry Guy Carleton is a member, and P. J. Collier is up for election.

Perhaps they don't consider these gentleen as literary enough to count; or, perhaps, in the case of Mr. Collier, they make a differice between a publisher and a writer.

Lord, Lord, how many sins money will cover in this world!

been told that Mr. Stuart Robson was a grandfather, still I had a vague idea that he was almost as young as he looks in The

When I saw him the other day and discovered that he was not the youthful parent that I had supposed him, I felt very much like congratulating him on his ability in the make-up line.

His curious voice has the same fascination that attaches itself to a fine bit of Japanese ware-it is charming, not because it is pretty. but because it is unique.

The actress who has the slightest idea of getting married, and, being a woman, she ways has this idea more or less present, will be wise if she follows the example of the fashionable girl, and wherever she goes buys a silver spoon and has it marked with the name of the town from which it came.

It is not necessary that they should match; in fact, part of their charm consists in the fact that they don't match. A little thought out this sort of thing will provide Made elle with the case of silver that is to make the first of the furnishings in the new nest. Then if the nest never comes, well, the spoons are at least portable property and

One hates to preach, but, why doesn't the woman who is getting a good salary all Win-ter save a little for the Summer, so that she about six years age. That piece is to be rech more tiresome it is to have nothing The Royal Middy. You will remember his 20, at Harrisburg, Pa.

to do, all your friends out of town, and the thermometer 'way up in the nineties, than to play six nights in the week, two matinees and a benefit on Sunday night.

To learn to save is the hardest thing in the world for any woman, and for an actress to learn to save is harder still. The work-a-day time is hard, and it does seem as if in the few hours of rest one might have whatever is

Then, too, once out of her own room, the actress is almost entirely before the pub-lic, and womanlike, she wants to look her best; so that it is doubly hard to resist the pretty gown, the becoming bonnet, or the

It may console some of the younger ones to know that a number of the women who have achieved great success and have made mon on the stage, go in for the quietest sort of dressing, claiming that they have a right to some privacy and that they get it better by ring noticeable on the street.

One pretty actress adheres strictly to the mere gown, a small round hat and a plain black veil over her face. In this way she goes wherever she pleases and nobody ses or points her out as the lovely Miss Dash who is playing at somebody's theatr

Off the stage Sarah Bernhardt is one of the dowdiest women I have ever seen; Jane Hading one of the quietest and best dressed. rah irresistibly suggests the Bohemian Hading the French bourgeoise who never makes an error or over-dresses herself.

+ + + The managers have fought against high hats. The critics have abused them, but woman has gone on wearing them with the same placidity that she refuses a stool and sits on the floor every morning to put her slippers on. But now Dame Fashion is endeavoring to alter all that.

Small bonnets are shown by the smart milliners, and oval toques, such as the English women affected some years ago, are noted in fine, lace-like straws, made beautiful by quaint bunches of field flowers upon them.

By-the-bye, nobody ever sees Annie Robe a the theatre in a high hat. She always wears the prettiest of little bonnets that are as becoming to her as they are a source of delight to the man who sits just behind her.

I have just been reading the "Giddy Gusher Papers," and I feel as if I had a long talk on a lot of subjects with the brightest oman imaginable.

There is a laugh and a tear-a bit of color inting and something done in the delicate lines peculiar to the etcher, but whatever it is. it is well done, and the book suggests one of the Florentine mosaics in which the colors are so perfectly blended that the entire effect

And she who wrote? Her hand is still. But kind words and deeds, considerate acts and gentle remembrances will make for her a nonument such as comes to few of us.

Truly she builded better than she knew. A REFLECTION.

A DRAMATICO-LITERARY BUREAU.

This is an age of specialists, and to excel in any line of business it becomes necessary to devote one's entire attention to some partic ular branch. Managers, actors and asp playwrights should, therefore, welcome the announcement of J. W. Shannon and Ted Williams that they have established a Bureau of Stage Management and Dramatic Literature in this city. The p pects of the bureau ar One does have illusions, and although I had other interesting information relating to its projectors will be gleaned from the following interview, which, for the sake of perspicuity, is given after the manner of a MS. play-M. R. signifying Mirror representative, and Shannon and Williams being abbreviated as Shan, and Will,

M. R .- What gave you the idea of establishing a bureau for reading and adapting plays, in addition to stage management and dramatic coaching?" Will .- We have virtually been in that line of dramatic work for many years past, and are simply forming a partnership with headquarters for the benefit of the profession. Mr. Shannon and I are very old friends, and were associated for many years at the Bo Museum. Afterwards Mr. Shannon joined Wallack's stock company, and I have for some time been the Shakespeare professor at the Lyceum School of Acting. Shan .- "Mr. Williams, as you probably know, was stage manager of the Boston Museum tor a period of twelve years. During that time he adapted and arranged many plays for the company. Among the French plays he translated for the Boston Muare: Frou-Frou, La Maison Neuve, Le Bon Villageois, Dora, Nos Intimes and many Mein Leopold, which he brought out as My Son, made a distinct success in Boston. He wrote Maggie the Midget for Maggie Mitchell in 1885, and is the author of The won't have to leave the mark of her boot heel vived by Wesley Sisson next season. He also ents of New York City; realize adapted the libretti of Le Petit Duc and Around the World in Eighty Days on April comedy called The Humming Bird, which he wrote for Nate Salsbury several years ago. His various adaptations for the American stage include Pavements of Paris, The Duke's Motto for Kiralfy's spectacular version at Niblo's, and many others that I don't recall just at present."

M. R.—"There appears to be no doubt concerning the experience of Mr. Williams but why don't you tell me about your own Shan .- "Oh! I had better leave that to Mr. Williams, since I have been giving him

Will .- "That's a fact. I always told tannon he was too modest. You know what a good actor he is. Well that comes from my being his stage manager at the Museum. (Both chuckle and poke each other in the ribs). Well sir, I actually think he caught the fever of writing plays from me, too. Anyhow he took a leaf out of my book when he adopted the method of writing parts sful stars. Robson and Crane brought out his piece called Champagne and Oysters at the New York Park Theatre in 1878; and Willie Edouin produced Shannon's Money Bags in London about two years ago. Perhaps you remember his piece called Bouquets and Bombshells in which Agnes Booth and James Lewis appeared at the Park Theatre about 1878. His piece called Blind-man's Buff was produced at the Chestnut Street Theatre of Philadelphia during the season of 1881-1882. He also wrote the libretto for George F. Bristow's opera of Rip Van Winkle.

M. R.-"What are your prospects for making the Bureau pay?' Shan .- "We have considerable work in hand, and have received assurances from a number of managers that they would place future work with us. We are jointly engaged to direct the production of Hanc's Across the Sea at Niblo's next September. Then we are collaborating on a new romantic drama for James O'Neill, who has promised us additional work in our line. We have quite a number of plays in hand to be revised and put in shape generally before they are presented to managers. There are many persons possess-ing the necessary qualifications to write a good play, but who, from the lack of stage experience, make very ludicrous mistakes in the arrangement of scenes, etc."

M. R .- "Do you expect to discover the great American dramatist that we have been vaiting for so long?"

Will .- "That's quite possible. At all events we can oil the machinery for public recognition of him The obstructions placed in the way of the embryo playwright are decidedly discouraging to the most sanguine of mortals. But the Bureau will execute a good deal of other work besides reading plays. It is intended for the accommodation of managers and actors, as well as authors, who require assistance in the details of constructing or producing new pieces, whether stage direction, designs for scenery or costumes, translation or adaptation from French and German sources, or revision and alteration of works to suit particular requirements. We have open ed handsome offices in the Broadway Theatn Building, in Rooms Nos. 11 and 12. Frank Sanger is very much interested in the scheme and has placed the stage of the Broadway Theatre at our service, when not other occupied. We have agents in Paris and Berlin, who will forward us everything in the way

Shan .- Mr. Williams trained Kathryn Kidder and Lillian Olcott for the star Lillian Brown, the reader, was also one of his pupils. We both have a large circle of theatrical acquaintances, and shall do everything in our power to make the Bureau a permanent institution. (Exeunt ownes.)

A JUBILANT MANAGER.

"Well, I for one can't complain of hard times." A Mirror reporter had just entered H. S. Taylor's office at Klaw and Erlanger's Theatrical Exchange to find that mar lolling back comfortably in his chair. He had a genial smile on his countenance and looked in much better health than when he left the city to look after the fortunes of A Dark Secret.

"Yes, sir, I can't complain," reiterated Mr. Taylor. "The season of my play has been twenty per cent. better than it was last year, and the balance of the season will, I know, take care of itself. Charley Jefferson has the management of the company while I am We laid off only one week-Holy here. Week, and on May 13 we open in Boston for a season of eight weeks.

"Since I have opened my office here about ten days ago I have received no less than forty-five plays from such authors as Robert G. Morris, Charles Gayler, Scott Marble, James Herne and Inigo Tyrrell. Beside these there are the English plays, which Mr. Cobbe is continually arranging for the representation of, and altogether matters have a very bright outlook."

WILLIAM J. FLEMMING closed his season of PROFESSIONAL DOINGS.

J. H. Curtin has been engaged as agent for ohn A. Stevens' Unknown company.

John A. Stevens' Unknown company.

Zio-Zac comes to Niblo's Garden nerweek. It will probably do a big busines while the city is filled with strangers.

Charles W. Allison is combining bus ness with pleasure this week in Baltimore where he is playing at Ford's Theatre an entertaining friends at his home in that city.

The professional friends of Lee Townsend and Ed. A. McArdle have tendered them a testimonial to take place at the Fifth Avenue Theatre on May 5.

JOHN E. MURPHY, the well-known Irish comedian, formerly of Murphy and Mack, died recently at the Stockton (Cal.) Insane

George M. Wood's company is reported to have made a decided success in David Garrick, at Halifax, on Monday night before a large and fashionable audience.

THE announcement is made that Messrs ixon and Zimmerman have purchased the Nixon and Zimmerman have purchased the Broad Street Theatre, Philadelphia, from

E. SOLDENE POWELL, an English stage mager, has been engaged by David Henders to superintend the production of Blue Beat Jr., at the Opera House this Summer.

THE posters of Robert Elsmere, which comes to the Union Square next Monday night, announce that the play was "suggested" by Mrs. Humphrey Ward's novel.

Frank H. Doane ended his engagement with the Mugg's Landing company last Saturday, and will appear in a low comedy part in Extra Edition on April 27, at Altoona, Pa.

SHERIDAN BLOCK has signed to play the Count Danville in Mr. Barnes of New York next season with Frank W. Sanger's road company. Emma Field has been secured for Enid.

MARCUS MEYER has signed as musical director for the Evans and Hoey Parlor Match company for next season. This will be Mr. Meyer's third year with that popular organi-

J. J. FITZSIMMONS, who has been in the company of the Florences during the past season, has been engaged for Wood's new Harlem Theatre, to act light comedy and boy parts.

PROCTOR'S TWENTY-THIRD STREET THEATRE, where Neil Burgess is playing in The County Fair was filled every night during Holy Week. The house is sold out for the coming HARRY HINE, manager of Hallen and Hart's Later On company, has engaged John T. Kelly and Annie Lewis for the next season of the piece, which opens in Chicago on August 25.

CHARLES MORTIMER has secured the right for Only a Farmer's Daughter for next year.
The names of Louise Pomerov and Agnes Herndon are mentioned as possible rivals for the position of star in the play.

ELMER E. VANCE of Columbus, O., has disposed of his play. The Limited Mail, to P. H. O'Connor through Winnett's Amusement Exchange. The piece possesses new and novel electric and mechanical effects.

E. H. Sothern opened at the Baldw atre. San Francisco, on Monday night in Lord Chumley. Both play and player are reported to have made a hit. The receipts for the first week will amount, it is said, to $10,000.

LEWIS MORRISON'S production of Paust nade a pronounced hit in Boston on Monday night. The audience is reported to have been ntensely enthusiastic. Mr. Morrison was ntensely enthusiastic. Mr. Morrison nonored with double calls after each act HARRY MINER arrived from Detroit on Mo day last, after having spent a week in that city. He announces the outlook of things for his theatre in that city as decidedly ending. The time is all booked away aher

KLAW AND ERLANGER have changed the title of Jessop and Teal's new play, The Coston Light to the Great Metropolis. They will produce it in this city next season, a run of sight models in the city next season, a run

MRS. HARRIET WEBE will introduce her pupil, R. Belle Campbell, at her annual concert, to take place at the Berkeley Lyceum on May 14. She will also be assisted by Miss May 14. She will also be assisted by Miss Anna Bulkeley Hills, Lila Willis and the Balfe Glee Club.

ALICE VANE has signed with Spenser's Opera company for a Summer season of comic opera, appearing in all leading contralto parts and opening at the Star Theatre, Buffalo, on June 17. For next season Miss Vane rejoins June 17. For next season 1 W. W. Tillotson's Zig-Zag.

The second regular meeting of the American Actors' Athletic Association will take place at the Bijou Theatre to-morrow (Thursday) afternoon. A number of life members have been secured. The Association starts out with every prospect of success.

THE Deshon Opera company closes its regular season in Norwich, Ct., on Saturday night, opening the Summer season in Memphis, Tenn., on May 27. Herbert Mathews, Tom Ricketts and Victor De Lacey leave the company and sail for Europe on May 2:

EVIDENCES of Manager J. H. Mack's mastery of the shotgun reached THE DRAMATIC MIRROR last week in the shape of a box of snipe shot in Wayne County, Ohio. Col. John Bolus and Mr. Mack bagged fifty-six on Tuesday. They shot over the noted setters Prince of Kilbuck, Bonnie Belton and Clifford.

LUTIE MILLER, late of P. F. Baker's company, joined Harry Williams' Kindergarden company at Louisville last week, taking the part of Ivy Magee, in place of Kitty Hart. The famous character dancer, Blanche Boyer, also joined at the same time. The company opened to big business at the Standard Theatre. St. Louis, last week, both of the new members making hits. Manager Williams reports excellent business through the South. The season will not close until about the middle of June. LUTIE MILLER, late of P. F. Raker's com-

LILIES OF EASTER.

Aft up, lift up your pure and pallid faces With the tomb's nard swoon heavy weet, oh, my lilies, sweet your tender gra So pale with the mute mystery of Death.

ift up, lift up your pure and pallid fa To hide the cross of seven scarlet sta loom and rejoice! Make glad the des Because the Saviour lives again and r petals, pallid, sweet perf life! Burst into snowy bl symbol of His resurrecti

, oh, my lities! Veil with beauty tend broken cross, the empty conquered to ray, and Lent! Give way to Baster ap th's sharpness Life's dear Lord ha

THE ACTRESSES' CORNER.

Two or three years ago I went meekly into Palk's. All the way up stairs Kidders and Belle Archers and Langtrys and Urquharts smiled upon me, so I felt pretty small, freckled and pug-nosed, anyhow, by the time I reached the office.

the office.

There I was snubbed. There was no escaping that awful conviction, depressed as I was, too, by the pug nose, etc., already referred to. So I covered up the fact that I had intended requesting the artist to fix me on pasteboard, bought a picture of the beautiful Lily and didded out, glad to escape.

For all that, I realized a while ago that I must, pug and all, have some photographs and that, of course, meant Falk.

Some one else was in the office this time, and I made my appointment.

that, of course, time one one else was in the one.

I I made my appointment.

We, who have not Archer's eyes or Urquet's profile or Lillian Russell's neck or—or—and so on, feel that we must be making a cauty photographer's life a burden to him and I moped around in front of the camer all, I am sure, Mr. Palk began to go mad.

Gaid he, with patience that suggested like suppressed emotions.

I am sure,
laid be, with patience tralaid be, with patie

whed and I began to feel better.
The first thing I knew, I was doing what, see infancy, I had sworn I never would dowing a "beauty picture" taken. Oh, yes see rolled up and all—a Turkish town uped on one shoulder and three hairs strayon one states of the bridge of my named southsty at the cross-of-

r. Palk said I looked a little cross-eyed advised that I direct my attention to the cook of my attention to the mpts, I got the com

At once a heavenly enthusiasm for the life to come pervaded me. I drew in a breath reparatory to bursting into, "Let me play m a harp at the great white throne," and dick! the picture was taken.

I let go of the outer ends of my systrows, pet my eyes in shape and saked faintly if I had been in a trance or anything.

The next due I was in a form of annicia.

Behold! It came! Oh, you would never use known your Polly! I didn't. I saked it. Falk, on the quiet, to let me into the nerst, of those two beautiful triangular hams of light that made my eyes, in the light, seem ready to turn inside out.

He wrote there had been no monkeying the negative, so I laid it to the outer on the negative.

ret emotional part I get, I shall gare tly and unceasingly at the outer ende

To the girl who is really beautiful, make up or Falk's pictures can hardly be the satisfaction they are to Miss Plain Ordinary.

Miss Plain Ordinary looks in the glass betwee going on the stage and rejoices in eyes wise as hig as she sees in the daytime—well saved trows and lipe—soft peachy color and air arranged with becoming care it never the lor day. air arranged with becoming care it never tets by day. The girl who has big eyes, etc., te., must get awfully blast and miss the brob of satisfaction Miss P. O. gets.

So, too, when a girl who isn't a bit soulful, the does not get dreamy or soaring or exalted, at who always takes her hat off to people the can and do—when she gets to looking at he outer end of her eyebrows, and sees the sualt brought out on a beautifully finished and, she gets a sensation that beats entirely hat of taking her hat off to other people, or hat which sweet Clayton can feel when she soks to see if her photograph does her justice. Of course Falk, Sarony, and the rest cost smething, so here is a suggestion: Photo-to see if her photograph does her justice.

course Falk, Sarony, and the rest cost thing, so here is a suggestion: Photoh apparatus has been perfected wonderof late. Some of the small town "artists"
I their pictures beautifully, also some of have a bit of artistic instinct about light

Take a teaspoonful in a wine glass of water three times a day two hours after food.
Warts can be cured by touching them two or three times a day with a bone crochet needle dipped in aromatic vinegar. If this should fail, they may be touched with a pencil of lunar caustic or strong acetic acid. Unless the wart is estentationally units, however, just of you as you will permit, and will be etern-ally grateful if you will give him a chance at you in some of your costumes. He will take infinite pains, and you won't feel so no-account as you are apt to with a photographer like Falk, and will, therefore, do yourself

The country artist will be glad to send you finished samples of all he takes, and you may find two or three that are really very good, and they will cost you from $2 to $3 a dozen, which is a consideration, for we all have to have photographs, and we are not all rich, and Mr. City Artist does not send for Miss Plain Ordinary and request the honor of a sitting from her.

I had some photographs taken at Elliot and Fry's, in London.

The place is very swell, and they treated me with much contempt.

I happened to have a Worth dress, the bodice of which I brought to be taken in.

The artist admired the bodice tremen-lously, and made me feel that he much re-retted not having a better looking girl in it. In my Elliot and Fry picture, I wear the sest view of the bodice and an expression of addened introspection.

It is odd that we who are more or less used on the stage to hundreds of eyes (if business is good) upon us, get self-conscious at once in view of a camera.

in view of a camera.

Indeed, one is less effected by a theatre full of eyes than by the attention of the handfull of admiring friends, gathered about us by full of admiring friends, gathered about us by some special dear friend who has inveigled us to a little Sunday tea when "there will positively be nobody, my dear," and who, when she has us there helpless, makes us feel that she will be miserable if we don't get up and show off and do "Curfew," or "Good, bravehearted, daring Annie O'Neil," tra la! for them.

Why, I have seen a staunch old actor at a Christmas dinner given by our star, when called upon for a recitation, get all red and scared to death, though he would only be speaking before those with whom he played every night.

I really believe self-conscious awkwardness and misery is less likely to confound us on the

I really believe self-conscious awkwardness and misery is less likely to confound us on the stage than it is in many less crowded places, a dining-room for instance. We march in, the dust of four weeks of night-stands upon us, and we have given ourselves a treat, and gone to the best hotel, and it is really a good one. The room is full. Mr. Head Waiter is way at the other end. We stand uncertain, there is no feeling like ours, just then, on the stage, unless it be when the curtain sticks and we have to hold a tableaux after the spirit of the scene is all over.

I have had girls, graceful, self-possessed and capable before a full house, confess they prefer a first night to a crowded dining-room, and there are those who can call up what passion they will for a part, but get panic-struck when a photographer says, "Look pleasant."

Now to leave photographs and come to

We have all suffered and sworn over the loss of a shoe-horn, haven't we?

I was struggling with a tight, low shoe the other night and calling upon the spirit of my dead and gone relatives, to keep me from profanity and a stage-wait, when one of the ladies in the room unfolded to me the beautiful truth that the corner of a towel inserted in the shoe as a shoe-horn would serve me. That's worth knowing, isn't it?

Also I have gathered unto myself some other facts for you. Indigestion and the pains attendant yield to a dose of common table salt before each meal. As much salt as the end of a dinner knife will hold is the dose.

the end of a dinner knife will hold is the dose. Salt is always available and always on the table, ready, so there is small excuse for you if you can't follow up the treatment.

It has been tried over and over again with success, so I am told. For myself I have not tested at, being one of those blessed with a digestion which stood slate-pencil dust and licorice water in my youth and now keeps its own with late suppers, irregular meals and on-the-road fare.

on-the-road fare. Also, be it magic, medicine or imagination, a basin or bucket of water put under the will stop night sweats—don't you laugh! If you have them you go and do it. My hair stood right up on end when the thing was tried in the company and succeeded. I think it's spirits, but, whatever it is, it suffices, so it is averred, in every case.

is averred, in every case.

I have also a recipe for taking at the first hint of a cold:

Sesquicarbonate of amount Compound infraion of gar Compound infraion of garantize of chloroform the wart is estentiationally ugly, however, just leave it alone. Remember we are more conscious of such things about ourselves than other people are. If we could "see ourselves Little Lord Fauntlerov (Eastern) company.

as others see us" we would probably find warts, freckles, pug noses, etc., less compicuous than we have imagined.

I hear also from good authority that sulphur is an excellent remedy for rheumatism. Wear woolen underwear and dust the side next the skin with flower of sulphur.

A while ago, I had my feelings badly hurt by some one who, among a lot of nice things said about Polly, suggested that I was not very much in earnest about recipes.

Don't you believe it! I am. It is true enough that if we lead regular lives, bathe regularly, have pure air always and take good food and plenty of exercise, we are not likely to need to fall back on sulphur and salt and hair-wash and skin cures; but, unfortunately, we can't all live regular lives, and therefore sulphur, salt and the rest of it may come in very well.

It is certainly better to resort to some sim-ple remedy than rush to a patent medicine, which cures such a lot of things that when we take it for dyspepsia we have need to fear it will go hustling around our constitution for

In a week or so I shall be turned loose in the fields, and, I suppose, unable to write anything but how the grass grows, and as the season advances, how to cure cramps from too many currants and gooseberries.

There are more days in the weeks at the end of a season than the law allows, aren't them?

Polity.

LOIE FULLER'S WEST INDIAN TRIP.

William Morris and Loie Fuller have arrived in this city from the West Indies. A Minnon representative saw them yesterday. At the Coleman House, which Mr. Morris is making his headquarters at the reporter was a constant the reporter was a constant. sent, the reporter was shown a number of tering press notices from the press of naica and other places. The following ac-nt of the trip was given by the juvenile

"We opened our season in Kingston on Jan.
15 at the Theatre Royal, appearing in a repertoire of popular plays to good business for the first few weeks. Sometime in February one of the members of the organization became ill; and the others followed, one by one, until they were almost all down in bed. This crippled the company and our honors began to fall off. I had to ask them when I could play, and we were not able to perform more than once a week, when I had counted upon playing at least three times. Miss Fuller had made a great success as Rosalind, Lady Teazle, Juliet and Ophelia, whilst her Serpolette in The great success as Rosalind, Lady Teazle, Juliet and Ophelia, whilst her Serpolette in The Chimes of Normandy was considered equal to that of Kate Monroe. Under these circum-stances, it seemed a shame to discontinue, but what was one to do?

"At last I made an arrangement with the company, by which they were to await my return from New York, the company playing in the meanwhile. After we had left, however, the company thought they cou'd make more by playing for themselves, in spite of the previous contract, and they formed a company on the Commonwealth plan. In consequence of this action on their part, I determined that they had forfeited their contract with me. I leave this city with a new company for Chili, South America, as soon as arrangements can be completed. As for the other organization, our agent will sail for Kingston in a few days to settle all the affairs of the company and bring the people back.

"The company that we are to take to South America will include twenty-five people, and they will be engaged with the idea of playing either drama or opera. Miss Fuller and I re-turned from the West Indies by way of New Orleans, and while in the latter city signed a contract of five years' duration, with a well-known New York capitalist."

MISS BARRY'S STRATAGEM.

Some curiosity has been evinced as to the identity of the adapter of Scribe's Bataille des Dames, which Helen Barry is presenting at the Union Square Theatre under the title, A Woman's Strategies.

Woman's Stratagem.

Little of Scribe's work, beyond the groundwork, remains intact. The dialogue is altered more than would be possible in a fair and square attempt by a competent dramatic writer to transfer the piece from French to English, and retain the brisk and clever features that distinguish the original.

There is many little of Soribe in A Woman's

There is very little of Scribe in A Woman's Stratagem, and a good deal of somebody else. Who that somebody is neither the playbills nor those concerned in the production announce.

It is probably Miss Barry's proverbial modesty that has prevented her from disclosing the fact that she herself arranged A Woman's Stratagem—not from Scribe's Bataille-des Dames direct, but from Palgrave Simpson's old adaptation of the piece, known to English playgoers as The Ladies' Battle. Hence the disimilarity between the original work and the second-hand copy.

GOSSIP OF THE TOWN.

THE Said Pasha Concert company will give concert at Niblo's on Sunday night.

Sig. Novara, the basso, has been engaged to apport Mme. Patti during her coming op-ratic tour in this country.

ALDRICH KNIGHT, of C. B. Palmer's Danites company, is winning praise from the press of Pennsylvania for his work as Sandy.

L. W. SEAVEY has leased an office in Klaw and Erlanger's Theatrical Exchange, and will have his headquarters there hereafter.

ANNA BELNONT has been engaged for the Beacon Lights company, in place of Gracie Emmett, who is suffering from blood poisoning in the arm.

The sale of seats for the engagement of the Rosina Vokes Comedy company, at Daly's Theatre, opened yesterday (Tuesday) morning at that house.

ALICE BROWN, daughter of Mrs. Soi Smith.

ALICE BROWN, daughter of Mrs. Soi Smith.

will act as the director of the Hamilton House and cottages at Stamford, Conn., during the coming Summer.

S. H. FRIEDLANDER, the general representative of P. Harris' theatres, has succeeded the late B. H. Grover as manager of Harris'
Pittsburg theatre.

WILLIAM H. CRANE will produce a new place.

WILLIAM H. CRANE will produce a new play by Brander Matthews and George H. Jessop next season. It will deal with some Ame:1-can tourists in Europe.

RUDGLPH ARONSON'S new march, "Washington," which was composed expressly for the occasion, will be played at the Casino for the first time on next Tuesday evening.

W. D. Mass will manage Evans and Hoey in A Parlor Match next season, opening at Helena, Montana, on July 29. All three will sail for Europe on the City of Paris on June

FRANK LOSEE and Marion Elmore have been engaged for the Stowaway company for next season. The tour opens in Philadelphia about the middle of August and extends to Signor Campanini and a concert company, comprising Signor del Puente, Signorina be Vere, Madame Russell and others, will give a patriotic concert at the Academy of Music on next Sunday evening. next Sunday evening.

A root match for the championship of the theatrical profession will be played by Burr McIntosh and Sydney Drew, to-morrow (Thursday) evening in this city. Robert C. Hilliard will act as referee.

PERCY PLUNKETT of Lizzie Evans' company will produce his new comedy Life in Jersey, for the first time, at Red Bank, N. J., early next month. The performance will be for the benefit of the Red Bank Base Ball Club.

Messes. Clarke, Lieeaman and Co., managers of the melodramatic production for next season, Guilty Without Crime, in which Doré Davidson and Ramie Austin will star, are

KATE HOWARD, leading lady of Joseph D. Clifton's Ranch King company, was married recently to Lionel E. Lawrence, late of Doré Davidson's company. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence will remain with the company the rest

JENNIE WILLIAMS has been engaged by Thatcher, Primrose and West for the farce-comedy. Up to the Times, which had its premier at Plainfield, N. J., on last Monday night, and will be presented in Boston on next Monday.

as originally produced at the Lyceum Theatre in this city last month.

A. H. Wood has altered the plans of his new West End Theatre so that it will include a handsome roof garden Sox100 feet. This will allow of the theatre being kept open all Summer and the change adds much to the architectural beauty of the house. The corner than of the defice will be hid on May 6 with stone of the edifice will be laid on May 6, with appropriate ceremonies.

A BENDETT for the Confederate Soldiers' Home in Texas will be given at Palmer's Theatre on May 16, when Howard Carroll's four-act comedy-drama, The American Countess, will be presented. Among those who will appear are Julia Wheeler, Agnes Stone, Virgunia Buchanan, Marie Levick, E. J. Henley, Frank Carlyle, Charles Dickson, William Herbert, John Kellard and others.

J. F. CONKLING, manager of the Minneapolis Opera House, has made arrangements to put the melodrama by H. M. Reid, entitled An Ex-Convict, on the road for six weeks, commencing in Minneapolis on May 20. The company will probably consist, among others, of Agnes Herndon, Alice Haines, Annie Haines, T. D. Frawley, Harry Tansy, George Roberts and Charles Bradshaw.

Roberts and Charles Bradshaw.

The country newspapers, for fully 200 miles about this city, are beginning to bristle with long accounts of Bartholomews' Equipe Paradox which will occupy the Academy of Music for three months, at the conclusion of the season of Denman Thompson in The Old Homestead. This is pleasing evidence of Manager John D. Mishler's able management and Alexander Comstock's hard work after his vacation.

Mus. F. L. Frenchman has been engaged.

Mas. E. L. Fernandez has been engaged by the Centennial Committee to supply them with 340 people—men. women and childrento be used during the celebration. These people will represent characters in Wagner's operas, the Seven Muses, and other scenes. Mrs. Fernandez herself was invited to appear as The Little Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe, to be surrounded by some 200 theatrical children, but she modestly declined.

MAID MARIAN.

e lips, Maid Marian's eyes, inc, then lure again ; a laugh, Maid Marian's siz treach'ry of her wi an, rhame! Maid Marian, inclaim, and likewise shout; an whence, Maid Marian w al pains that find us out? e cruel pains that find us out? neeks with saline tears are wet, th the yoke we grean and sweat call us here, you drive us there, , wretched slaves, you do not ca darian, you're a sad coquette!"

d Marian lists, Maid Marian parts or lips, and shakes her gold-crowned h i Marian smiles, Maid Marian darts or glance—'twould resurrect the dead' then we one and all forget illious thoughts, and have About the task we know full well Is hopeless; but we're in the spell—laid Marian is a sad coquette.

laid Marian says, Maid Marian thinks That men are quite her lawful prey; laid Marian jests, Maid Marian drinks The joys her reign affords to-day but Time will age this dragonet, ler slaves will fly, without regret To other service, other scenes; They'll wear the chains of young CALIBAN.

LONDON NEWS AND GOSSIP.

APRIL 11, 1889. Only one novelty has been turned on this week for the amusement of the matincers and professional deadheads generally. This was at the Vaudeville on Tuesday, when the comedy-drama entitled My Queenie, by H. W. Williamson, was sampled by a very friendly audience. Williamson has written many pieces for the stage, mostly of an unpreten-tious kind. His comedy-drama, Returing, produced at the Folly ten years ago, is his best known and most successful effort. He is a man of some good dramatic ideas, but his method of working them out is not entirely to be recomme ded, and his fondness for "fine writing" often makes his serie dialogue unintentionally humorous

My Queenie has a pretty little story to recommend her—somewhat thin, perhaps, and more than somewhat conventional, but pretty, what there is of it. Queenie is an in-genue-heroine who was wrecked off the coast of Scarborough when a baby. She, the sole survivor, was saved by an honest boats and brought up as his own child. How m his father has made other arrange ed to a baronet's son for ments; how the villain of the piece (who he opportunely discovered that Queenie is the daughter of a real, live, or, rather, dead lord) utilizes his knowledge in order. s his knowledge in order to make her his very own; and how the villain's schemes ght to nought by the intervention of Frenchwoman, whose daughter he in) seduced and abandoned in Paris and the long ago, need not here be gone into in detail. It is enough to say that eventually all comes right, and when the curtain falls there is good hope of Queenie being speedily united to the baronet's son of her choice. But ere this takes place some rather fantastic ngs in the way of low comedy are done in Casino Gardens at Boulogne and else-

Willis and gave him both a hearty call and enthusieven in the disappointments—and in at least three cases, Wiliamson was at the last moment obliged to be content with substitutesome young lady with a winning, sympathetic manner. She scored. Frank ore as the lover, W. Hargreaves as the honest boatman, Susie Vaughan as an aristocratic aunt and Dolores Drummond as the useful Frenchwoman, all did well. The best ed part in the piece was, perhaps, that of nest boatman's old mother, who was represented by Miss Fanny Robertson with an amount of pathetic realism such as is rarely seen in a character of the kind. Arthur mard also deserves credit for the way in which he played a difficult character part at only twenty-four hours' notice.

trical libel case, Barnes vs. Ledger, was of a the name of Marie de Braham, had gained self-explanatory. ing newspaper men sit up and snort. Barnes is the conductor of the "Anglo American" bancing Troupe, who performed the hallet called The Foliet at the opening of the Brighton Alhambra. on Oct. 20, last year.

Ledger is the proprietar of the Era, a London theatical paper, the name of which is probably familiar to most Markon readers. In its issue, following the date above referred.

to, the defendant, in speaking of the plaintiffs' dance, described it as a can-can of the most outrageous character, "and a brasen infraction of the rules of decency." There was no suggestion of malice or that the criticism was other than a bona-fide expression of defendant's judgment. Moreover, he produced in support of his criticism many witnesses whose judgment agreed with his own.

Mr. Justice Field, who tried the case, summed up dend against the defendant and the jury—as is not unusual in such cases—gave their verdict for the plaintiff. What is more, they also gave him £300 damages, which defendant will have to pay, together with all costs of the suit.

but he was not to be shaken off. Anyho she was to bring the child to see him. So came, but without the child. They quarrelle and he drew a revolver and shot her deafter which he shot himself. He was eig and-twenty and she was twenty-four.

THE PIRATES ACTIVE.

The approaching close of the season legitimate companies, playing at regular price appears to be drawing the purates trom coving the child to see him. So came, but without the child. They quarrelle and he drew a revolver and shot her deafter which he shot himself. He was eig and-twenty and she was twenty-four.

THE PIRATES ACTIVE.

The approaching close of the season legitimate companies, playing at regular price appears to be drawing the purates trom coving the purates the sun drawing the purates the purates the profession, who literally in many cases.

There has, for some time past, been a ten-dency on the part of our Bench to give our ewspapers beans whenever, and wherever, ach donation is practicable. Of course everybody knows that the judges of England are without fear and without reproach and that whatever they do is done by them because they honestly believe it to be the right and proper thing to do under the circumstances. All of which is of course very soothing, except to newspaper editors, who are in the habit of expressing a free and independent opinion. It is a most point perhaps whether a free and dependent press is a necessity of modern oglish civilization. Justice Field evidently thinks not, for in delivering judgment he expressed his opinion that "the press must be kept in order—otherwise it might be apt to consider itself irresponsible." I suppose it would be libellous to say what I think of this utterance, so I will content myself by thinking what I would say-if I might. It would fill a long column-and blue ink would be absolutely necessary to print it.

In to-day's papers, proceedings in three theatrical bankruptcies are reported. No. 1 is re H. B. Coulson, whom kind friends in front know best by his stage name of Con way. Some time back Conway went into nent on his own account and had bad luck. At the end of a year he had lost all his capital and had incurred about £2,500 of lia-bilities; assets nil. Conway's creditors have now agreed to accept a composition of 5s. in the pound, payable by instalments out of his future earnings. He is at present getting £20 a week on tour.

No. 2 is the case of A. H. and F. G. Darbishire. The "A. H." in this connection is the wife of the "F. G," and she is professionally known as Agnes Hewitt. Their unsecured liabilities are about £6,500, and their assets the same as Conway's. Agnes' trouble came of leasing the Olympic Theatre. She says she had £3,500 of capital when she started, and that she lost about £150 per weed dur-ing the five weeks she ran The Golden Band, and £200 per week during her subsequent production, The Pointsman. Then she went on tour and was again unfortunate. Agnes has always been good and kind to her comnies, and much sympathy is expressed for panies, and much sympathy is expressed the her in her present embarrassments, which are really and truly the result of bad luck, I am glad to say that the Registrar allowed these debtors to "pass."

in January, 1888, he pined for higher society boys and in minor club land generally. His vested about £520 (given him by a friend) in friends rallied round nobly on this occasion, a theatrical speculation, which was unsuccessful. His present liabilities are £1,601. eption, when he responded to it. But | which £1,598 is unsecured. But, unlike Confor all that, I am afraid there is no money in way and Darbishires. East has got assets. My Queenie. The cast was fairly good, and Oh. Yes! He has got "household furniture, valued at £3" which is, however, subject to a claim for rent. James was in Sophie Eyre's company when she had the Gaiety. He atthere was little to find fault with. Miss tributes his insolvency to loss, in respect of the or Leyshon, who played the name part, speculation above mentioned, to liabilities on accommodation bills, to his personal expenses having exceeded his income, principally while he was in the army, and to costs of divorce proceedings in which he was a co-respondent. Oh, we are a merry family, we are! James' "first meeting" is appointed for April 16.

What with divorce, bankruptcy and libel suits the poor players have kept " the beaks " The tragedy took place in a little house up Haverstock Hillway. The victim was a Piper, is without an equal. The decision given on Monday in the thea- bright, pretty, accomplished girl, who, under she was to bring the child to see him. She came, but without the child. They quarrelled, and he drew a revolver and shot her dead, after which he shot himself. He was eight-

The approaching close of the season by egitimate companies, playing at regular prices, legitimate companies, playing at regular prices, appears to be drawing the parates from cover, just as the increasing heat of the sun draws reptiles out of their holes at this time of the year. The jackals and camp-followers of the n, who literally, in many cases, robthe dead as well as the living, are extending the territory of their marauding operations as the Summer solstice is nearing and ped-

The crew this week is larger than that of last week. Managers Spooner and Page, of the Levy Opera House at Charlottesville, Va., are foes to pirates. These gentlemen send THE MIRROR the appended letter which was mailed to them:

Manager of Lavy Opera House, Charlottesvile, Va.

DEAR SIR:—Have you the week open commencing Oct. 26, 78, 71 is so, what are the best terms you can offer the Ely Stock company to play your theatre on those dates? Will share or rent; prefer a reasonable rent. If you prefer to share, please state what newspaper advertising you will furnish, and how many musicians in orchestra.

Respectfully yours, S. G. ELY.

THE MIRROR tenders its thanks to Managers Spooner and Page for their promptness in reporting the Ely Stock company. They have the following repertoire: Pygmalion and Galatea, The King's Guardsmen, Engaged, The Danites, Colleen Bawn, Tom wyer the Bad Boy, Camille, Uncle Josh, At His Mercy, Lady of Lyons, A Strange Marriage, Two Orphans, In a Fix, East Lynne and Milky White. The Ely Stock company played at Tyrone, Pa., last week and are at Allentown, Pa., this week. This mpany has bogus press notices on its cir-

The Riley Dramatic company is now presenting the following stolen plays in Ohio: Passion's Slave, Queena, Only a Farmer's Daughter and Lynwood.

The Garvin Dramatic company is invading Washington Territory with a stolen reper toire comprising A Wife's Honor, Passion's Slave, Sam'l of Posen, Under the Gaslight, A Night Off and Only a Farmer's Daughter. O. C. Garvin is proprietor and W. R. Musgot manager of this gang.

The Clair Patee company appeared at Plattsmouth, Neb., last week in Queena, A Night Off (under the title of An Evening Out), The Martyr and Widow Bedott.

The Waite Comedy company played a two weeks' stand at Hudson, N. Y., during the past fortnight. They presented Pique, The French Spy, Lynwood, Led Astray, The New Danites and A Rough Diamond. The manager of the Waite company in conversation with Mr. J. G. Aldcrofft, the correspondent for THE DRAMATIC MIRROR, made the following

The Criterion Comedy company presented eyed her to The Galley Slave, A Wife's Temptation, The encouragingly: "Rise? Oh, yes, my dear, The Criterion Co. Queen's Peril and Rex, at Corning, N. Y., last week. THE MIRROR, two weeks ago, brought this company to bay for their alleged use of the lithographs of Two Tramps (Chapman and Sellers') and John F. Ward's The Doctor. They cover up these names with date lines. In regard to the charge of having stolen "paper" as well as stolen plays, the Criterion Comedy company, like the Waite company, appears to "have no use for THE DRAMATIC MIRNOR."

THE MIRROR paid its respects to Palmer's Comedy company last week, when they were presenting The Two Orphans and My Geraldine in Pennsylvania. During the week ending April 13, Palmer's Comedy company appeared at the Grand Opera House at Wheeling, W. Va., in The Danites. The programme on that occasion had the following pretty busy this week. But, alas, they have note: "Charles B. Palmer, manager of this also come within the purview of "crowner's company, is the sole owner of the copyright quest law." The theatrical murder and suicide of this great play, which is sufficient guaranof Monday last has been the talk of the town. | tee that it will be produced in its entirety. Miss Cody, in her great impersonation of Billy

The following letter from Inigo Tyrrell is

The following letter has been received W. C. Holden, manager of the Ethel T

To the Editor of the Dramatic Mirror:
Sin.—I see in your last issue that you
Miss Ethel Tucker as a pirate. In re
Blossom I refer you to Mr. Gustave Pr other plays we are not doing. I am no Leah is a copyrighted play as there are sions on the market; one—Augustin D obtained for fifteen cents. However, doing it. I have also added The Strang sions on the mark obtained for fifte doing it. Thave a to my repertoire, to my repertoire, and I am now no Frohman for a new play for next to The Danites, Miss Tucker and Mr. Rankin last Summer during and did him a few favors, in retur and did him a few fa us we might use The played it on three or ever, if Mr. Rankin h now. As you have a the item referred to

W. C. HOLDEN,

THE HANDGLASS.

A rumor reaches, us from over the bridge, that a certain well-known athletic divine of the Delsarte school, is to preach from a revolving stage next season, and that the au-torium pews are to be fitted up with drop nickel-in-the-slot-for-the-heathen-and-takea-hymn-book machines

Marshall P. Wilder should speedily produce a companion hymnal to his "Men I Have Smiled With," and entitle it, "Men Who Have Smiled with Me;" otherwise he is open to a grave suspicion, which it will take protracted and expensive argument to dispel, even from the minds of his best friends.

Here is the way our Western corn ence reads nowadays: "The Fat Men's Club played to good business all last week. The Rev. Dr. Know-it-All is delighting large audi-ences at the Grand Opera House, with his popular lecture, "Heaven and How to Get There," and is billed to the 15th. Next week, Straight Variety.

He was such a charming boy,
Just like little Pauntleroy,
And his mother dressed him in the sweetest wa
With a Tam o' Shanter hat and a baby-bine cri
Then let him out upon the aftent to also But his previous elder brot Came and broke it to his m Came and broke it to his mother, That he heard him on that very selfname day, Tell the little boy next door, that with him he'd wig the floor; At least, that's what the Dickie birdies say!

Did you ever hear of the Leadville girl who manipulated the kitchen utensils in one of the Delmonico's of the West? She was stage struck in the worst way and after span for an opening for about six mont opera house manager, in desperation, made her the offer of a position as "helper" to the woman who cleaned out the theatre daily, THE DRAMATIC MIRROR, made the foundation of the drama-loving Leadsuggestive remark: "We have no use for the DRAMATIC MIRROR." Mr. Aldcrofft witnessed a performance of the company in the sentiment of the manager of the was put to work scrubbing the stage, and the some time until the manager. these debtors to "pass."

Waite Comedy company will find a responsive echo in the breasts of nearly if not quite all of the pirate organizations.

No. 3 is re James East, who is a son of Quartermaine East, a well known citizen and licensed victualier of London. James held the Queen's commission for some years, but in January, 1888, he nined for higher society in January, 1888, he nined for higher society.

Mr. D., who didn't catch the idea at all. you're getting along very nicely now, and after a while, no doubt, Mrs. Smith will let you scrub the gallery.

A New York dramatic critic describes Panny Rice in Nadjy as a black-legged little creat disguised as a pen-wiper.

Somebody mixed indelible red ink with Digby Bell's make-up the other night, and circumstances over which he has no control, will compel him to go around for a few brief beautiful weeks with a nose like a cactu blossom. He sent the following touchi missive the day after the casuality

Friend Hopper:
I will see you later. Keep all dates open. A is a joke, but to hit a man on the head with a b and say "Tag" is no joke. Your true friend.

A fresh young man burst into Harry Miner's office last Wednesday with blood in his eye and found that individual in charge smoking contentedly a fragrant perfecto. He strongly to the amount of a bill for programme advertising, and did not know that the un-ruffled smoker who took him in such a maddeningly quiet way was the Great Mogul himself. At last he lost all patience.

"Well, I'll see Mr. Mirer about this. Where is he? I want to see some one a bla sight higher than you, that's cert

"God." answered Miner, pointing rever-ently oriling-wards with his cigar, "is the only one higher than I, young man, around this office."

STAGE STORIES.

A LEFT-HANDED ROMANCE. BY CORA

The moving of the train dragged his cli-

the moving of the train dragged his cling-fingers from my hand. I got a last flash white, tortured face, and I was out and y in the night toward Liverpool. fropped back on the seat and wiped my head. It had been a sharp fight. It was and I had escaped. Many and many a during the past week I had nearly given but there I was at last on my way home, safe, to thank heaven I had stuck to the side of the question.

ad safe, to thank included in the same and the same downright heartless and ungrateful to be so happy—the comforting thought that I could not possibly see him again now, while the same thought I knew was dragging the same the same own into aching misery.

Indered sadly if I could hope to be forenough to make the man I might some are for love me as this man I had just

It loved me.

What a strange, half pitiful thing it washold a great, strong man's heart in ad. There was no fun in it. I won re coquettes got their amusement out of situations. I had been in genuine pain t the torfure I had caused.

at the turfure I had caused.

To be sure I was not to blame, but it was just as hard to know that, though I had not meant it, I had made the man miserable.

Then I laughed softly. What a time I had had the evening before. Suppose the strain of pity and regret had been too much. Suppose I had given up and put on my bonnet and gone out and been married. Heavens! and I had been near enough to doing it! It had really seemed a small thing to do for him when he suffered so.

Now that I remembered I wendered been hen he suffered so.

Now that I remembered, I wondered how ver I had held so closely to my first resolve. Only give me the smallest hope," he had sid, "the smallest hope that you may care or me ever. I will ask no more—only that will wait as long as you choose if only I may nok forward to the time when I may make our care more." And I had answered just as I had answered just as I had a like I know, as well as I as I could that I knew, as well as I the stars shome, that never, never, would come into my heart the least more of warmth for him than I felt that to had gone down as if under a blow. It's torrible thing to see a man struck so by 's own hand. It's a grotesque position to be that makes one feel older and stronger and nakes one feel older and stronge than a man who loves one.

hat I was very, very sorry. "You should not have loved me at all," I it was swfully foolish and mad of you a girl like me, who has no heart. you don't believe it, but you have we a girl like me, who has no heart.

be you don't believe it, but you have me feel so sorry for you that I have as hard as I knew how to get up an ar in my heart for you, but —that was infortunate remark—I should have in I struggled free from his rush of em-I gasped hurriedly, "Why don't you ill I get through? But I couldn't and I and I never shall." I felt the least bit s not like to be grabbed almost kined when the n I felt sorry again, because he d told you that," I said, fee had caused him. "I only told you that you might see how perfectly hope—act only do I not find any love in my or you, but it won't come though I ded to please you by putting it there." gray around the mouth, he told n to him how I filled his life—he had gone out of it at the coming un! How things go out.

un! I wandered if he would expense that ring if I married him.
I cold chill up my back. Marries ar manuel so frightfully immine
I get up and drank a glass of water get a con the latest and the second s tendship and all that was very well, ast not carry one too far, and it cer-sald be too far if I married him for it.

said not do that, he went on huskily. I went away he might not feel he had io, so, so, I had shouted in a panic, re-shoring that once I got back home, that anothered god, who, I knew, didn't care a for me, might possibly turn up some-te, and say "good day" to me or some little tender thing like that. It would be hor-rible to feel one's heart bound up at a bronzehaired, turquoise-eyed, silver-voiced, (ah me!) god's " good day," and know that this grave, earnest chap at the other end of the world, had a "hold" on one.

No! I was adament there. To be sure I No! I was adament there. To be sure I had thought I might go out, and marry him since he wanted; I was going to take the train in a few hours; it would not make any difference much, and I did want to please him. It would not amount to any thing after I was away. I should have done what he wanted, and so be free, there was divorce, of course, but to be sure him a the bald "on me for the but to leave him a "hold" on me for the

I was getting worn out with the fight. A man is so strong, and they have no mercy on a girl. They don't seem to realize or care that the mere fact that they look at us so we know we are any moment liable to be crushed in their arms is very wearing.

Well! well! Why bother about it more? I was off and away, and except for wishing he asn't so m

I wished he had not kissed me, though. If there is anything in the world a girl should not do, it is to let a man kiss her when she does not want him to. Want him to? I wondered how it felt, anyhow, to want a person to kiss one—rather nice, I supposed. As for me, I might as well make up my mind that if ever I should want anyone to kiss me—they wouldn't want to.

Now, what on earth had this man wanted to kiss me for? But he had—he had looked so miserable and then when he simply took my hand and said "Good bye" in a dazed sort my hand and said "Good bye" in a dazed sort of way I gave up, stupid, of course! He might have begged black and blue, I never should have done it, but that humble quiet had finished me, and I had said as bravely as I could, "You may kiss me if you like."

It makes me ashamed of myself to control a man's mood so. His face had lightened up into a glory.

"Darling, may I!" he had cried, not sure. Of course he would misunderstand!—but there was no use explaining. The tears came up in my eyes that a man should be so stupid as that also. I was going to have to go in my eyes that a man should be so stupid as that also. I was going to have to go through it. I just said without moving and in a voice I could not help sounding miser-able: "Yes, you may, if you like."

He got gray again but stooped and kiese me on my lips. I never shrunk back the leas bit, but I felt as if I had certainly done enoug for him then to quit everything. I felt qui cheerful from that the

"Now you see," said I brightly, "that I try to please you just as far as I can, don't you!
and that I do not want to be heartless or unkind to you." All the reward I got was a great gream.

I had thought the train was going that moment, but it didn't for some time. When it started really he kiused me again. I did not have so much to do with it that time. It was rather tremendous to be treated so, but it was over, it could not happen again. "Good-bye, good-bye, don't feel bad; just forget. It is easy if you put your mind to it. I know it is! Please don't look so at me! I have tried to please you. Good-bye, good-bye." Then as the train moved out that last sight of him through the window and the clinging about of one of his fingers.

Ab. me! what a facce! No wonder women.

Ah, me! what a farce! No wonder women get spoiled. Because I had been utterly thoughtless of this man's feelings or wishesor anything; because I had carelessly let him alone needs; because I had never wasted him to care for me, or meant him to, he had—and what return had I to make him? None.

Never mind! I would be a faithful fri Never mind! I would be a faithful friend; I would not forget him; if only he would not write me love letters I would let him write to me and answer his letters too. That would be doing something; and then I would be faithful about delivering all the messages he had sent, and when his birthday came I would send him a card. Oh, there were lots of things a name could do for a mon without message.

Suppose I had magried him. Could I have ever realised the picture he had drawn? Good gracious! I suppose one could if one had to, though. Meet him with a smile in the evening and get his slippers. That would be easy enough! Besides I had told him over and over that I knew I should get tired to death of any one who was around me all the time. He had said he would not be around me all the time. That might have helped me all the time. That might have helped matters; still it would be wearying to know that he had a right to be around all the time. He would have been perfectly happy. He said so. It would give him life and hope and ambition. It's a pity to have it in one's power to give all that, and be too stuck-up and mean to give all that, and be to give it.

I hoped it would not be quite as bad for him as he had said after I left. What a fool I had been to let him be with me so much old clock?

So all day city and said

so awfully.

Well? why think about it? Heavens! I had done the best I could. What right had a man to go and tumble his life into one's lap, and the church and into the false face of the lying to go and tumble his life into one's lap, and the church and into the false face of the lying to go and tumble his life into one's lap, and the church and into the false face of the lying to go and tumble his life into one's lap, and the church and into the false face of the lying to go and tumble his life into one's lap, and the church and into the false face of the lying to go and tumble his life into one's lap, and the church and into the false face of the lying to go and tumble his life into one's lap, and the church and into the false face of the lying to go and tumble his life into one's lap, and the church and into the false face of the lying the false into one's lap, and the church and into the false face of the lying the false into one's lap, and the church and into the false face of the lying the false into one's lap, and the church and into the false face of the lying the false into one's lap, and the church and into the false face of the lying the false into one's lap, and the church and into the false face of the lying the false into one's lap, and the church and into the people that the hour was twelve.

then lift up his voice in lament and go and die because we could not hold it?

tie because we could not hold it?

Come to think of it, the trouble wasn't all one side. I had not had a very pleasant time for the week gone, had I? No, nor for some time before, either

A girl is always so slow to make up ho nind a man loves her. It always seems con mind a man loves her. It always seems conceited; and one puts off and puts off, and then of a sudden you get the whole thing without warning. All very fine if you know what to do with it, but anything but amusement or happiness if you don't.

Settle myself back in the train as often as I would, I could not help going back to the mess I was just out of. I wished crossly that I had less conscience and more heart. For, justify conscience and more heart. For, justify less e

Then, as the rush of the cars deepened and I began to feel lonely fronting my long journey, all the pathos of his side of it went through me.

To have loosed the heart that had lain chained in quiet for years, to let it leap with the old time feeling of youth, to have life open up again, full of possibilities, and all for nothing! The tears came up in my eyes. I might have been more careful, thought I, and I might have been more gentle, too. After all, for me it had been no worse than an annoyance, while for him, it was a blow to his whole heart.

I was sorry, I almost yearned over this man in his loneliness, and again and again the pity of it all made me wish that I might have cared for him enough to give him better re-turn than I had for all he felt for me. I did not dare before he would get over it. He was not a boy. "Send to me from the of the world, dear one, and I will come," he had said. I had heard two or three things like that before. I had believed them, the first time, with a rush of intoxicating happings of nower over one for ness at sense of power over one whom one cares. Later I had h nch remarks with respect according to the neerity with which I felt them to be uttered. ing to the but not with any notion of testing them even a moment after the words fell. I had grown tite used to treating people gently and not ting them see that I believed in them less an they believed in themselves, and it had always been a comfort to me to be sure they would soon get over the little ache they were

But this man, well! I did not dare hope th.t. He, too, had said: "I will love till I die," and with the tears springing in my eyes I had to confess to myself that he probably I had to confess to myself that he probably would do just as he said, and I was sorry, though I felt restless under the weight the regret for his hurt put upon me. I wondered fretfully if it would make me so tired that I should at least feel bullied into sending the d for word: "Come, I will marry you.

longed for word: "Come, I will marry you.

When I got home I rushe! to a manager to try to get him a place. There were lots of things a woman could do for a man without marrying him, thought L.

"Ah!" said the manager, "here is a lady who will be glad to meet you, Miss Jones, Miss Adele Blake—Miss Jones, otherwise Mrs. Barkis. Miss Jones—Mrs. Barkis. Miss Jones has just left your husband's company."

"Mrs. Barkis," said I, with a far-away smile, "I have had the honor of your husband's ac-

"Mrs. Barkis," said I, with a far-away smile,
"I have had the honor of your husband's acquaintance on the other side of the ocean. It is an unexpected pleasure to meet his wife.
Can I do anything for you?"

THE MOUSE

"Justice is God's law—and God's law rules the universe." So said the preacher, and down he brought his clenched white hand upon the Bible.

The stroke shook the good book and sh the whole pulpit, and mightily frightened a poor little mouse who had failed to get up to his nest in the steeple, before the sermon those Christian people, but the mouse did it and scurried down through the hole that led to the steeple, and away and away he flow, higher and higher and more frightened all the while, till be reached the great wheels of the clock, and then, to make it all the worse, the clock began to strike and the poor mouse fell headlong, in a cold state. clock began to strike and the poor mouse fell headlong, in a sad state of terror, among the cogs and the wheels and the endless ma-

The clock should have struck, but it never did, though the hands pointed to twelve, for the poor little mouse was in the way, although, by that time, he was too dead to know anything about it.

All day the clock looked out upon the city and said to the people that the hour was

Surely a sad thing for a church clock to speak so falsely; yet who could blame the warden for not climbing the tower on the holy Sabbath to see what ailed the faithful

So all day the clock looked out upon the city and said to the people that the hour was clock that still, in the night, stared down upon the city saying that the hour was twelve.

Alone in his grim library sat the good man. His face was wan and haggard and his eyes gleamed feverishly through the gathering

Sore was the struggle in his heart as the

our grew nigh.

Why should he lift his voice and cry out that as the midnight settled down a soul would be hurled into eternity—a soul but lately turned into the path that leads to God soul laden with sins yet unatoned.

Why should he cry out this thing—no stain of blood would be upon his hands; the guilt would all lie across the door of those two who now—even now were creeping softly to their victim's pillow.

The cold drops started to the good man's why should he cry out? For-ad-yet why should he cry out? Fortune, fame, love, all would be his if this life ere taken from his path—this life he hated; this life of his one foe on earth-this life of the man who stood between him and gold, en him and glory, and between him and the fair love of the woman he hungered for.

The good man groaned aloud in his anguish. He cried to God that he would have lived in patience his dark, crippled life, nor raised a hand against this man who even stood between him and the light, but nownow that to hold back the cry of warning was all the sin needed to rid him of his foe, his tongue clove to his mouth and he could not make the sound.

Then came the ringing of a thousand harsh bells in his ears, and with a shriek of terror at the awful guilt upon him, he fled forth to save the man he hated.

But, Lo! Down upon the sleeping city stared the lying clock, and said to all that the

Too late! Too late! Too late! The good man recled against the old stone wall that circled the little space the patient dead lay in, and knew that all was over.

Now, too, he knew that on him-on him. alone—lay all the guilt and not upon the hands that even now were reeking with the rarm blood of the newly murdered man.

Then all turned black before the good man's eyes. He thought of the awful life stretched out before him; of the hateful gold that would crush him with its guilty weight; of the eyes of that one woman that would rest upon him and tear his secret from him, to blast their brightness from them for ever, and the good man could not find strength within his soul to bear his punishment. Staggering, blinded, muttering half prayers, he sought the dark bed where guilt still hopes to find repose.

The lying clock stared down and saw a white face drift up through the water, and a suicide's soul fled into eternity, even as the bells tolled the hour the false clock so long had pointed to.

Even at that moment was foul murder done, -foul murder that those blue, dead lips might still have stopped-two souls took on eves the curse of Cain to bear it in the end before their Maker, into black eternity; was hurried forth a soul, weighted with crimes unatoned, whose hour for salvation might have been granted by the warning cry the good man's voice might still have given, when it was hushed forever.

Up in the steeple six little mice lie dead for lack of the care the poor little mouse that was crushed in the wheels of the great clock

"Justice is God's law and God's law rules the universe."

Alas! that some voice might have warned the preacher how the fall of his white hand would prove the words! E. V. S.

DR. HOUGHTON'S REQUEST.

Three theatres in New York closed their doors on Good Friday night. These were the Madison Square, Lyceum and Daly's. All other places of amusement were open as usual, but assurance has been given Dr. Houghton by several managers that a year hence they will be glad to accede to his request, which this time came too late to be acted upon.

Dr. Houghton will be pleased to learn, from the following letter, that his wishes were observed by the management of a theatre some distance from the city:

To the Editor of The Dramatic Mirror:

Sin: In compliance with a request in your paper from the pastor of the Little Church Around the Corner, Rand's Opera House remained closed on Good Priday, and the management have so arranged that the entire week will be closed next year.

Yours truly.

SECRETARY RAND'S OPERA HOUSE.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR. MR. WHEELER ENTERS A DENIAL.

New York, April 23, 1880. To the Editor of the Dramatic Mirror:

Sik.—The well-meant builetin, first published by The Munor and since reproduced in every shape that fancy can devise, to the effect that i am witing a play for Tommy Russell needs this correction: I am not.
I should be proud to do so, were I able.
The desire is strong, but the material is weak. On my honor, I am not writing a play for Tommy Russell.

GLEANINGS

TELEGRAMS from Bangor, Me., where Jed routy was produced by Rich and Harris on londay night, announce that the play has ade a success far beyond the expectations of a managers. Richard Golden's creation of

THE AMATEUR STAGE.

GLEANINGS.

THE AMATEUR STAGE.

A NOTABLE PERFORMANCE.

The eighteenth season of the Amaranth Dramatic so dongly might, announce that the play has agade a success far beyond the expectations of the managers. Alchard Golden's creation of 2M Jel is pronounced a great characterization.

CASALES P. HALL, who was formerly used to the control of the process of the process and had been in the theirical process of the process of t see that will march with his G. A. R. post, the U. S. Grant, of Brooklyn. The irist half of Mr. Nobles' season was very large—the remaining half only fair. The general average of business was a little better than during the preceding two years. Mr. Nobles' season was very large with the preceding two years. Mr. Nobles' season was a little better than during the preceding two years. Mr. Nobles' season was a little better than during the preceding two years. Mr. Nobles' season was a little better than during the preceding two years. Mr. Nobles' season was a little better than during the preceding two years. Mr. Nobles' season was a little better than during the preceding two years. Mr. Nobles' season was a little better than during the preceding two years. Mr. Nobles' season was a little better than during the preceding two years. Mr. Nobles' season was a little better than during the preceding two years. Mr. Nobles' season was a little better than during the preceding two years. Mr. Nobles' season was a little better than during the preceding two years. Mr. Nobles' season was a little better than during the preceding two years. Mr. Nobles' supply company, for the Academy of Music. When the curtain fell on the last scene it marked the close of the succepts while the season. The opera was well staged, handsomity continued and capably sung, but the business manager of the Academy of Music. When the curtain fell on the last scene it marked the close of the season. The spear was well staged, handsomity continued and capably sung, but the business and the continued and capably sung, but the business and the continued and capably sung, but the last scene it marked the close of the season. The supper and the season. The spear and the continued that the last scene it marked the close of the season. The supplies and the leading and sympathetic relations of the different characters are therefore entirely lost. This was the often failing and any musine the same thanked the disson the last scene it marked the close of the Ma

Miss Dell Thempson, the clever recitationist and nateur actress, was the recipient of a testimonial neert in Brooklyn on last Saturday evening, scal amateurs furnished considerable talent to a

This (Wednesday) evening. Miss Fanny Rorke will be tendered a testimonial benefit at the Brooklyn Athenaum. The four-act comedy, School, will be presented and the following well-known ladies and gentlemen have kindly volunteered their services for the occasion: Messrs. McCanill, F. Wellanders, McCanill, McCani

Edith Leuf.

The Irving Dramatic Club will produce Everybody's Friend at the Warner Institute May I, with the following cast: Felix Featherly, Brace Brown; Mr. Icebrook, Clement B. Asbury, Major Wellington De Boots, Charles Dunthorn; Coachman, Frank A. Hall; Gardner, Charles Appleton; Trap, John Flagg; Mrs. Featherly, Miss Jennie Morgan; Mrs. Major Wellington De Boots, Miss Georgia Robbins; Mrs. Sandown, Miss L. Kornder and Fanny Cook, Miss Ada Appleton.

Mayor Chapinand wife and Gen. Stewart L. Woodford were among the distinguished audience that witnessed the Amaranth's production of The World.

The Banker's Daughter will be produced April 100 witnessed the Amaranth's production of The World.

The Banker's Dangblar will be produced April jo at the Lexington Avenue Opera House. The occasion is a Centennial entertainment in aid of All Saints Church of Harlem. The cast, composed of leading amateurs of New York and Brooklyn, will be as follows: Lawrence Westbrook, H. Gardner; John Strebelow, J. T. Brennan; Count de Carojac, I. C. Costello; George Washington Phipps, A. J. Macaulay; Harold Rutledge, Frank Rogers; Babage, E. O. Jacobsen; Montvillas, T. A. Quislan; Lilian Westbrook, Nelly Punchard; Mrs. Brown, Lizzie Wallace; Aunt Fanny Halcomb, Jennie Cochrane; Lizzette, A. Fransioli.

The Amateur Philharmonic Society will give an

The Amateur Philharmonic Society will give an anniversary musicale and reception at the New York Macnuercher Hall next Saturday evening. A. M. Taylor will give a recital with an orchestra accompaniment of forty pieces headed by Hugo Neumann.

The chorus of the Amateur Opera Association at their last rehearsal of The Mascotte presented the society's secretary, Frank I. Waller, with a hand-some cherry-wood rocking chair as a mark of esteem and appreciation.

A. R. Hart, the popular President of the Amar-nths, has been renominated for that position and here is no doubt expressed of his re-election. R. V. Buttle is slated for the office of Vice-President.

M. Buttle is stated for the office of Vice-President.
It is pretty well understood that Mark Mayer will be re-elected to the position of Dramatic Chairman of the Amaranths. Mr. Mayer has proved himself at efficient chairman and the experience of one season will undoubtedly be of great advantage to him should be continue in his position. He will have the following gentlemen to assist him: I. Fisher, Dr. T.
A. Quinlan, S. G. Acton and Charles Bellows, Jr.

Early in May the annual banquet of the Amar-nth Society to its dramatic corps will occur. Mayor chapin and ex-Lieutenant-Governor S. I. Woodruff have signified their intention to be present, and will respond to toasts.

The Booth Society is said to be in a very bad way financially. The performance they had scheduled for May 1, has been abandoned, and nothing more will be heard of the society until next senson, when they hope to get firmly on their feet again.

St. Francis Dramatic Society will produce an original melodrama, The Suspects, written by one of the Brothers attached to St. Francis College, at the Brooklyn Academy of Music, April 29.

the Brook'yn Academy of Music, April 29.

Bertha Belle Westbrook will make her debut at the Olympic Theatre, St. Louis, on May 20, in Lady Andley's Secret. Miss' Westbrook is one of the leading amateurs of St. Louis, and intends making the stage her profession. The cast is as follows: Sir Michael. Audley, Thomas Garrick; Robert Audley, Arundel Downes; George Talbays, C. Ed. Roesch; Luke Marks, Edward M. Gay; Alicia Audley, Delia Casey, Phoebe Marks, Louise Murray; Lady Audley, Bertha B. Westbrook.

Marsden's furcical comedy. Cheek, is to be produced.

Marsden's farcical comedy, Cheek, is to be produced at the Athenaeum May 9, for the benefit of a local church. G. T. Janorin will play the leading charac-

E. M. Crotty has been redected to the office of President of the Davenport Society.

A new comedy, is Marriage a Failure, will be played at the Brooklyn Athenaeum April 2 by the Davenports as their last performance.

LETTER LIST.

The following latters aroust their owners at this office. The will be delivered or forwarded on personal or written application Letters advocated for od any and maculate for mad be returned the post-office. Circulars and new papers excluded from this list the post office. Co

"America"
Alsteng, Celia
Asseing, Henry
Alsten, Soi
Amold, Harvie
Anderson, W. C.
Abell, Floride
Anderson, W. C.
Abell, Floride
Ashton, W. M.
Andrews, C. L.
Burler, Mrs. L.
Boyle, Anna
Burroughs, Nora
Borroughs, Nora
Borroughs, Nora
Borrough, Nora
Borrough, Nora
Borrough, Nora
Borrough, Carrie
Sectuard, Fanny
Brown, Wat
Bowers, F. B.
Burton, Clast
Bloke, Harold Fortester, Mr.
Fairbaire, R.
Fairbaire, R.
Fisher, D. P.
Fraser, K.
Gilbert, Miss
Gaic, Geo
Gardiner, C. R.
Guern, Clay
Gunter, A. C.
Gillette, Win
Goodwin, E. S.
Gardiner, C. R.
Goodwin, E. S.
Gardiner, C. R.
inker, M. don Modieska, Mme. Marbourg, Miss D. Marbourg, Miss D.

(1982)
Mg r After Dack Co.

Miorles, Walter
Mayer, Marcus
McAllister, Phosa
Macder, F. G.

Mathews, Brander
Mct. all, Lizzie
Marks, Ted Dr.

"Manager C."
McIntosh, Eurr
Mc Vannara, J. M.
Mg i rrank Daniels
Necson, P. Gillert, Miss Fay Granam, B. R. Gilman, Ada Guidiner, F. M. Grath, J. W. IN THE COURTS.

MANAGER JACK WIST THE HILV CLAY SUTT.

Manager Samuel T. Jack has been at war for several years past with another manager over the use Last week judge lagraham, of the Supreme Court, was asked to continue an injunction nestraining Mr. Jack has been at war for several years past with another manager over the use Last week judge lagraham, of the Supreme Court, was asked to continue an injunction nestraining Mr. Jack has been at war for several years past with another manager over the use Last week judge lagraham, of the Supreme Court, was asked to continue an injunction nestraining Mr. Jack has been at war for several years past with another manager has a person of that mane in the injunction of the suprement of t Galdnar, K. M.
Garanger, Mand
Beard, Benj. C.
Howard, Miss.
Hart, Josech
Bearden, Wm.
Hart, Josech
Berbert, Francis
Hasse, J. W.
Herbert, Francis
Hasse, J. W.
Howard, Banison
Hill, Gro. A.
Herbert, Francis
Herbert, Francis
Herbert, Francis
Homes, J. W.
Howard, Banison
Hill, Gro. A.
Herbert, Francis
Herbert, Francis
Herbert, Francis
Herbert, Francis
Homes, J. W.
Howard, Banison
Hill, Gro. A.
Herbert, Francis
Herbert, Francis
Herbert, Francis
Herbert, Francis
Herbert, Francis
Homes, J. H.
Hoshone, Fall
Hoshon, J. E.
Lander, Harry
Learner, J. M.
Marticel, Banish
Norris, Lillian B.
Norris, J. M.
Norris, Lillian B.
Norri Grath, J. W.
Granger, Maed
freed, Benj C.
Huwand, Miss.
Hugden, Wm.
Hart, Joseph
Metro, Jemis A.
Hudson, Robert
Hass, J. W.
Herbert, Freeds
Hasses, J. H.
Hasses, SchisHoward, Banson
Hill, Gree A.
Heward Jen.
Howard Jen.
Joe.
Joe.

MATTERS OF FACT.

Gabrielle Du Sauld, wit vill be at liberty after Ju Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Dust

Letters for James Owen O'Conor may bressed care Actors' Fund, 145 Pifth Avenue

Manager R. C. Middleton, of Sweetser's Ope House at Marion, Ind., will receive applications to open time after July a. Ferris Hartman, comedian with the Conried Open company, will be at liberty after April sp.

The Noss Pamily is appearing in a new a arce, by Frank Dumont, entitled A Quick Ma Kate Singleton, first old woman and charactisengaged.

Manager F. M. Taylor of the Academy of M. Newburgh, N. Y., is now looking for the of 1889-90.

The new Summer theatre at Paducah, Ky., ready to open on June 1. Address Manager Quigley at Paducah.

Every branch of the theatrical business is re-sented at Winnett's Amusement Exchange, Broadway. The plays of the late Prank Chan-including The Octoroon as well as plays for brettes and emotional actresses, can be see through Winnett's Amusement Exchange.

Mrs. Harry Bloodgood, the comedienne with acation company, will be at liberty on May 1. J. H. Gilmour is at liberty for senson of 1889-90.

Inc. Girnolar is at hoerry for senson or fure Kiralfy will make arrangements wi-sible managers for the rights to produce t-ing spectacular plays on royalties, with e-complete outfit: Enchantment, Ratcatch Venus, Trip to the Moon, Sieba, Delug Strogoff and Mazulm. Address Imre I West Washington Square, New York.

The suit brought for an injunction to rest Manager Sam T. Jack from using the title I Clay's Colossal Gaiety company, was decided week by Judge Ingraham, of the Supreme Courthe State of New York, in favor of Mr. Jack. decision is a personal victory for Mr. Jack. claims to have first suggested the title of the I Clay Colossal Gaiety company. He is said to I worked hard in bringing that organization up to present standard.

Lizzie St. Quinten, who has been engaged.

Lizzie St. Quinten, who has been eng Daly's Theatre during the past three years prove an acquisition to any company that thoroughly equipped artist. Miss Quinten excellent voice, and many who heard her was starring in comic opera would be glad her return to that line of work.

The popular author and singing come Dresser, who has been the principal co three seasons with the Two Johns comp liberty for season of 1880-90. His addre 842 Broadway, New York.

DIGBY BELL. LEADING COMEDIAN.

LAURA JOYCE-BELL.

Prima Donna Contralto and Leading Comedy Roles.

Having resigned from the McCaull Opera-company, to the effect May 1, are READY TO NEGOTIATE with responding managers for the Summer and the ensuing season of 1881-00.

MARGARET MATHER

Globe Theatre, London.

MR. MANSFIELD AND HIS OWN COMPANY In consequence of his London success Mr. Mansfield's rei to America is postponed until 1890. MR. E. D. PRICE, Manage

THE LATE

Jno. T. Raymond's Plays.

MILTON NOBLES "SHOP TALK

Will Shortly Appear.

MRS. HARRY BLOODGOOD. Comedienne.

VIRGIE VANE - in - VACATION.

AT LIBERTY MAY L

Address Agents, or Mauran Farm, North Conway, N. H.

Milton Nobles

May be addressed after May 1 at his residence, No. 130 First Place, Brooklyn, N. Y.

WARNING.

It having come to our notice that several unacrupulous parties are threatened to produce plagianzed versions of the following

The Ivy Lorf. The Fairy's Well, Loch-na-Mar and Granansille,
Or plays with titles colorably imitating the above, we take this method of notifying all reputable managers throughout the United States and Canada that the sole and exclusive proprietar of these plays is WILLIAM H. POWER,

And that we shall take animary legal proceedings against any person artempting to perform any of Mr. Fower's plays, and prosecutes on person to the utmost rape of the law.

HOWE & HUMMEL, Attorneys-ut-Law, N. V. City.

WANTED.

Fredessional Tenor to sing and art rule of Thaddeus-Pohe Girl-for numeror opera troope, two nights in June, 1869. Address Manager C., care Danmarse Minn

DIVORCES-A. GOODRICH, Amorney-at-Law, 138 Dear-born Street, Chicago; advice free; 21 years' experience business quirtly and legally transacted.

SAMUEL J. BROWNE.
Disengaged. Leading Business.
Address 911 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa. THOMAS GARRICK.

Starring. Address 0.01 Locust Street, St. Louis.

WALTER PERKINS.
Cornedian At liberty.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Are you insured against accidents? A opaid professional card, of ten lines or re, in Tue Deamarsc Meeses, gives you a THE DRAMATIC MIRROR, gives you a policy in the Preferred Mutual at Association of New York, free of

there are changes all around. At the Minutrels have given place to Lewis Mor-nt, a spectacular presentation of the fa not more so than Irving's, try is at the Globs, the stage of which has accepted by Rice and Diney's Pearl of

SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO.

Bright Variation of Specialty count, was of the same of the work of the Property of Section.

San Span, the rotate and good entered may of the Property of Section.

San Span, the rotate and good entered may of the Property of Section.

San Span, the rotate and good entered may of the Property of Section.

San Span, the rotate and good entered may of the Property of Section of Section.

San Span, the rotate and good entered may of the Property of Section of Sec

Jennie Calar in an ... This week Three Years in prospanyly's Theatre. This week Three Years are the Property of the Arms of the Property of th tipley, treasurer, and C. H. Mest, of the People's Thestre, have le as. In addition to the levy Leaf as will make up a dramstic and the Arthur Cambridge reports a toosal dramstic circles. A numage made up—Last week being afters missed many familiar faces boxes.—Gracie Murray, the little manager of Grenier's Circus, reof carbolic acid over herself and of that she will die.—Harry Hamow York with a pocietiful of conment assaon at the Grand Opera have Henderson says his Sunprogressing finely and will be a has a small army of men and drig progressies. There will not hand thing in it.

e Opera on in-Musicteers and steers and The Barling and Jamie Grey merit montion.

Ind admirable councily work as Ko-Ko, and accurate oversacted, was in the well done. The chorus is quite well contains some excellent voices. The it co. which has been restiny here for rill play a return engagement at the west communing as. This co. is an average been "maternally strengthened." I thing, as originally it was for the play a return of the contains the c

At the Control Tuestre Starry Remails on played to the Academy of the Academy of the Tuestre Starry Remails on the Tuestre Sta

The Black Crook holds the boards at the Academy of Black Crook holds the boards at the Academy of Black this week.

ITEMS: The New York Heraid's critic'am of Kate Charlon's performance in The Sea of Ice at the Grand Opera House last week was fully a preciated by the Brooklyn readers of that paper. But the Sea of Ice was not played at all during the engagement.

John P. Smith will have a benefit at the Park Theatre afternoon of 25.—Brown, the "mind reader," appeared at the Grand Opera House on Sunday evening.—Barnum is in town for a week, and large business in a matter of course.—Von Bulow's farewell Baptist Church on Saturday evening.

BROOKLYN, E. D.

OKLYN, E. D.

my next week.

us Hill's Specialty co. to packed houses at the nd Theatre. Ineatre. ley Campbell's Pate drew fairly well at the BALTIMORE.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

The American Opera co. is drawing good houses at Albangh's though the co., as a whole, is far from strong, Limie MacNichol, a Washington girl, among the best, and has been been warmly received. Her Laurillo in Maritana, on Tuesday evening, was a pleasing performance and she received quantities of flowers. Poarl of Pekin 2s, Harry Lee 2s.

Jim the Penman to tolerably good houses at the National. He, She, Him, Her 2s. Lydia Thompson

Sational. He, She, Him, Her at. Lydin Thompson and the Main Line is very successful at Harris. True brish Hearts at.

Blake's Equine Paradon at Kernan's m.

Blake's Equine Paradon at Kernan's m.

Braws: Rha closed a very good engagement powith a fine performance of Adrienne Lecostyreur Mrs. R. a. Hitt invited a few distinguished persons to meet Rhia Sunday afternoon. Will M. Dell. Rhia's treasurer, resigned to go into business in New York.—Miss Lettin Aldrich, of one of the him the Penman co's., is here visiting her cousin. Mrs. I. de Romero.—Mrs. Mary E. Latey, of St. Louis, well-known in musical circles, is visiting Mrs. General Crook at the Ebbitt. She spent an evaning at the White House and ang several selections for Mrs. Harrison and a few friends.—M'lle De Nogueiras, assisted by Signor Del Puente and the Wagner Society in concert at National Rifes Hall az under distinguished patronage.—Vida Croly, the Mrs. Chapsione of Jim the Penman co., has been apending the week with Mrs. W. P. Morse. She was 'at home' Priday afternoon to a goodly number of callers who would be pleased to see her in some more important part than the one she has.—The National Opera.c. appear in a "accred" concert Sunday night at Albangh's.

JERSEY CITY.

McKee Rankin and on played The Runaway Wife at the Academy of Music last week. The story of the play is commonplace and in told in a weak and insfectual manner. The on was reasonably good, and the business only fair. This week Joseph Murphy in The Kerry Gow.

ARKANSAS

ELAND.—OARLAND THEATRE (A. W. Stilmanager): The Musin Concert co. was greeted large and fashionable house 8. Jeffreys Lewis d Astray for a week to small business 9.

AMGELES.—GRAND OPER HOUSE (Harry yatt, manager): Willard Spenser's Little Typlayed to a very large house all week.—Los ites Theatres (Harry C. Wvatt, manager): enefit of the Elks of this city occurred 7 and a dhouse was the result. One act of Chas Bas-The Drummer's Life was given and several selections, including numbers by members of little Tycoon co.

BARBARA SANTA BARBARA THE-willian Mengel, manager): This theatre will defor a month, while undergoing a thorough ing and complete remodeling.

COLORADO.

o springs.—Opera House (S. N. Nye, Conried's English Opera co. presented Fool to a large and well-pleased audi-

ER.—Panny Davenport's La Tosca engagehich clo sed 1s, was one of the notable weeks story of the Tabor, both financially and arMins Davenport's Floris was enquisite and owell's Scarpia excellent. The remainder pport was good. Conried Opera co. in The food orans to-night. Kate Castleton next.
trained dogs crowded the Daver theatre nights week of 8.—ITEMS: F. MacCuinext and his part of Mario was played by Roberts. The latter's part of Angellotti m by Arthur A. Lotto.—On the opening the Davenport engagement nearly $1,500 in in at the box-office.

RISE OPERA House A.

RIME DOX-OFFICE.

RIME OFFICA HOUSE (E. C. Rice, manlon's Uncle Tom's Cabin co. opened to to of house, S. R. O. being displayed by —OPENING: The Wheeler Grand will h inst. with The King's Fool. All sents
The theatre will be satisfactory to delayer.

CONNECTICUT.

ITFORD.—HARTFORD OPERA HOUSE (Jacobs router, managers): Hasel Kirke, with the vet-Couldock, m-13, did a fairly good business, rat production of this play was at this house, it was tried on the provincial canine under sme of The iron Will. Mrs. Langtry drew a house 13. The audience, however, was very constrative. The piece presented—The Lady ons—had much to do with this, as every star has this play in repertoire seems always to ut it here, and much regret was expressed that play more popular had not been selected by Lungtry.—ACADEMY of Music (Ward and r, managers): Dixey, with the everpleasing its, packed the house for the second time this its.

WICH.—OPERA HOUSE (Andrews and Har-nagers): Dixey in Adonis 13 to a large and based audience.

bletown.—McDonough Opera House Colegrove, proprietor): Harbor Lights to a Colegrove, proprietor): Harbor Lights to a house 25.

RRINGTON.—OPERA HOUSE (F. R. Matthews, cor): Lilly Rowley in Ingomar 48; Miss Rew-Parthenia was highly appreciated by the well-house. Support first-class.

BOEFORT.—HAWE'S OPERA HOUSE (R. isses, manager); The Wife co. returned 15; attendance. Murray and Murphy furnished oment for a large audience 16.—PROCTOR'S OFFICE AND OFFICE AND AND THE WIBUR OPERA CONSIDERATION OF THE WIBUR OPERA OF THE AND ADDITION OF THE WIBUR OPERA CONSIDERATION OF THE WIBUR OPERATION OF THE WIBUR OPERA OPERATION OF THE WIBUR OPERATION OPERATION OF THE WIBUR OPERATION OPERATI well-chosen remarks, thanked his new spaper friends for the honor bestowed upon him, and amid great applause made a rapid exit.—Edward Trail for the past season manager of Jefferson and Proctor's Hasel Kirke co, will return to his old against a sticket agent for the Brighton Beach Rastroad.—Willie Walling, late of Wilson's Minstrels and now resting at his home in this city, will fill a week's-engagement at Tony Pastor's Theatre 2n.—F. P. Proctor, while on his way to Boston, stopped off here 17.—The proposed benefit for the Elks 25 has been given up as they were unable to secure the attraction they wanted.

DAKOTA.

SIOUX PALLS GRAND OPERA HOUSE (S. M. car, manager): Due: Coup's Horses 23-26.

DELAWARE.

TLE 19GTON.—GRAND OPERA House (Proctor and Soulier, managers): Kidder's musical skit, C. O. D., was presented tast to fairly good houses. John Wild in Running Wild followed to fair business 19.

— Tren: Lent interfered considerably with business bere, but Manager Soulier has some good things in store, which will make a boom in business. The mass will be continued until early in June.

ILLINOIS.

QUINCY.—OPERA HOUSE (Dr. P. A. Marks, man-cert: Little Nugget attracted a large audience ra-he performance was heartily enjoyed by all. Ste-on's Uncle Tom's Cabin played to a big house 17.

CAIRO.—OPERA HOUSE (Sol. A. Silver, manager):
Love and Law drew well 15.
PREEPORT.—GERMANIA HALL (H. J. Mosegk, manager): Buchanan Comedy co. 13-13 to good husimess. J. R. Little's World co. to a poor house 18.
Good performance.

JR. — SMITH'S OPERA HOUSE (P. W. mager): Gorman's Minstrels gave a very mance to a good house 13. Stetson's Uncle n packed the house 15. The performance all satisfaction.

LINCOLN.—GILLETT'S OPERA HOUSE (R. C. nawell, manager): Florence Hamilton in reperire, week of 15 to good business.—ITEM: The pera House will be closed for extensive repairs appeared to a good house DM gasfactory entertainment 15.

STERLING.—WALLACE OPERA HOUSE (Lawrie Brothers, managers): The Gorman's spectacular minatrels opened the Opera House 4 to a crowded house, giving entire satisfaction.—ACADEMY OF MUSIC: Johnson and Slavin's Minstrels to a good house and entire satisfaction to. Little's World to poor business 12; fair entertainment.

INDIANA.

INDIANAPOLIS.—GRAND OPERA HOUSE (Dickson and Talbott, managers): Hoyt's Hole in the Ground was well presented to good houses 11-12. Nellie McHenry, supported by competent people, occupied the house with a poor play the first three nights of last week.—PARK THEATRE (Dickson and Talbott, managers): P. F. Baker in The Emigrant proved to be a big drawing card all week.

MEW ALBANY.—NEW ALBANY OPERA HOUSE John Harbeson, manager): House dark this week. Due: Joseph Murphy May a. — ITEM: As this Opera House was not opened until late this season Manager Harbeson has not been able to secure many good attractions but is now rapidly filling dates for pext season.

Opera House was not opened until late this season Manager Harbeson has not been able to secure many good attractions but is now rapidly filling dates for pext season.

LA PAYETTE.—GRAND OPERA HOUSE (George A. Dickson, manager): Uncle Tom's Cabin to fair business 12. Philippi Salvini gave four exhibitions of trained animals to light business 15, 16. Gorman's Minstrels pleased a good audience 17.

CRAWFORDSVILLE.—MUSIC HALL (Leslie Davis, lessee and manager): Gorman's Spectacular Minstrels to a good house 16 giving an excellent entertainment.—PEOPLE'S THEATRE (Miller and Richmond, lessees and managers): House dark all week. Due: Chicago Opera co. 25-27.

PORT WAYNE.—MASONIC TEMPLE (J. H. Simonson, manager): Stewart's Fat Men's Club delighted a fair andience 12. Baidwin Comedy co. is doing splendid basiness this week.

WARION.—SWEETSER'S OPERA HOUSE (E. L. Rimmerman, manager): J. S. Murphy in The Kerry Gow played to a good house 15. I. C. Stewart presented his new musical comedy. The Fat Men's Club to a good sized and enthusiastic andience 16. It is the brightest comedy we have had here this season.—ITEM: Manager Stewart of the Fat Men's Club reports business as being excellent. He sends his regards to the DRAMATIC MIRROR.

MICHIGAN CITY—OPERA HOUSE (Weiler and Leist, managers): Herbert and Eastman's Chicago Comic Opera co. played three nights opening 17 with La Mascotte giving splendid satisfaction.

LOGANSPORT.—OPERA HOUSE (William Dolan manager): J. C. Stewart's Fat Men's Club enter tained a fair sized audience 15. Gorman's Minstrels played to a good house at Satisfactory performance.

RICHMOND.—PHILLIPS' OPERA HOUSE (G.W. P. Jackson, acting manager): Gus Williams in Keppler's Fortunes 12 to good business. Rose Hill's Novelty co. to fair business with a poor entertainment. J. C. Stewart's Fat Men's Club to an average house 18.

IOWA.

DUBUQUE.—OPERA HOUSE (Duncan and Waller, managers): J. Z. Little's World co. to fair business 17. The co. is an excellent one and gave the best of satisfaction.—ITEMS: Last week there was a meeting at the Board of Trade rooms, of prominent citizens for the purpose of forming a stock co. to build a new opera house. They elected officers and the outlook for the enterprise is very favorable.—Beatrice Lieb is spending a short vacation with her parents in this city.

CEDAR PAPIDS.—(AREFNE'S (F. A. Summons.)

OSKALOOSA. MASONIC OPERA HOUSE (G. N. Beechler, manager): Little Nugget pleased a good audience to.

MUSCATINE.—TURNER OPERA HOUSE (Barney Schmidt managers: House dark this week. Gor-man's Minstrels played to a good house 16. Audi-ence well satisfied. WATERLOO. BROWN'S OPERA HOUSE (C. Brown, manager): House dark. Mrs. Alice Shaw MARSHALLTOWN. -THE ODEON (A. Glick, manager: The Shadows of a Great City played to one of the best houses of the season ra. They were

KANSAS.

LEAVENWORTH. - CRAWFORD'S OPERA HOUSE L. M. Crawford, managers: Due: The Bon Ton Opera co. week of 22.

PARSONS. EDWARDS' OPERA HOUSE (C. M. ohnson, managers; Due: Clara Louise Kellogg

beauthories of the second of t

STREATOR.—PLUM DIERA HOUSE (J. E. Williams, manager): Charles A Gardner to in airs new romantic comedy Fatheriand, good business.

SPRINGFIELD.—CHATTERION'S OPERA HOUSE (J. E. Williams, manager): May Bretonne co, next presented Caprice, Hoodman Blind and Romany Ry to fair sized audience, at ten, twenty and thirty cents.

SHELBYVILLE.—OPERA HOUSE (Philip Parker, manager): House dark since March 5. Will resopen their Topeka interests.—Manager Crawford has again to take a personal look at their Topeka interests.—Manager Crawford has again to take a personal look at their Topeka interests.—Manager Crawford has found time during the past season to creet a block of brick flats with stores under them on his property is said now to be all rented and paying a part the corner of Monroe and Flith Avenue. This property is said now to be all rented and paying a part of Monroe and Flith Avenue. This property is said now to be all rented and paying a part of Monroe and Flith Avenue. This property is said now to be all rented and paying a part of Monroe and Flith Avenue. This property is said now to be all rented and paying a part of Monroe and Flith Avenue. This property is said now to be all rented and paying a part of Monroe and Flith Avenue. This property is said now to be all rented and paying a part of Monroe and Flith Avenue. The co., is the owner of a block in Fort Scott, Kansas, in addition in the future of Kansas and as we are in the same boat, "here's success to the week.

WESTPIELD.—OPERA HOUSE (P. W. Howe, manager): OPERA HOUSE (P. W. Howe, manager): OPERA HOUSE (D. W. Howe, manager): The private Secretary delighted a large and note of the week.

WESTPIELD.—OPERA HOUSE (P. W. Howe, manager): OPERA HOUSE (

DANVILLE.—GRAND OPERA House (William Stewart, manager: Stetson's Unde Tom 12 to standing room. Entertainment satisfactory. If the Second of the Boyse-Purison has closed for the season. He reperts good business and will open in July at Galesburg.

GALESBURG.—New Order House W F.

GALESBURG.—New Order House W F.

Mills according to open and according the business rich Militan Nobles, who is an old Padulland to span lide to open the season. He reperts good business rich Militan Opera House, has just completed a beautiful factor of the season.

MAINE.

BRUNSWICK.—Town HALL (E. A. Crawford, manager): Little Lord Fauntleroy to splendid business at advanced prices 15.

PORTLAND.—THEATRE: Margaret Mather drew guod audiences 5, 6, and gave creditable performances of The Honeymoon and Romeo and Juliet. Support good. The Madison Square co. in The Private Secretary with a very clever cast amused two large houses 14, 13. The Dalys in Vacation played to a good-sized house 15 and met with an enthusiastic welcome. Little Lord Fauntleroy played, a return engagement 19, 20, and gave there performances of this charming play to fine audiences.—CLIP HALL: Haverly-Cleveland Minstrels played to a big house of and gave the finest minstrel show of the season.—ITEM: Manager Knowlton has secured that irrepressible comedian, Ben Lodge, for his Summer season at Greenwood Garden.

SKOWHEGAN.—COBURN HALL (E. C. Haselton, manager): The Private Secretary 15 played to the smallest house of the season. Performance unsatisfactory.

BANGOR.—OPERA HOUSE (Frank A. Owen, man-

BANGOR.—OPERA HOUSE (Frank A. Owen, manager): Haverly-Cleveland Minstrels to large business 15. The Frivate Secretary to light business 16, 17; general satisfaction.

MARYLAND.

CUMBERLAND.—ACADEMY OF MUSIC (H. W. Williamson, manager): Fleming's Around the World in Eighty Days to a packed house 17. Performance rather unnational properties.

MASSACHUSETTS.

MASSACHUSETTS.

SPRINGPIELD.—GILMORE'S OPERA HOUSE (W. G. Lenoir, manager; Have fair business to report for holy week. Murray and Murphy were Our Irish Visitors, and their free-and-easy skit went off like a rocket 15. Mrs. Langtry's engagement in The Lady of Lyons 16 was not a great success. Her Pauline was of a conventional type and Mr. Coghlan far from an ideal Claude. The support, Prederick Everill excepted, was bad. We caught our first gleam of Harbor Lights 17. Twas a little too English for our tastes. Gustavus Levick spouts the sentimental platitudes of Lieut, Kingsley well. Julia Stewart makes a most sympathetic Dora. Luke Martin and Nina Boucicault carry the comedy parts splendidly. Two Old Cronies 18. Wills and Henshaw are a great team. Josie Domaine made a very favorable impression.—UNDERCURREN: Murray and Murphy state that the report that their contract ends with J. M. Hill this Spring is incorrect; it has still two seasons to run. They open at the Union Square June 27. They have two new farcical pieces, Irish Jubblee and A Scandal in High Life. The Elks entertained their company after the performance.—Mrs. Langtry while here, was seized between the acts with a sudden indisposition, an outcome of her recent illness. A physician in the audience was called to her aid. She managed with a great effort, to finish the performance.—Gustavus Levick, the leading man of the Harbor Lights co. went to New York on last Saturday to visit his family but in returning on Monday missed connection in this city. He was forced to charter an extra train for $15 to carry him to Holyoke, ten miles up the river, in time for the curtain.—Property man George W. Reed of the Harbor Lights co. is a brother of Roland Reed.—Apropos of Lawrence Marston's belief in the magic thirteen, Manager Anderson of Two Old Cronies says there were thirteen people in his co. last season.—Max Borter, musical director of the Wilbur Opena co., was prostrated here with pleurisy 13.—Mrs. W. H. Kohlne, wile of the comedian, is wielding the baton during parents in this city.

CEDAR RAPIDS.—GREENE'S (F. A. Summons, manager): Johnson and Slavin's Minstreis to light business 12.

BOORE.—PHIPPS THEATRE (C. E. Phipps proprietor): House hark works of a great from the business 12.

BOORE.—PHIPPS THEATRE (C. E. Phipps proprietor): House hark works of a great from the business 12.

BOORE.—PHIPPS THEATRE (C. E. Phipps proprietor): House hark works as Essentials —PENG work as Essentials —PENG works for an English tour in company with his wife, works 12.

BOORE.—PHIPPS THEATRE (C. E. Phipps proprietor): House hark works as Essentials —PENG work as Essentials —PENG works for an English tour in company with his wife, works the business 12.

BOORE.—PHIPPS THEATRE (C. E. Phipps proprietor): House hark works as Essentials —PENG works for an English tour in company with his wife, works for an English tour in company with his wife, works for an English tour in company with his wife, works for an English tour in company with his wife, works for an English tour in company with his wife, works for an English tour in company with his wife, works for an English tour in company with his wife, works for an English tour in company with his wife, works for an English tour in company with his wife, works for an English tour in company with his wife, works for an English tour in company with his wife, works for an English tour in company with his wife, works for a term of light company works for a term of light Coming as the did not he hast two days of Lent may have had something to the business were rather light. Coming as the did not he hast two days of Lent may have had something to the property of good business well as the beginn to the property of good business well beginn. As the Wilbur Operaco, play all beginn to the property of good business and gave entire actisfactory performances. The business for a term of eight years.

Lower for the Abourt Opera too, returned past week the hard works and the property of the business works and past of the business works and past of the business

West, manager): Minriay and Murphy to a large house 12. The Dallys in Vacation 6 to a good house. Local Minstreis 24.

LYNN.—PROCTOR'S THEATRE (A. H. Dexter, manager): Ulic Akerstrom 8, week, to the poorest business sine ever played to in this city. H. R. Jacobs' co. in Queen's Evidence to poor business 18, 12.—MUSIC HALL (J. W. Caverly, manager): Mine. Gyer's Specialty co. opened for four nights to poor business 19.

NEW BEDFORD.—OPERA HOUSE (J. C. Omey, manager): Dikey in Adonis it, second visit this season, to a packed house.

AMESBURY.—NEW OPERA HOUSE (C. W. Currier, manager): Haverly-Cleveland Ministrels is to a good house; excellent performance. Little Lord Panntleroy in creturn to a very small house.—ITEM: Manager Currier will be associated with George B. Upham in the management of Tom Ricketts.

HOLYOKE.—HOLYOKE OPERA HOUSE (Chase Bros., managers): Lewis Morrison in Faust to a small house 12. Murray and Murphy in their original about dity entitled Our Irish Visitors to a light business 15. Harbor Lights drew only a slim house 16.

FITCHBURG.—WHITNEY'S OPERA HOUSE (Chas. H. Dunn, minager): Daniel Boone co. is to a fair house. Maude Banks played A French Marriage to a good business 15. Mangaret Mather in The Honeymoon 17. The house was filled at advanced prices and an excellent entertainment given.

SOUTH FRAMINGHAM.—ELMWOOD OPERA HOUSE (N. P. Coburn, lessee and manager): Harbor Lights to a fair-sized sympathetic house 13. Daniel Boone co. with a very poor co. to a fair house 15. Two 0/1d Cronies, return dates to rather light business 17.

DETROIT - MINER'S GRAND THEADRE GH. C. Miner, manager. J. T. Alterange, resident managers Earn & and in A Pair of Kads the first half of the week to pour business, which was quite jus-of all weak from bimself, is to Whitney, manag acey as leading a ext week London Next week London man did a good we Next week London Gaiety Burlesquary's Granno Opera House (C. E. E ager): Dan Sully was the attenction business was the result. Con Counce have been played the latter part of owing to the size of the stage it was ticable to mount it. Next week My I E AST SAGINAW.—ACADEMY OF Powers and Buckley, managers): Job in Across the Atlantic to a fair hous port was medicore.

KALAMAZOO.—ACADEMY OF MY

MUSKEGON. — OPERA HOUSE (Fred. L. Re noids, manager): James A. Herne's Hearts of O to light business 11. Ezra Cendall in A Pair of Ki to a fair house 13. Julia Marlowe in Twelfth Nig to a large house 16.

BATTLE CREEK.—HAMBLIN'S OPERA HOUSE G. Merriman, manager): Hearts of Oak to a factorer.

LANSI

LANSING.—OPERA HOUSE (M. J. Buck, manager): Hearts of Oak gave aplendid satisfaction as across the Atlantic to good business at. Mr. Ransom is as versatile as ever.

IONIA.—OPERA HOUSE (K. R. Smith, manager) ida Van Costland supported by the Tavernier Dramatic co. opened a week's engagement here as to a fair house in Forget Me Not.

OWOSSO.—SALISBURY'S OPERA HOUSE (F. Ed Kohler, manager): George Ober and a good co. gave an excellent performance of Jekyll and Hyde as to a small but well pleased audience.

JACKSON.—Hubbard Opera House (D. H. Redmund, manager): Robert Mantell with excellent support presented Monbars to a fair but well pleased audience is. Zera Semon, ventriloquist and wonder worker, opened a week's engagement to a packet house 15.

GRAND RAPIDS.—Powerse Opened.

audience is. Zera Semon, venninguist of a pacihouse is.

GRAND RAPIDS.—Powers Opera House
H. Garwood, managers Ida Van Cortiand turned is Playing Forget Me Notat matines a Romeo and Juliet in the evening. Large audien demonstrated their approval of the performat Robert Mantell made his first appearance is,
Monbars was given and proved to be astrony, slightly overdrawn play. Julia Marlosse to a in audience is.—Redmond's (H. G. Garwood, in agers: The Faust Burlesque co. has been doin large business all week.—Suttu's (W. B. Sin managers: The Maginnis Novelty show introduc
The Pavers of Paris, Frof. Mathews, Dan McAs
Sig Alberti and others have drawn well and sented a good performance.—ITEM: The Hot Lewis Monte Cristo co. rested here during H Week. They appear at Redmond's all next we

MINNESOTA.

MINNESOTA.

WINONA.—OPERA HOUSE (Shepard and Hitzher, managers): A Postage Stamp gave a cleasing entertainment to a fair house to. Dockstaders Minstrels to a crowded house in.

ST. PAUL.—NEWMARKET THEATRE (L. N. Scott, lessee and manager): Roland Reed presented The Woman Hater and Cheek to good houses 15-12.

Dockstader's Minstrels drew large audiences 15-17.

PEOPLE'S THEATRE (L. W. Walker, manager): The home co. produced The Silver King, giving an excellent performance, week of 15.—OLYMPIC THEATRE (W. J. Wells, manager): A good co. presented a fine olio and taking specialties to fair business week of 15.

STILLWATER.—GRAND OPERA HOUSE (E. W. Durant, manager): A Postage Stamp co. to good house it. Their Hussar band was splendid.

MINNEAPOLIS.—GRAND OPERA HOUSE (J. P. Coullin, manager): Percy Weadon's High Tide to fair business 11-13. W. C. Coup's Equescurriculum to very good houses 15-17. Prof. Buckley's horses are remarkably well trained.—HENNEPIN AVENUE THEATRE (Carl L. Wallace, manager): Edwin Barbour in A Legal Document week of 8. Business poor. House dark week of 15.—People's Thatates.

(J. T. McCaddon, manager): Edwin Barbour in A Legal Document week of 8. Business poor. House dark week of 15.—People's Thatates.

(J. T. McCaddon, manager): Edwin Barbour in A Legal Document week of 8. A Mountain Pink to capacity of the house.—ITEMS: Edwin Perry, of the People's co. will be in Louis James' support sense of 26-50.—The street car strike has materially affected theater receipts.

crawiord, manager): Kate Castleton, with a good co., presented A Paper Doll 9, so to only fair busi-ness. The tableaux of iten Hur were well presented by local talent to good business 22, 23. The Bon Ton Dramatic co. commenced a week's engagement at popular prices 15. Their repertoire is a varied one, and embraces some plays that have always been done before at regular prices.

EANSAS CITY.—COATES' (M. H. Hudson, manager): Emma Abbott Opera co in repertoire filled a successful engagement last week. The audiences vere very large, packing the house at each performance, making the engagement about the best success, financially, of the season.—GILLIS' (Rudson and Thomas, managers): Mrs. McKee Rankin in The Golden Giant Mine held the boards last week to fair husiness.—N.NSH STREET (A. Judah, manager): Fisher's Cold Day co. amused the patrons of this house last week.

NEBRASKA

NEBRASKA.

LINCOLN.—FUNKE'S OPERA HOUSE (Crawford and McReynolds, managers: Lotta did good business to in Pawuticket 210. Mattie Vickers had a light house a. On the 10th a large andience greeted Panny Davenport in La Tosca, her first appearance here in that tragedy. She was repeatedly called in front of the curtain, as was her able assistant, Mr. MacDowell.—People's Theathe (R. S. Browns, managers: The Andrews' Dramatic co. closed a week sengagement 20.—IV MENEAL. Somator Taggart, owner and manager of the Hastings Opera House, was married in this city hat week to Miss Louise Williams. The ceremony was one of the social events of the season. More than a thousand invitations were issued.

FREMONT.—Love's Opera House (Robert Mo-

Daniel Boone co. with a very poor co. to a fair house 15. Two Old Cronies, return dates to rather light business 17.

TAUNTON.—MUSIC HALL (A. B. White, proprietory: Two Old Cronies to a large house 15. Second visit. Audience well pleared.

BREMONT.—Love's Opena House Robert Mo-Reynolds, managery: Mattie Vickers in Jacquine to a delighted audience 26.

PLATTEMOUTH.—WATERMAN OPENA House addigned audience 26.

PLATTEMOUTH.—WATERMAN OPENA House consisted from highes in a Barroom to fair houses matines and evening 13. They returned and played U. T. C. 16.

CHELSEA—ACADEMY OF MUSIC (James B. Field, managery: The Private Secretary delighted a large andience of the week.

WESTPIELD.—Opena House (P. W. Howe, manager): Our Plenic co. 12; poor performance and slim house Harbor Lights 17; medium house, composed of our best people.

DETROIT.—MINER'S GRAND THEATRE (H. C. Miner, manager). I. T. Alterange, resident managers: Erra kondali in A Pair of Kids the first half of the week to be a fair of Kids the first half of the week to be a fair of Kids the first half of the week to be a fair of Kids the first half of the week to be a fair of the first half of the week to be a fair house.

VIRGINIA CITY.-P ER'S OPERA HOUSE (Jo

MAD.—WHITE'S OPERA HOUSE (B. C. manager): Haverly-Cleveland Minstreis re to a fair house 13. Mande Banks 18 in A seringe to only a fair house, owing to its y Week.

to MEATRE (A. H. Davis, manager): natrola played to fair business 15. recented A French Marriage 17 in a ER.—Lowell's Opera House: Two Old convulsed a large audience so. ER.—Opera House (f. D. P. Wingate, man-litle Lord Pauntieroy co. drew a large house * Two Old Cronies on to a fair house so. nd Henshaw received great applause.

... TAYLOR OPERA HOUSE (John Taylor, ed. Morris' Equine and Canine Parados conderful exhibition of animal saga-ligance to good houses. Mile. Rhos About Nothing had only a fair-sized but those present enjoyed as fine a runance as has been given here in a apport excellent.

Colonal Gaisty on week of us. Largest of the season at the house.—ITEMS:

The was in the city on Monday somewhat in agirits at the hearth reception accorded creed at the Fourteenth Street Theatre.

He wants to know why he didn't try a the Bushle "top" instead of the New hearth for the New hearth f

m. manageri: Home dark Holy Week. Due: Motheny Family 20.

EWEURO.—Academy of Music (A. Stanley Yord, manager): Missel Pickles to fair business of.

EMEMBERADY.—CENTES STREET OFERA

COMMERCEADY.—CENTES STREET OFERA

COMMERCEADY.

Lines of the Due: Gue Williams in Ecopler's

Commerceady.—ANYMONY HALL (William Anthony,

Insugeri: House dark Holy Wook.—ITEM: Man
per Irving of the Union Opera House has engaged to following staff of ansistants: J. G. Archer, treas

per Irving of the Union Opera House has engaged to following staff of ansistant manager; C. Henry, tage samager; Joseph Eagan, officer.

COMOES.—Conces OPERA House (E. C. Game,

nanager): Zono co. 17. light houle and co. New nanager): Zono co. 17. light houle and co. New nanager): Zono co. 17. light houle and co. New nanager): Allie and Venie Phillips are with the co.

for this production. Lost in London was presented in the evening to fair business.

STEACURE.—WITTING OPERA HOUSE (P. H. Leb.

STEACURE.—WITTING OPERA HOUSE

good on last week to small houses. This week J. J. Dowling.

PENN YAN OPERA HOUSE (George R. Cornwell, manager): Carner's Cornedy co. in repertoire week of 15 to good business. Pat Rooney

R. Cornwell, manager): Carner's Cornedy co. in repertoire week of 15 to good business. Pat Rooney 32.

ROCHESTER.—LYCEUM THEATRE (John R. Pierce, manager): Dark last week. This week Julia Marlowe and The Still Alarm.—ACADEMY OF MUSIC (Jacobs and Proctor, managers): The Dowling-Hasson Nobody's Claim co. packed the house last week. This week Zitka; Charles T. Ellis next.—GRAND OPERA HOUSE (P. H. Lehnen, manager): Marie Prescott and R. D. McLean, supported by a fair co., appeared 15 17 in Virginius. The Winter's Tale, As You Like R. matinee, and Richard III. to good business. Miss Prescott and Rr. McLean made a most favorable impression.—Casino (W. J. Burke, manager): Business fair last week. No change of performance this week.

HINGHAMTOM.—OPERA HOUSE (J. P. E. Clark, manager): The Mc 3 then y Family gave one of their pleasing entertainments to a good house 15. J. B. Polk in Mixed Pickles did fair business 17.

ITHACA.—OPERA HOUSE (J. E. Wilgus, manager): Mora to full houses west of 15.

UTICA.—OPERA HOUSE (J. E. Wilgus, manager): Pat's New Wardrobe first half of last week to poor business. Arizona Joe in Black Hawk and Wild Viclets to light houses.

HUDBON.—OPERA HOUSE (F. Kells, manager): The Waite Comedy co. to good-sized houses during the last two weeks producing Pique, The French Spy, Lynwood, Led Astray, The New Danites, A Rough Diamond, etc.

ELMIRA.—Maddison Avenue Theatre (G. W. Smith, manager): The Verra House (J. R. Heints, manager): The Setson Yeomen of the Guard to fair business 13. Skipped by the Light of the Moon to good business 19.

LOCKPORT.—Honge Opera House (B. M. Gutes, manager): The deserved good patrodage.

OWEGO.—Wilson Opera House (B. Tuthill, manager): Chip o' the Old Block to good business 15.

DAYTON.—THE GRAND (Reist and Dickson, managers): The Fat Men's Club drew a large andience it. Gun Williams plansed a fair house 13 in Keppler's Fortuna. Bennett-Moulton Opera co. commenced a week's engagement 25, opening in Boccaccio to a crowded house. The chorus is large and unusually strong. The co., however, lacks a principal Delia Fox is greatly missed.—CUER Manager Larry H. Reist will have a benefit May 25. The attraction will be Prederick Warde.—Frank Girard, of the Gus Williams co., and one of the most entimissise Eths in the country, is a grandpa.—Gus Williams informed mythat, this will be his last season in consedy, and that he will embark in the spacialty business with Tony Pastor. Mr. Williams is compelled to make the change on account of being constantly troubled with rheumatism.—Lon Staley, of this city, who has had copyrighted The Phonograph, received word from Herbert Winslow, of Mew York city, that he (Winslow) holds all stage rights to The Phonograph, so another flower as born to blush uncom, etc.

WARREM.—New WARREN OPERA HOUSE (Gus. Hartz, manager): Frank Mayo with an unusually strong on, in The Reyal Guard 15. Only a Parmer's Daughter to a light house 15.

on in The Reyal Guard 13. Only a Parmer's Daugh-ter to a light house 12.

MEWARK.—OPERA HOUSE (J. H. Miller, man-ager): Ploy Crowell co. played week of April a, giving Instruction, May Blossom, Jean, Ingomar, Hoop of Gold and Oliver Twist to good business. Gorton's Minstrels drew a packed house 13. Co. with one or two exceptions is very poor, and the band proved to be the entire performance. Audience much dissatisfied.

September.

TIFFIN.—SHAWHAN'S OPERA HOUSE (E. B. Hubbard, manager): P. P. Baker in The Emigrant appeared to a small house 13.

MANSFIELD.—OPERA HOUSE (Miller and Dittenhoefer, managers): Daniel Suity in Daddy Noian entertained a large and well-pleased audience to. The Melville Sisters week of 15 played to fair business, giving the best of astisfaction.

AEROM.—ACADEMY OF MUSIC (W. G. Robinson, manager): The Night Watch, a drama, the plot of which is based upon life in New York, was presented last week. A patrol wagon is introduced in the fourth act, but could not be used here, owing to inability to get it up atairs. Lou Galloway and D. K. Higgins are the principals in the co. and are very good.

ager): Daniel Sully as Daddy Nolan defighted a small but appreciative audience 13.

WAPARONETA. — TIMMERMEISTER OPERA HOUSE (C. W. Timmermeister, manager): Model Comedy co. week 7-13 to good business each night. Co. gave entire astisfaction in every respect.

URBANA.—BENNETT'S OPERA HOUSE (P. R. Bennett, Jr., manager): Baldwin's Casimo Opera co. drew fair houses and save satisfaction 13-17.

GALLIPOLIS.—BETZ OPERA HOUSE (A. L. Roadarmour, manager): Carrie Lowe Marshall and Nelson Computon in readings from An Original Idea, Marbie Heart, Pygmalion and Galates and Is Marriage a Pailure to a small audience April 15. The entertainment was good, both people being splendid readers.

POSTORIA.—ANDES OPERA HOUSE (W. P. Housell, manager): Blind Tom had a good house 16. The Night Watch co., supporting T. K. Higgins and Miss Lou Gallowsy, came 18 to a rather light house, but gave a fine performance.

COLUMBUS. METBOPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE (C. A. and J. G. Miller, managers): Booth and Barrett in Othello had a magnificent house 18. The Opera Club will give The Grand Duchess 19.——GRAND OPERA HOUSE (Miller Brothers, managers): The Byrons in The Upper Hand had a good week. P. P. Baker ext.

CHILLICOTHE.—MASONE OPERA HOUSE (E. Kanffman, manager): A Soap Bubble played to light business 19.——CLOUGH GRAND OPERA HOUSE (Dennis McConnell, manager): Nollie McHenry in Three of a Kind played to good business 4.

HAMILTOM.—MUSIC HALL (HALZfeldt and Morner, managers): Boston Ideals to a good and refined audience, giving fair satisfaction, 15.——FASHION THREATHE (Mill Stevens, proprietor): Big houses overy night; good antisfaction.——TEM: The Boston Ideals would have given better satisfaction if they had not cut the play to catch a train. They had no chorus with them. They will get a cool reception if they war visit here again.

PIQUA.—COSOVER'S OPERA HOUSE (W. G. Cep.

PENNSYLVANIA.

NORTH RAST.—Short's OPERA House (W. H. Sanborn, manageri: P. J. Farron in Help to a good house and good satisfaction to. Little Nugget on played a return engagement to a crowded house.

TITUSVILLE.—OPERA House (C. P. Lake, proprietor): Claire Scott on week of 35 to very pour business; entertainment fair.

HEADVILLE.—ACADEMY OF MUSIC (E. A-Hemp-

WILLIAMSPORT.—ACADEMY OF MUSIC (William H. Elliott, proprietor): Chip o' the Old Block to a fair-sized and delighted audience 18.

MAUCH CHUNK.—CONCERT HALL. (John H. Paga, manager): Hattie Bernard-Chase 15, 16 in Little Coquette and Lightning Express to a fair business. Pat Muldoon's Comedy co. 17, 18 to alim business.

EASTON.—OPERA HOUSE (John Brunner, manageri: Rhéa, supported by an excellent co., including William Harris, played Much Ado About Nothing to a very good house 17. The costumes were the handsomest seen in a long time in Easton and were strictly in accordance with the period of the play.

LOCKHAVEN.—OPERA HOUSE (Parnsworth Brothers, managers): Al. G. Fields' Operatic Minstrels gave a first-class performance to a large and well-pleased audience: a. Pat Muldoon's Irish Comedy co. in Muldoon's Neighbor 13 to a fair-sized audience; performance very tame.

WAREEM.—Labrary Hall (W. A. Alexander, manager): Webster-Brady's version of She was presented before a large house 13 and gave autisfaction. Laura Biggar as She was handsome. Frank Mayo in The Royal Guard to a packed house 25; the best performance of the season.

ATREESSPORT.—WHITE'S OPERA HOUSE (A. W. Van Anda, manager): House dark all week of 15. Lilly Clay's Colossal Galety co., return engagement, 22.

MAHANOY CITY.—OPERA HOUSE (J. J. Quirk, manager): Aidea Benedict in three acts of Monte Cristo of to good business; large and appreciative audience —ITEMS: Frances Field, leading lady, became ill after the first act and the audience was dismissed at the close of the third act. Although the co. had $5,000 exhibited, and promised to give $1 to every dissatisfied person, they did not do so and the audience were not refunded their admission fees. This action was denounced by all present, although the performance was generally enjoyed. The business principles of the co were severely criticized.

TYRONE.—Kittie Rhoades played a successful week's engagement to good business. She is a favorite in Tyrone.

READING.—ACADEMY OF MUSIC (H. R. Jacobs, manager): Due: Night Owls 25-27.—GRAND OPERA HOUSE (George M. Miller, manager): Due: May Howard Burlesque co. 25-27.

RHODE ISLAND.

PROVIDENCE.—PROVIDENCE OPERA HOUSE (Robert Morrow, manager): H. E. Dizey in Adonis was well patronized the first part of last week. Mrs. Langtry opened for three nights and matinee before a large and fashionable audience si. This week Henry Lee will be seen in The Cavalier. Week of a is divided between Sweet Lawender and Le Voyage on Suisse.—Gaistry Opena House sightly last week by giving one of the best entertainments of the season. This week, Queen's Evidence.

BEWPORT.—NEWPORT OPENA HOUSE (Henry Bull, manager): The house was dark Holy Week. Due: Lost in London 23; Hanlons' Le Voyage en Suisse 29. Mrs. Langtry has closed a contract for May 22.—ELES: The Newport Elks will have a herefit May 29. with Lewis Morrison in Panat.—Manager Bull has offered the free use of the house to the committee for the entertainment of the American Medical Association.

TENNESSEE

a first-class entertainment.

JACKSON.—PEARCY OPERA HOUSE (Will H.
Tale, manager): Ford's Dramatic co. 11, week, did good business.

CLARKSVILLE.—ELDER'S OPERA HOUSE (James T. Wood, manager): Fisher's Cold Day co. 4 to fair business. Audience well-pleased.

HASHVILLE.—THE VENDOME (J. O. Milsom, manager): Joseph Jefferson, supported by an excelelent co., amoested 16, presenting Cricket on the manager): Joseph Jefferson, supported by an excelient co., appeared 18, presenting Cricket on the Hearth and Lend Me Five Shillings. The house was packed from orchestra rail to gallery, and a prettier audience it would be hard to imagine.—ITERS:

Roland Reed is the only other regular attraction booked for the Vendeme this season. He comes May 29.—Bud Horn, the calliope player, tells me be has signed with the Uncle Tom's Cabin co. which appears undercanvas, and will join them May 10 in Adrian, Mich.—Grand dark this and next week.

TEXAS.

DENISON.—McDougatt. OPERA HOUSE (J. B. McDougail, manager): The Myra Goodwin co. played here to a large house 12.—ITEM: The Myra Goodwin co. is now under the efficient management of J. A. Wilkinson, formerly a jeweler of this city.

SHERMAN.—SHERMAN OPERA HOUSE (A. L. Nash, manager): Myra Goodwin to a large house 13.

DALLAS.—OPERA HOUSE (H. Greenwall and Son, managers): A large and enthusiastic audience greeted Myra Goodwin in Sis 12.

WACO.—OPERA HOUSE (J. P. Garland, manager): Myra Goodwin presented Sis to a large audience 10. This closes the season here.

SALTILAKE CITY.—SAIT LAKE THEATRE (H. B.
Clawson, manageri: The Home Dramatic co. presented Pique to a full house. Stephen's sented Pique to a full house. Stephen's managerie to a house literally packed from the Regiment to a house literally packed from pit to dome. Mr. Stephens is now at work with a start produced Gilbert Parker's version of Mr. Regiment to a house literally packed from pit to dome. Mr. Stephens is now at work with a start produced Gilbert Parker's version of Mr. Regiment to a house literally packed from pit to dome. Mr. Stephens is now at work with the start produced Gilbert Parker's version of Mr. Regiment to a house literally packed from pit to dome. Mr. Stephens is now at work with the start produced Gilbert Parker's version of Mr. The Danghter will be presented again once or twice during the present month. Peck's Bad Boy drew a fair house in. Swiss Bellringers (The Galus) is to light house.—ITEMS all the support of the pixer of th

BURLINGTON.—Howard Opena House (W. R. Waiher, manager): Skipped by the Light of the Moon was as funny as ever and drew well so. Thomas W. Keene as Shylock in Merchant of Venice of attracted a large audience and gave excellent satisfacilies.

VIRGINIA

WEST VIRGINIA.

PARKERSBURG.—Hilton's Floating Palace, built here, gave an opening entertainment to a large crowd 12. Prof. Lowanda, Captain Marion and Spotted Wolf, with Warm Spring Indians, are among the attractions.

WHEELING.—OPERA HOUSE (F. Riester, manager): Around the World in Eighty Days 151, CO. Very weak; attendance fair.—GRAND OPERA HOUSE (O. C. Genther, manager): Marie Brainard in My Geraldine 18-20; business light.

WAUSAU.—GRANDOPERA HOUSE (H. L. Wheeler, manager): A Postage Stamp played to big business as; co. good; performance gave general satisfaction.

3 HEBOYGAN.—SHEBOYGAN OPERA HOUSE (J. M. Kohler, manager): Mrs. Alice J. Shaw, the whist-ling prima donna, and her grand concert co. appeared to a fair house 17.

LA CROSSE.—LA CROSSE THEATRE (F. H. Hankerson, manager): Due: Mrs. Alice Shaw 24; Soil Smith Russell 27.

MADISON.—NEW UNITARIAN (McConnell and Prossentin, managers): Mrs. Alice J. Shaw's Concert co. to a fair-sized and enthusiastic audience 11. Mrs. Shaw has a magnificent stage presence, and proves that whistling is something that can be cultivated by ladies.

MILWAUREE.—ACADEMY (Jacob Litt, manager):

by ladies.

MILWAUKEE.—ACADENY (Jacob Litt, manager):
The Metropolitan Opera co. opened to a large and enthuslastic audience 16. A finer entertainment has seldom, if ever, been witnessed here before.

GRAND OPERA HCUSE (H. Nunnemacher, manager):
Daniel E. Bandmann opened in Austerlitz 14. but succeeded in drawing only fair bouses.—STANDARD (O. P. Miller, manager): The Ticket of Leave Man was given to good houses 14.—GRAND AVENUE
THEATRE: Litt's Opera co. presented La Mascotte this week, and continued to draw good houses.

WYOMING TERRITORY.

TACOMA-ALPHA OPERA HOUSE (J. M. Junett, manager): Sol Smith Russell deligated crowded houses in A Poor Relation and Bewitched 21, 12. Ben and Idalene Cotton in Nobody's Claim to a small

CANADA

Aronson's Erminie co. returns 19, 20.

HAMILTON.—GRAND OPERA House (Thomas Reche, manager): The house was packed by a very enthusiastic audience 12 to see Joseph Murphy in his latest play, The Donagh. One of the largest and most fashibnable audiences that ever gathered in the Grand witnessed the first production in this city of the bomic opera, Erminie, 15. Of the co. little but praise can be said. Miss Ann O'Keefe sang Erminie, and considering she took the role on ten hours' notice, ang well.

MUSHUPEG.—The stock op, appeared in Brandon

WINNIPEG.—The stock co. appeared in Brandon and drew large houses 15-17. They give their farewell performances here 18-20, and will no doubt do a large business.

AUSTRALIAN NOTES.

THE DRAMA IN HOLLAND.

of its being twelve and a half years since Gustave Prot opened this copy little home of comic opera under his successful management.

During these years of skilful steering through the managerial seas, his course has been one with uniform fair weather. The theatre's record has been each succeeding year brighter and brighter, the profits each season clearer and clearer, and it has now become an axiom that when a new operetta is put on at the Frascati, the public can feel sure that all will be done to insure its success, that good stage management, a capital company, fitting mounting and costuming can do, and that the weak point, if such there is, consists in the operetta itself.

Not alone does Mr. Prot possess the bump of management with regard to the public, but also with regard to his artists, so that the intercourse between him and the members of his company partake more of a friendly nature than pure business relations. Artists who are once engaged by him remain with him for years; for instance Mr. Kreeft the leading comedian, has been with him almost since the opening of the Frascati Theatre, and others nearly as long. As a consequence, the nucleus of the company having played together season after season, act together with rare harmony and smoothness.

Cela va sans dire that the moment the jublice performance was announced, a lively interest was shown in the affair by press and public, and the applications for seats at the box-office gave indications of an overflowing house. The occasion was a doubly attractive one as the "first night" of a new operetta of unusual interest for a Dutch audience; but of this further on. When the curtain rose on the first act there were loud bursts of applause and calls for Mr. Prot. After some moments he appeared and received an enthusiastic ovation. At the close of that act Mr. Kreett in the name of the entire co. offered him a handsome silver frace deminien with flowers, and during the evening wreaths without number and presents were handed the jubliary in name of the Ams without number and presents were handed the jubilary in name of the Amsterdam Student Corps, the companies of the different theatres in the city, etc., and fitting addresses were made accompanying the same.

Special calls were given to Mr. Prot. Jr., for the mounting and scenery. The three sets were each perfect in their style, particularly that of the second act representing the interior of a rich patrician's house in Amsterdam in the seventeenth century.

The new operetta will, doubtless, prove a great frawing card here, for not only does it possess the charm of novelty but also of local coloring. La Samine de Paris, of Serpette has metamorphosed into Truytgen van den Noordermarckt (Gertrue of the North Market) and the scene has been changed from Paris to Amsterdam, 1638. A number of old Dutch melodies have been introduced in the original score, so that even the music should be in keeping with the remodeled text. The adaptation has been eary cleverly done, and no one would guess on hearing the openetta, that its new garb was a disguise and not its original costume. The leading character and the one which bears the burden of the work is he title role. Truytgen is a sort of Dutch Clairette lagot of 558, with even still more of the nature of he genuine gamine des rues, she has a quick, a too puick tongue, is ever ready to enforce her sentiments by fist argumentation, and to meddle in what loes and does not concern her. Of course she is the neans of setting everything straight, and indeed lays the good genius of the persecuted lovers, or though her language and manner are ough, the heart is in the right place. Mrs. Budernam deserves unqualified praise for her interpretation of the role. She was in truth the soul of the peretta, for it all turns and depends on her. She was full of life, spirit and fun, and gain proved herself to be a comedienne such as few companies of omic opera can boast. She was in very good voice and san, her numbers in a manner that called forth epented marks of approbation. Her rendering of contrast to all the other light merry music allotted her.

Mrs. Van Westerhoven scored an unequivocal hit as Truytgen's aunt; her make-up was so exact and so characteristic, and her acting so natural and so full of unctuous humor, that she is, indeed, one of the features of the production. Favorable mention must be made of Mesdames Heilbron, Nagtegaal and Persoons, and Messrs. Kreeft, Van Beem, Delenkelare and Kiehl.

Mr. Kelly as Truytgen's brother, her right hand in all her doings and carryings-on, was capital and his comic ditty in the second act was a go. The costumes are handsome and very accurate, and the stage groupings effective; the set of the first act which represents the North Market or Square, with its bootha, its venders and passers by, forms a most picturesque and faithful tableau. Truytgen is booked for a long run.

At the Stadsschouwburg, the Royal Dramatic comany gave a few nights of La Dame aux Camélias.

its booths, its venders and passers by, forms a most picturesque and faithful tableau. Truytgen is booked for a long run.

At the Stadsschouwburg, the Royal Dramatic company gave a few nights of La Dame aux Camélias, thus enabling Mrs. Frenkel to repeat one of her most unmistakable triumphs. She is certainly the Marguerite Gautier of the Dutch stage, and her nendition of the part can be placed next to that of Clara Morris and Marie Geistinger, to my mind, the most faultiess interpreters of the role on the stage to-day. The third act (the scene with Duval pore and the writing of the letter) was done with much feeling, but not with such harrowing pathos as by Clara Morris, and in the beginning of the last act, from the awakening to the entrance of Armand, many of the fine points and manaces made by Marie Geistinger as well as by Clara Morris, were missed by Mrs. Frenkel; but from that moment to the close of the act, throughout what may be termed the death scene, she left nothing to be wished for: the gradual change that came over her, the ashy hue that seemed to apread itself over her face, the struggle apainst the grim destroyer, the joy at seeing Armand again, the eager longing to live; all these conflicting emotions were depicted in a masterly manner.

The scene in the third act was acted with great dramatic power, and the first and second acts with much shading. Mrs. Frenkel wore rich costumes, particularly in the first and third acts, and looked unusually handsome. She was recalled again and again by an admiring public.

Mr. De long was a very good Armand Duval and was an extremely sympathetic figure.

Mr. Schoonhoven as Duval pire, made a great deal of his scene, playing the part with naturalness and sentiment and without the preachy, monotonous tone of voice that generally appears to be an indispensable requisite to the character. Indeed, he is the best Duval pire I have seen.

To night is the premiere at the Stadsschouwburg of Octave Feuillet's Chamillac. The leading roles are intrasted to Mrs. Prenkel an

For the last three weeks the town has been anisted "red" with flaming posters of the highly ensational and blood-curdling melodrama. Mr. barnes of New York. Two different dramatizations were simultaneously brought out at the Varieties, and the other at the Grand Theatre. The former is moriginal Dutch adaptation of the novel, and the atter a translation of the English version, as performed in England. Of course Mr. Barnes of New York is well known to THE MIRROR, so any details to plet, etc., are decidedly de trup. Suffice it to my, that it is a melodrama of the most unadulterated sensational style, and that the success here has only been of a very ephemeral nature. Naturally the terrific posters, which look more like gigantic cuts from the sensational pink papers than anything else, rouse the curiosity of the public, and the play drew goodly houses for a limited number of nights. The criticisms of the press, however, were not favorable, nor was the general verdict more so. Mr. Barnes of New York has therefore been but short-lived. The version at the Varieties is conceded to be the best, and in it Mrs. Holtrop did good work as the Cornican heroine. Mrs. Holtrop, who, as I mentioned in a former letter, is an ex-graduate of the Dramatic Conservatory, was last season at the Grand Theatre, and has been this year leading lady at the Varieties. She has been engaged for next season by the Royal Dramatic Company. She has a bright future before her and can be considered the rising young emotional actress here.

Alberdingt Thym, professor of asthetics at the University of Amsterdam and a writer and poet of prominence in the Dutch world of letters, has passed away. In him the stage of Holland has lost one of its warmest partisans and enthusiasts for the dramatic art. He was critic of the Amsterdammer, one of the city dailies, and his articles, though often not unbiassed enough, are undoubtedly written by a facile pen, and particularly on matters relating to asthetic archeology and points of historical accuracy, they are quite to be relied upon. Professor Thym was an able linguist and veraed in the modern and classical literature of the literature of his native land. He was a very devotee at the shrine of Vondel, the Shakespeare of the literature of his native land. He was a very devotee at the shrine of Vondel, the Shakespeare of the Netherlands, having written innumerable odes to the immortal bard and valuable commentaries on his tragedies, and indeed made a life-study of his works. On the occasion of the three hundredth annizersary of Vondel's birthday, Winter before last, and of which I spo

DATES AHEAD.

Managers and Agents of traveling companies will favor us by sending their dates, mailing them in time to reach us Saturday.

DRAMATIC COMPANIES.

A. M. PALMER'S JIM THE PENMAN (Western) Co.:
Baltimore, Md., April 22—week.
A BUNCH OF KEYS CO.: Oakland, Cal., April 29, 30, San José May 1, Sacramento 2, 3, Fresno 4, Los Angeles 6—week.
A LEGAL WRECK Co.: Newark, N. J., April 22—week. week.
Adonis Co.: Boston April 22 -week.
A Midnight Bell Co.: N. Y. City March 5-ii

nite.
ANNIE PIXLEY: Cleveland, O., April 23-27.
A SOAP BUBBLE Co.: Louisville, Ky., April 22-Meek.
ALONE IN LONDON Co.: Buffalo, N. Y., April 22-

week.

Atone in London Co.: Buffalo, N. Y., April 22—week.

Across the Atlantic Co.: Sandusky, O., April 25, Cold sater, Mich... 26, Elichart. Ind., 22.

A Night Off Co.: Fargo, Dak., April 24, 25, Fergus Fails 26, Brainard 27, Manhato, Minn., 20, Rochester 20, St. Paul May 1, 2, Dubuque, Ia., 3 Beividere, Ill., 4.

Aristeriatz Co.: St. Louis, Mo., April 22—week.

Austeriatz Co.: St. Louis, Mo., April 22—week.

Adda Gray: Cincinnati April 22—week. Louisville 29.

A Postage Stamp Co.: Marion, Ind., April 24, Anderson 25, Delaware 26, Cleveland 20.

A Cold Day (Fisher's) Co.: Maxico, Mo., April 25, 26, Moberly 27, Quincy, Ill., 20, Keokuk, Ia., 30, Fort Madison May 1, Mount Pleasant 2, Fairfield 3, Washington 4, Muscatine 6, Rock Island 2.

A Hold in the Ground Co.: Detroit, Mich., April 22—24, Erie, Pa., 25, Syracuse, N. Y., 26, Utica 27, Adams-Cook Co.: Cohoes, N. Y., April 22—yeek, Philadelphia May 6—two weeks.

Barrett-Gleason Co.: Butte, Mon., April 25—week; Barrett-Gleason Co.: Butte, Mon., April 25—27, Salt Lake, Utah, 29—week.

Barrett-Gleason Co.: Butte, Mon., April 25—27, Salt Lake, Utah, 29—week.

Beacon Lights Co.: Battimore, Md., April 22—week; Beacon Lights Co.: Brooklyn, N. Y., 29-May 4, Boston 6—week.

Black Crook Co.: Brooklyn, N. Y., April 22—week. week.

BLACK CROOK Co.: Brooklyn, N. Y., April 22-week.

week.
BALDWIN COMEDY Co.: Ironton O., April 22week.
BOOTH-BARRETT CO.: Shork City, la., April 24, 25,
Omaha, Neb., 26, 27, Denver, Col., 29, Sait Lake
City, Utah, May 6-8, San Francisco 17—four weeks.
CHAS. T. ELLIS CO.: Cleveland, G., April 22 week. CRITERION COMEDY Co.: Bradford, Pa., April 22week.
CRESION CLARKE CO.: Washington, D. C., April 22—week; Cincinnati 29—week.
CRYSTAL SLIPPER CO: Cincinnati, O., April 22—

week. CHICAGO COMEDY CO.: Goodland, Ind., April 22-CHILAGO COMEDY CO.: GOODIANA, IMA. April wack.
CHIP O' THE OLD BLOCK CO.: Pottsville, Pa., April 24, Lancaster 25-27, Philadelphia 29—May 4
CORA TANNER: St. Louis, Mo., April 22—week,
Omincy, Ill., 20, Springfield 3a, Keokuk, Ia., May 1, Burlington 2, Peoria, Ili., 3, Chicago 5—week.
CLARE SCOTT CO: Newcastle, Pa., April 24, 25,
Washington 26, 27.
CORNER GROCERY CO: Evanston, Wyo., April
Laramic City, Wash, 26,

CLARE SCOTT CO.: Newcastie, Pa., April 24, 25, Washington 26, 27.

CORNER GROCERY CO.: Evanston, Wyo., April 24, 25, Mich., April 22—week.

Greyenne 27, North Platte, Neb., 29, Kearney 30.

Charles A. Gardner City, Wash., 26, Cheyenne 27, North Platte, Neb., 29, Kearney 30.

Charles A. Gardner Miwankee, Wis., April 22—week, Green Bay 30, Wausau May 1. Appileton 2, Stevenspoint 3, Chippewa Falls 4, St. Paul, Minn., 6-8, Minneapolis 0-11.

COTTON CO.: Butte City; Mon., April 22—week, Helena, Ark., 29—May 2

Dan L. Sulliw: Chicago April 22—weeks.

Dan't Boone Co.: Laconia N. H. April 22—week, Mcs. Language, Mewburyport 36, Amesbary May 1, Portsmouth, N. H., 2, Exeter 3, Dover 4, Rochester 6, Biddeford, Me., 7, Portland 8, Lewiston 0, Brunswick 12, Weeks, Brooklyn, E. D. 29—week; Providence, R. L., May 6—week.

Beffile Ella-tex: San Francisco April 15—three weeks.

Beffile Ella-tex: San Francisco April 15—three weeks.

Density Tucker: Oneonta, N. Y., April 22—week; Brooklyn, E. D., 29—week; Providence, R. L., May 6—week; San Francisco April 15—three weeks.

Density Tucker: Oneonta, N. Y., April 22—week; Brooklyn, E. D., 29—week; Providence, R. L., May 6—week; San Francisco April 15—three weeks.

Density Tucker: Oneonta, N. Y., April 22—week; Brooklyn, Me., April 24, 25, Melena, Ark., 26, 27, Little Rock 29, 30, Fort Smath May 1, 2 weeks. EIHEL TUCKER: Onconta, N. Y., April 2:-week; Youngstown, O., 29-week. EDITH CROLLUS CO.: Wheeling, W. Va., April 22-

EUNICE GOODRICH: Leavenworth, Kas., April 13-two weeks; Topeka 29, Lincoln, Neb., May 6two weeks; Topeka 29. Lincoln, Neb., May 6-week. EDWIN STUART Co. Sheboygan, Wis., April 22-ED. HARRIGAN'S CO.: Brooklyn, E. D. April 22-three weeks.

EDITH STAMMORE Co.: Holyoke, Mass., April 22—25.

EDITH STAMMORE Co.: Holyoke, Mass., April 23—25.

Westfield 25,27, Turner's Falls 29 30, Hoosick Falls.

N. Y., May 1, 2, Catskill 2, 3

Frank Mayo Co.: Ashtabula, O., April 25, Ft.

Wayne, ind., 26, Logansport 27, Chicago 29—week:
Pittsburg, Pa., May 5—week
Frank Davenport Co.: Minneapolis, Minn., April 24, St. Paul 25–27, Milwaukee 29, May —

Fall Men's Club Co.: Cincinnati April 22—week;
Chicago 29—week.

Fall Men's Club Co.: Cincinnati April 22—week;
Chicago 29—week.

Fall Men's Club Co.: Cincinnati April 22—week;
Chicago 29—week.

Fall Men's Club Co.: Cincinnati April 22—week;
Chicago 29—week.

ORENCE HAMILTON: Canton, Ill., April 22—week; alesburg 29—week; Monmonth May 6—week. ORENCE COMEDY CO.: Philadelphia April 22—

FLORENCE COMEDY CO.: Philadelphia April 22—week.
GUS WILLIAMS'CO.: N. Y. City April 29—week.
GEORGE OBER: Petosky, Mich., April 24. Sault
Ste. Marie 25. Marquette 26.
GRAY-STEPHENS CO.: Montreal, Can., April 22—week; Buffalo, N. Y., 29—week.
GILBERT-HUNTLEY CO.: Texarkana, Tex., April

25-27.
GRAHAM EARLE: Franklyn, Ind., April 22—week; Lebanon 29—week; Bloomington, Ill., May 6—week; GRISMER-DAVIES Co.: Portland, Ore., April 29—week; Astoria May 6-7, Tacorna, Wash., 8.
GEO. W. LOWE CO.: Sterling, Ill., April 22—week. Holden Comedy Co.: Lafayette, Ind., April 22—week.

HOLDEN COMEDY CO.: Lafayette, Ind., April 22—week.

HEARTS OF OAK CO.: Racine, Wis., April 24—HATTIE BERNARD-CHASE: Paterson, N. J., April 24—week.

HARDIE-VON LEER CO.: Brooklyn April 22—week.

HOODMAN BLIND CO.: Philadelphia April 22—week.

HELEN BARRY: N. Y. City March 27—indefinite.

HE, SHE, HIM, HER CO.: Washington, D. C., April 22—week; Baltimore 29—week.

HELD BY THE ENEMY (Western) CO.: Brooklyn, B. D., April 22—week.

HARDOR LIGHTS CO.: Boston April 22—week; Montreal 29—week; Toronto May 6—week.

IVY LEAF CO.: Chicago, April 22—week: Davenport, Ia, 29, Des Moines 30-May 1, Council Bluffs 2, Omaha, Neb., 3, 4.

JULIA MARLOWE: Rochester, N. Y., April 25, Ithaca 25, Oneida 26, Wilkesbarre 27, Philadelphia 39—two weeks.

JULIA MARLOWE: Rochester, N. Y., April 24, Ithaca 25, Oncida 26, Wilkesharre 27, Philadelphia 29—two weeks.

J. B. Polk: Battle Creek, Mich., April 24, Kalamazoo 25, Bay Cify 26, Port Huron 27, East Saginaw 29, Grand Rapids 30.

J. J. Dowland: Troy, N. Y. April 22—week; Montreal, Cam., 29—week; Toronto May 6—week, JAMES WAINWRIGHT CO.: Eridgeport, Ct., April 24, JAMES H. WALLICK: Chicago, April 22—week, Birmingham, Ct., 20, Waterbury 30, Hartford May 4, 2, Tauaton, Mass., 3, Pawtucket, R. L., 4.

J. K. EMMET CO.: N. Y. City April 22—indefinite. Jost Philagelphia (Mo., 27, L. S. MURPHY CO.: La Fayette, Ind., April 20–24, Indianapolis 25, Lonisville, Ky., May 6—week, JAY HUNT CO.: Holyoke, Mass., April 22—week; N. Hampton 29—week; Springfield May 6—week, John Wild Co.: Stamford, Ct., April 22, Tarrytown, N. Y., 25, Sing Sing 26, Peekskill 27, JARBEAU COMEDY CO.: Lexington, Ky., April 23, 24, Frankfort 25, Richmond 26, 27, Philadelphia 29—week.

JOLLY VOYAGERS CO.: Ottawa, Ill., April 23-27.

week.

JOLLY VOYAGERS Co.: Ottawa, Ill., April 24-27,

Aurora 20-May 1.

J. W. CARNER Co.: Geneva, N. Y., April 22-

week.
KITHE RHOADES CO.: Allentown, Pa., April 22—week; Wilkesbarre 28—week.
KITHE BLANCHARD: St. Louis April 22—week Minneapolis, Minn., 29, 30, St. Paul May 1-4, Chicago 6—week; Kindergarden (Williams) CO.: Chicago, Ill., April 22—week; Gr.ind Rapids, Mich., 29—week; Chicago May 6—week.
KATE CASTLETON CO.: Denver, Col., April 22—week;

week.

KATE PURSELL Co.: N. Y. City April 22—week.

LILY ROWLEY Co.: Willimantic, Ct., April 24,

Woonsocket, R. L. 25, Taunton, Mass., 26, North

Attleboro 27.

LYONS COMEDY CO.: Rushville, Ind., April 24, Con-nersville 25-27.

LILLIAN LEWIS CO:: Farmville, Va., April 27, Danville 29-30, Lynchburg May 1, Roanoke 2, Staunton 3, Charlottesville 4.
LOUTA CO:: Grand Rapids, Mich., April 24, Flint 25, Fort Wayne, Ind., 26.
LIGHTS OF LONDON CO:: New York City April 22—

Fort Wayne, Ind., 26.

LIGHTS OF LONDON CO.: New York City April 22—week.

LITTLE LORD PAUNTLEROY CO.: Keene, N. H.,
April 24, Rutland, Vt., 25, Burlington 26, Barre 27, Montpelier 29, Bellows Falls 39, Bratileboro May

1, Greenfield, Mass., 2, Westfield, 3, Springfield, 4, Wittimantic c. Norwich, Ct., 7, Pastucket, R. I., 8, Westerly, 9, Middletown, Ct., 10, Meriden in.
Lydia Thompson: Philadelphia April 22—week.
Lyceum Theather Wife Co.: Troy, N. Y., April 26-27, Hartford, Ct., 29-May 2, New Brunswick, N.
J., 2, Wilmington, Del., 2, 4, Ponghkeepsie, N. Y.
6, Newburg, 7, Binghamton 8, Elmira 9

L'ITLE NUGGET CO.: Mansfield, O., April 24,
MAUDE ATKINSON: Athens, Ga., April 29-22, Milledgeville 25-27, Atlanta 29-30.

MAGGIE MITCHERL: Fall River, Mass., April 29-24, Milford 25, Hartford, Ct., 25-27, New Britain 29, Water bury 20, Middletown, May 1, New Hawen 2, Meriden 5, Bridgeport 4, Orange, N. J., 6, Elizabeth 7, Yonkers 8, Jersey City 9-11.
MITCHELA ROSYNS Co.: Lanesville, Wis., April 22—week,
MARGARET MATHER: Troy, N. Y., April 24,
MILLON MOBLES CO.: Louisville April 22—week.
MAIL RHEA. Wheeling, W. Va., 4, Flayton, O.
27, Cincinnati 29—week.
MURRAY AND MURPHY: Bangor, Me., April 24,
Portland 25-26, Lynn, Mass., 27, Amesbury 29, Laconia 30, Woburn May 1, New Bedford 2, Pail River ; Brockton 4, Boston 6—week.
MONTE CRISTO (Aiden Benedict) Co.: Pottstown,
Pa., April 24, Wilmington, Del., 25-27, Bridgeton
20, Elizabeth, N. J., 30, Yonkers, N. Y., May 2
MELVILLE SISTERS' Co.: Salt Lake City, Utah, 2425, Provo 26, Park City 22, Orden May 1, 24
27, Provo 26, Park City 22, Orden May 1, 24
28, Provo 26, Park City 22, Orden May 1, 24
27, Provo 26, Park City 22, Orden May 1, 24
28, Provo 26, Park City 22, Orden May 1, 24
29, Provo 26, Park City 22, Orden May 1, 24
29, Provo 26, Park City 22, Orden May 1, 24
29, Provo 26, Park City 22, Orden May 1, 24
20, Provo 26, Park City 22, Orden May 1, 24
20, Provo 26, Park City 22, Orden May 1, 24
20, Provo 26, Provo 27, Provo 26, Provo 27, Orden May 1, 24
20, Provo 26, Prov

29-week.
MATTIE VICKERS' CO.: Salt Lake City, Utah, 2225, Provo 26, Park City 27, Ogden May 1, 2.
Maie. Neuville Co.: Syracuse, N. Y., April 22-

Mais. Netwill week.

Monroe and Rice Co.: Lynn, Mass., April 24.
Lowell 25. Fitchburg 26.
Minnie Maisbern Co.: Trenton, N. J., April 24.
Monte Chisto (Horace Lewis) Co.: Grand Rapids, Mich., April 22—week.
My. Aunt Bridget Co.: Boston April 29—week;
Hartford, Ct., May 6-8. Paterson, N. J., 9-11.

Land Rapid 22—Co. Rock Island, Ill., April 22—

MYRA GOODWIN CO.: St. Louis, Mo., April 22—week.

MRS. LANGTRY: Boston April 22—two weeks.

My Partner Co.: Detroit, Mich., April 22—week.

Moulton Com. Co.: Montpelier, Vt. April 24.

Barre 25. Brattleboro 26. Pittsfield 27.

Melvalle Co.: Washington, Pa., April 22—week:
Jamestown, N. Y., 29—week.

MS. POTTER: N. Y. City April 22—week.

NATURAL GAS CO.: Philadelphia April 22—week;

Brooklyn 29—week.

N. C. Goodwin: N. Y. City March 4—indefinite.

Nellie Walters' Co.: Greenville, Miss., April 24, 25. Helena, Ark., 26, 27. Little Rock 29, 39. Fort Smith May 1, 2.

New York Theatre (Hunt) Co.: Maysville, Ky., April 22—week; Brootton, O., 29—week; Jackson May 6.8, Wellston 9-11.

OLD Jed Prouty Co.: Lewiston, Me., April 24, 25.

Concord, N. H., 26, Laconia 27. Fall River, Mass., 29. Chelsea 36. Lowell May 1, Haverhill 2, Lynn 346.

Philadelphia 6—week.

Our Picnic Co.: South Framingham, Mass., April 28.

Mariboro 27. Beverly 30. Gloucester May 3.

Nashua, N. P., 6.

Our Hill Garden Wall Co.: Detroit, Mich., April 39—week: Pittsburg May 6—week.

Nashua, N. P., A. Oter Jille Garden Wall. Co.: Detroit, Mich., April 29—week: Pittsburg May 6—week.
OLIVER BYRON: Philadelphia, Pa., April 22—week; weck.

E. H. Sothern: San Francisco, Cal., April 22- One of the Bravest Co.: Omaha, Neb., April 22-

RANCH KING CO.: McKeesport, Pa., April ed. sp., Wheeling. W. Va., 29—week: Beaver Palls, Pa.,
May 6, 7, New Castle 6, 6, Rochester 10, 11.
RUBY LAFAYETTE CO.: Sionz. Rapida, Ia., April 29,
Eagle Grove 25-27, Humboldt 29, 20.
RANCH 10 CO.: Brooklyn, E. D., April 29—week.
ROLAND REED CO.: Paducah, Ky., April 26, 29,
Nashville, Tenn., 29, Chattanonga 20, Knozville
May 1, Lynchburg 2, Richmond 2, 4 Washington,
D. C., 6—week.
ROYCE-LANSING CO.: Cornelins, Ore., April 29, Independence 25, Forest Grove 27, 201800-CRANE CO.: N. Y. City April 29—three weeks.
ROSINA VOKES: Cleveland, O. April 29, Buffalo. N.

SINA VOKES: Cleveland, O., April 24, Buffalo, N.

Hudson 27. EYMOUR-STRATTON CO.: Chicopee, Mass., April 22-week. WEET LAVENDER CO.: North Attleboro, Ma April 34. Attleboro 25. Chelsen 26, Beverly 27, Pr April 24, Attieboro 25, Chelsea 26, Beverly 27, Pro-idence, R. I., 29-May 1. SAWTELLE COMEDY CO.: Bradford, Pa., April 29

SCRANDON 3-4. NEW YORK CO.: Baltimore April 22-Week. SALSBURY TROUBADOURS.: Elizabeth, N. J.. April 25. TLL ALARM Co.: Buffalo, N. Y., April 29-24, R.

STILL ALASH CO.: Buffalo, N. Y., April 22-24, Rochester 25-27.
SI PERKINS CO.: Hudson, N. Y., April 22, Pittsdeld, Mass., 25, North Adams 26, Hoosick Falin, M.Y., 27, SHADOWS OF A GREAT CITY CO.: Quincy. Ill., April 24, Hannibal, Mo., 25, Decatair, Ill., 26, Streator 27.
SIBERIA CO.: Chicago April 22-week; Lockwood, N. Y., May r, Rochester 24.
Two SISTERS CO.: Kansas City Mo., April 22-week; Chicago 29-two weeks.
TESSIE DEAGLE: Bradford, Pa., April 22-week.
THE TWELVE TEMPTATIONS CO.: Elgin, Ill., April 24, Peoria 25-27, St. Louis 29-week.
THE MAIN LINE CO.: Phitabelphia April 22-week.
TAVERNIER CO.: East Saginaw, Mich., April 25, 26, Oscoola 27.
THE RULING PASSION CO.: Cleveland, O., April 21-week.

TAKEN FROM LIFE CO.: Port Jervis, N.Y., April as week; Paterson, N. I., 20 week; Lynn, May 6

-week; Paterson, N. I., 20-week; Lvnn, May 6-week.
The Paymaster Co.: Chicago, Ill., April 22-week.
Thus Irish Hearts Co.: Washington, D. C., April 22-week.
Thomas W. Keene: Toronto, Can., April 22-week; N. Y. City April 29-week.
N. Y. City April 29-week.
ULLIE AKERSTROM: Amesbury, Mass., April 22-week; N. W. City April 29-week; N. W. City April 29-29.
Newburyport 25-27, Lewiston 39-week: Lawrence May 6-8. Haverhill 9-11.
UNCLE TON'S CAMIN (Stetson's) Co.: Joliet, Ill., April 24, Aurora 25, Elgin 26, Englewood 29, Elk-hart, Ind., 29, Fort Wayne 20.
VACATION CO.: Boston April 22-week.
W. J. Shea's Comedy Co.: Plymouth, Pa., April 22-week; Archibald 29-week; Carbondale May 6-week.

WATER QUEEN Co.: Johnstown, Pa., April 25.

OPERA AND CONCERT COMPANIES. OPERA AND CONCERT CONTRIBES.

ARONSON'S OPERA CO.: Greenville, O., April 25-27, Ft. Wayne, Ind., 29-week.

BALPWIN'S OPERA CO.: Greenville, O., April 25-27, Ft. Wayne, Ind., 39-week.

BENSBERG OPERA CO.: Red Onk, Ia., April 26, Clarinda 27, Creston 29, BOSTONIANS: Chicago, Ill., April 29-indefinite.

BOSTON STARS: Topeka, Kas., April 29-indefinite.

BOSTON STARS: Topeka, Kas., April 29-indefinite.

BOSTON STARS: Topeka, Kas., April 29-indefinite.

BENNETT-MOULTON OPERA CO.: Indianapolis, Ind., April 29-week; Evansville, May 6-week

CARLETON OPERA CO.: Philadelphia, Pa., April 29-indefinite.

indefinite.
CASINO OPERA CO.: Sidney, O., May 24, Greenville 25-27, Ft. Wayne, Ind., 29—week; Memphis, Tenn., 6—week.
CORNING OPERA CO.: Hoboken, N. J., April 25—week.
N. Y. City 29—week.
BMBA ABBUTI OPERA CO.: Chicago, Ill., April 25—week; Detroit 29—week.
GRAU OPERA CO.: Knoxville, Tenn., April 25—week. week.
Kimball Opera Co.: Utica, N. Y., April 22 week;
Hoboken, N. J., 29 week.
LONDON GAIETY BURLESQUE Co.: Detroit, Mich.,

April 22—week.
LEVY OPERA CO.: Clinton, Ia., April 24, Sterling, Ill., 25, Englewood 27, Chicago 26, Bryan, O., 30, Greenville, May 2, Lebanon 2, Chillicothe 3.
MCGIBENEY FAMILY: Walton, N. Y., April 24, Delhi 25, Rome 25, 30. McCaull's Co.: N. Y. City March 12—indefinite. METROPOLITAN OPERA Co.: Chicago, Ill., April 22

METROPOLITAN OPERA CO.: Chicago, Ill., April 22.

-two weeks.

NOSS PAMILY: Bucyrus, O., April 24, Carey 25,
Miamisburg 26, 27, Franklin 29, Germantown 36,
Tippecanne City May 2, Troy 2, Columbus Grove
3, Blufiton 4,
OVIDE MUSIN CONCERT CO.: Chevenne City, Wyo.,
April 25, Colorado Springs, Col., 26, Pueblo 27, Denver 28, Omaha, Neb., 2, St. Joseph, Mo., May
1, Leavenworth, Kas., 2, Kanass City, Mo., 3, Detroit, Mich., 5, Hamilton, Ont., 6, Brantford 7, Buffalo, N. Y., 6, Lockport 26, Buffalo 21, PEARL OF PEKIN CO: Washington, D. C., April 29

-week.

RICE OPERA CO.: Brooklyn, April 22—week.
SAID PASHA OPERA CO.: Brooklyn, N. Y., April 22 week, Sterson Opera Co.: Baltimore April 22-two weeks, Washington, D. C., May 6-indefinite...
Wilbur Opera Co.: Worcester, Mass., April 22-MINSTRELS.

April 24.
DOCKSTADER'S MINSTRELS: St. Joseph, Mo., April

N. Kappas City 25-27. 24 Kansas City 25-27.

EATON AND PARKELL'S MINSTRELS: St. Paul. Mo., April 22—week.
PIELD's MINSTRELS: Columbus, O., April 22—week
GORMAN BROS. MINSTRELS: Louisville, Ky., Apr
22-24, Bowling Green 25, Russelville 26, Owensbor

27.

HI HENRY'S MINSTRELS: Greenfield, Mass., April 24, North Adams 25, Hoosick Falls, N. V., 26, Mechanicsville 27.

HAVERLY-CLEVELAND MINSTRELS: New 'Britain, Ct., April 26, New Haven 27, Hartford 28, Meriden 29, Springfield, Mass., 30, Holyoke May 2.

JOHNSON AND SLAVIN'S MINSTRELS: Salt Lake City April 24-25.

MCNISH, RAMZA AND ARNO'S MINSTRELS: San Prancisco April 22-week. MCCAME AND YOUNG'S MINSTRELS: St. Louis, Mo., April 22—week.

THATCHER, PRIMROSE AND WEST'S MINSTREIS:
New York City 22—week; Brooklyn 29, week.

VARIETY COMPANIES. ELI PERKINS: Ord, Neb., April 24, St. Paul 25, Grand Island 26, Mankato, Kas., 27. GCS Hint's Co.: Toledo, G., April 22—week; Chi-cago 29—two weeks. HOWARD ATHENAUM CO.: Philadelphia April 22—

HARRY KERNELL'S CO.: N. Y. City April -

week.
Inwin Bros. Co.: Chicago April 22—week.
LUCHER FAMILY: North Adams, Mass., April 24,
Housatonic 25, Great Barrington 56, Collinaville,
Vt. 27.
LILLY CLAY: Trenton, N. J., 24, Poughkoepsie 25,
Stamford 56, Danbury 27.
NIGHT OWLS Co.: Lancaster, Pa., April 24.
ROSE HILL Co.: Cleveland, O., April 22—week.
RENTZ-SANTIEY Co.: Cleveland, O., April 22—week. FRANK MAYO CO.: Ashtabula, O., April 25, Ft.
Wayne, ind., 26, Logansport 27, Chicago 29, week.
Pirisburg, Pa., May 5—week
FANNY DAVENDORI CO.: Minneapolis, Minn., April 22—week.
FANNY DAVENDORI CO.: Minneapolis, Minn., April 22—week.
PAN MEN'S CLUB Co.: Cincinnati April 22—week.
PAT MEN'S CLUB Co.: Cincinnati April 22—week.
Chicago 29, week.
PAN MEN'S CLUB Co.: Cincinnati April 22—week.
Chicago 29, week.
PAN MEN'S CLUB Co.: Springfield, Mass., April 24, Fall
River 25-27.
FRANCESCA REDVING: Easton, Pa., April 22—week.
Mahanoy City 29—week.
Mahanoy City 29—week.
Mahanoy City 29—week.
Mahanoy City 29—week.
Par Rooney: Buffalo, N. Y. April 22—week.
Mahanoy City 29—week.
Par Rooney: Buffalo, N. Y. April 22—week.
Mahanoy City 29—week.
Cohoes 26, Hadson as, Poughkeepste May 1, 2, Sing
Sing: Brocklyn, E. D., 6—week.
PLOY I. ROWELL, Mi. Vernon, O., April 22—week.
PLOY I. ROWELL, Mi. Vernon, O., April 23—week.
Par Rooney: Buffalo, N. Y., April 24
PAT ROONEY: Buffalo, N. Y., April 25-27, Minneapolis 26, Calmano, April 25, May 4, April 25, 26, New Philadelphia 27, Canton 29, May 1, April 25-27, Minneapolis 20, Canton 29, May 1, April 25-27, Minneapolis 20, Canton 29, May 1, April 25-27, Noneapolis 21, Conse, Wis., 3-5, New Albany 26, Corpole, Noneapolis 26, Canton 25, New Albany 26, Carmelton May 1, Fart Scott 25, May 24, April 25-27, Minneapolis 26, Canton 25, New Albany 26, Carmelton May 26, Canton 29, May 4, April 25-27, Minneapolis 20, Canton 29, May 1, April 25-27, Noneapolis 20, Canton 29, May 26, 27, Noneapolis 20, Canton 29, May 26, 27, Noneapolis 20, Canton 20, May 26, Canton 25, Canto

L ECRUM THEATRE. 4th Avenue and 20d Str. BRILLIANT SUCCESS Reningent 845. April 29—Bevival of THE WIFE. der the management of J. M. HILL. Immediately Elegand. Absolutely Elegand. A WOMAN'S STRATAGEM. EIGHTE WEEK.
HOYT'S NEW COMEDT—HIS MEST WORK,
A MIDNIGHT HELL.
A MIDNIGHT HELL. arred, 50c., 75c., $1.50. General admi April 19- CORINNE is MONTE CRISTO, JR. QUEEN OF THE PLAN ONE WEEK ONLY. HER, PRINCOSE & WEST. W MATINES ONLY. LITTLE LORD FAULT

DAY AND SATURDAY.

MANAGERS DIRECTORY. The following are the Leading Places of Amus at Hotels, etc., in the following cities and towns

CLINTON, 10WA. Bijon Opers House.
Seats 700. Open time tim season.
Address E. R. BALDWIN. DURHAM, N. C. Stules Opera Mouse. Seats 600.
Good attractions wanted at once. All dates open after Feb. 1. Have Hew Place. Address. J. T. MALLORY, Manager.

HAMILTON, OHIO. Population, 12,000.

Seats 1,200. Opera chairs. Sconery full and complete. Have piano. Will sent or share. Stage 20215.

HATZFELDT & MORNER, Managers.

M IDDLETOWN, N. Y.

Manual Control of the Control o A. E. McINTYRE.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.

~ Address F. M. TAYLOR, Newburgh, N. Y.,

R ICHMOND, IND.

GRAND OPERA MOTES.

Seats 700. Hussed with natural gas Dressing-rooms warn and clean. The popular bouse of the city. Playing first-class at tractions only. How booking for 1880-60. A few more attraction wanted for this season. Will. II. BRADBURY & SON, Mgrs. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.

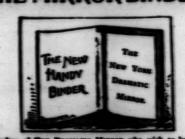

ALCAZAR THEATRE. WALLENBOD & STOCKWELL, - - Managem THE LEADING FAMILY RESORT IN SAN FRANCISCO.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL THEATRICAL INTERIOR IN AMERICA.

THE ONLY THEATRE WEST OF THE ROCKY MOUN TAINS WHICH HAS A PERMANENT STOCK COMPANY.

PLAYS FIRST-CLASS COMBINATIONS AND STARS. Address WALLENROD & STOCKWELL, Alcasar Theatre, San Francisco, Cal., Or, W. W. RANDALL, 1145 Broadway,

THE MIRROR BINDER

CHARLES BOWSER.

CHEEK. chilly Selected Cast.

FRED MARSDEN PLAYS

William Redmund Mrs. Thomas Barry,

Tour MAUDE BANKS, under the Ma Ches. E. Cook, 1889. GEORGE E. LASK.

uph! We are Victorious!

LILLY CLAY'S GAIETY COMPANY,

Under the sole management of RAM T. JACK.

"We have met the enemy and they are ours!" The vanmished for lies a miserable, bleeding wreck! This proves the correctness of the old Spartan adapt, THE FITTEST SHALL.
SURVIVE. The Supreme Court of the State of New York, the sighest tribunal, decides our "Lilly Clay Colossal Gairely Comme" to be the summer real burdenque organization. Read this sighest tribunal, decides our "Lifly Clay Colossal Gainty Comsany" to be the genuine real burlesque organization. Read the ster of HOWE & HUMMEL, and then "Let the galled jade since." "New Yorse Cirk, April 20, 1886.

"Dave Sire: We are pleased to inform you that Justice Ingraham as just decided M. B. Lenvitt's motion for an injunction and inned the application. The Supresse Court declines to interare in any way wisasers with your use of the name. This now ired, as we have advised you from the outset of the suit, yas we have advised you from the outset of the usit,
yas we have advised you from the outset of the usit,
yas you will not be the suit of the control of the suit.

A word to the visice is sufficient. TO OUR FALLEN FOZ.

A word to the visice is sufficient. TO OUR FALLEN FOZ.

Sever inhulge in braggadocio, as a "blisff" is always some to be talled. So "Burseer after hold your peace" and let the public continues in the approval of our one and only LIILLY CLAY DOLOSSAL GAISTY COMPANY.

SAN T. JACK.

INFORMATION

MANAGERS.

Metropolitan * Theatre.

C. M. F. BUSH, MANAGER.

Denver second to none in America.
In soliciting First-class Legisimate Attractions to book with a binus, would say that they will find it the Largest, Handmest, Most Commodious and Safest Theatre West of New ck, regulate with all modern improvements and conveniences, Indiag Ladies' Retiring Rooms, Gentlemen's Smoking Rooms. I Promumde Foper. Furnished throughout with the latest proved uphulatered Opera Chairs. Floors covered with William Carpets, lighted by incandescent electric lights and gos. sures furnished by I. P. Fink, of New York. Heated by an and Fire-Freed throughout.

NOW BOOKING FOR SEASONS '89-90-91. FIRST-CLASS ATTRACTIONS ONLY.

PERCENTAGE OR CERTAINTY.

C. M. F. BUSH, Manager, METROPOLITAN THEATRE. DENVER, COLO.

HARLEY MERRY & CO. SCENIC ARTISTS.

ers of SCENIC CANVAS and COLORS.

Are You Insured Against Accidents ?

A PROFESSIONAL CARD

The Dramatic Mirror GIVES YOU A

$5,000 ACCIDENT POLICY FREE, AND $25 WEEKLY INDEMNITY FOR

52 WEEKS.

Preferred Mutual Accident Association

his policy pays:
$5,000 Death by Accident.
$5,000 Loss of Hands or Feet.
$5,000 Loss of Hand and Foot.
$2,500 Loss of Hand or Foot.
$2,500 Loss of Both Eyes.
$2,500 Permanent Total Disability.
$650 Loss of One Eye.
$25 Per Week, Temporary Total Disability, for 52 Weeks.

CONDITIONS.

RATES FOR PROFESSIONAL CARDS-$5,000 - 6a - 8o

- 100

Miney can be safely sent by cheque, post-office order, express money order or registered letter. Address THE NEW YORK DRAMATIC MIRROR, 145 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK.

MAGGIE MITCHELL.

SEASON 1888-89.

HER LATEST AND GREATEST SUCCESS,

"RAY."

Time all Filled. Company Complete

WM. L. LYKENS, Manager, en route.

J. C. STEWART'S "FAT MEN'S CLUB"

MUSICAL COMEDY COMPANY. An ARTISTIC and FINANCIAL SUCCESS.

24 Singers and Comedians. J. C. STEWART, Jr., Manager, 7 East 19th Street, New York.

KATE CLAXTON SUCCESSES

THE TWO ORPHANS. These plays can be read and negotiated at WORLD AGAINST HER

Notice to Managers. ANNIE PIXLEY

M'LISS,

ROBERT FULFORD.

DOBLIN

TAILOR 854 BROADWAY,

Only the VERY FINEST TAILORING at MODERATE BICES, for CASH, the INVARIABLE BULE. SPRING STYLES NOW READY.

Estelle Clayton.

THE BRILLIANT SOCIETY STAR. ARTHUR ELLIOTT.

AND A SUPERB COMPANY.

Dore Davidson.

Miss Ramie Austen.

STARRING IN

GUILTY WITHOUT CRIME.

Address 306 West 33d Street, New York.

Florence Hamilton.

Supported by her Own Company.

Georgie Hamlin.

EN ROUTE.

t address, Cambridge, III.

Floy Crowell. TIME ALL FILLED.

Emma V. Sheridan.

BOSTON MUSEUM.

Maude Granger, AT LIBERTY.

Miss Kate Forsythe.

AT LIBERTY.

Joseph Adelman. LEADING MAN

> with MISS PLOY CROWELL SEASON 1888-80

Hawthorne.

COSTUMER.

4 East 20th Street, New York.

M. Herrmann.

THEATRICAL and BALL COSTUMES 145 FOURTH AVENUE, NEW YORK.

Ferris Hartman. COMEDIAN.

CONRIED OPERA CO. AT LIBERTY after April 27

Gabrielle Du Sauld.

With DARK SECRET. At liberty after June 8.
Address Agents, or P. O. Box 2721. Fred. Lennox.

Thomas H. McGrath.

CHARACTER ACTOR.
Address J. J. SPIES, Actors' Fund.

Miss Louise Calders. Gertie Heckett in The Romany Rye.

Miss Emma R. Steiner. Miss Eleanor Merron. Address Steinway Hall, New York.

Edwin Booth.

Geo. H. Adams. Is HE, SHE, HIM, HER a go?

WALL, I GUESS YAAS!

Maude White.

GLOBE THEATRE

Richard Mansfield's Company. LONDON, ENGLAND.

Georgie Parker.

Singing and Dancing Soubrette

Address 177 East 108th Street

Miss Helen Lamont.

Helen Lamont Opera Company,

BALTIMORE AND WASHINGTON.

Edward J. Ratcliffe. LEADING.

William Friend. Singing, Character and Low Comedia

Marie Mulock. MINNIE GILFILLIAN.

In SWEET LAVENDER Road Company

Burr McIntosh.

Now devoting his time exclusively to his

PARLOR ENTERTANIMENT.

Harry Watcham.

BUSINESS MANAGER AND TREASURER FOR MR. FRANK DANIELS.

DISENGAGED. PREMIERE DANSEUSE AMERICAN and GERMAN OPERA COMPANIES,

Theodora de Gillert.

Address J. ALEX. BROWN. Wilton Lackaye.

PRINCE SAVIANI

Star Theatre, April 1.

Frank Holland. LEADING MAN

KITTLE RHOADES.
Faust, Pygmalion, Steve Harland

Edward Rose.

THE RED ROUBLE COMPANY.

At liberty April 20, 1889

David P. Steele As THE PRIVATE SECRETARY.

MAY STEELE
As EDITH MARSLAND.
Madison Square Theatre Private Secretary, Company.
At liberty May 1. Address N. Y. DRAMATIC MIRROR.

Noss Family.

In a new musical absurdity, A QUICK MATCH.

By Frank Dumont.

Ada Dyas.

DISENGAGED SEASON 1889-90.

Letters, telegrams, Ledgewood, Norwalk, Conn.

Davenport.

LA TOSCA.

SEASON 1888-89 Managers for MISS DAVENPORT KLAW & FRIANCER, 23 Fast 14th Street, New York.

Laura Alberta.

LEADING LADY. Creston Clarke Company. Will. C. Sampson.

Comedian with Frank Mayo.

Robert Downing.

AMERICA'S GREAT TRAGEDIAN.

Under Management of

MR. JOS. H. MACK.

GRAND AND REALISTIC PRODUCTION OF LEGITI-

Address J. H. MACK, Grand Central Hotel, New York.

Miss Adelaide Moore.

a Representative, JEROME H. EDDY, 25 East 14th Street, New York.

Miss Pauline Hall. DISENGAGED

FROM MAY 1 TO SEPTEMBER 1, 1889

Mr. Alfred Ayres. 224 West 15th Street.

uthor of "The Orthospist," $1; "The Verbalist," $1; "The Mentor," $1; "The Essentials of Elecution," $0e.; "Grammar Without a Muster," $1, etc.
By mail, postage paid.

ELOCUTIONARY AND DRAMATIC INSTRUCTION.

Mr. Jesse Williams.

MUSICAL DIRECTOR AND STAGE MANAGER
OF THE CASINO. Will take a vacation in May, and after a short trip to Euro, will resume his lessons in Vocal Culture, Deep Breathing, Voa Formation, Tone Production and the Art of Singing in English Articres 204 6th Avenue. Mr. Williams will return to the Casino in September.

Miss Grace Sherwood. LEADING SOUBRETTE and INGENUE.

> THE DALYS, SEASONS 1887-88-89. Address En Route or Mins

> > NEW YORK CASINO.

Miss Jenny Elbon. INGENUES.

d for W. H. POWERS' IVY LEAF Comp

T. D. Frawley.

CLEMENT HALE

In SWEET LAVENDER Road Compa Fanny Rice.

THE NADJY.

Miss Celie Ellis.

SOPRANO AND MEZZO ROLES. Late McCaull and Conried Comic Opera Cos.

Virginia Harned. Late Leading with A Night Off Company.

> AT LIBERTY. Address 201 W. 122d Street

Fritz Williams. LEADING LIGHT COMEDIAN. At Liberty after April 6.

Kittie Rhoades.

MAY BLOSSOM

Rachel Booth.

OUGA, in Grattan Donnelly's Russian Drama, THE RED ROUBLE. Herrmann's Broad Street Theatre, Philadelph

Francis Naylor.

Miss Mae Wentworth. AT LIBERTY. INGENUES.

D. R. Young. Horace Bream in SWEET LAVENDER

Bessie Hunter.

Ruth Rolt in Sweet Lavender. John Jennings.

Address Station F. New York

Phil. H. Irving. Estelle Sprague.

Kate Foley.

William Blaisdell.

The Singing and Dancing Co

After May 4, AT LIBERTY for Address 1347 Broadway, or Missaus.

Address GUSTAVE FROHMAN, 19 East 20th Street

LEADING JUVENILES.

Miss St. Quinten.

Verner Clarges.

Pauline Willard.

Lillian Brainard.

Offers for engagement may be

Adelaide Fitz Allan.

Daisy Andrews. JUVENILES AND LIGHT COMEDY.

Miss Grace Addison.

A LEX. VINCENT. Couracter Comedian. Comedy Old Managed.
Address 657 Paul Street, Philadelphia. Lyric Tenor. Address care Ada Gilman Co., en route

FRANK MONROE.
Leading lar
ESTELLE GILBERT.
Heavy Leads or Comedy.
At liberty for Se Late with Garden Wall o

F. R. MONTGOMERY, Character and Singing Co. JENNIE KAY, Singing Soulvette and Boys. GEORGIE PEARL, Child Actress, Singing and I

H. PRICE WEBBER, Manager Beston Comedy Co season. Organized May 23, 1874. Permanent a Augusta, Me., or 202 Washington Street, Boston, I HARRY CONOR.
With Frank Daniels' Company Season 1888-89.

J. W. CARROLI.

JAMES OWRN O'CONOR.

"Founder of new school of acting "—Morning Journal."
"O'Conor is, in sume respects, the most remarkable actor the world has yet seen "—Heraid.
Letters may be addressed 185 Fifth Avenue (Actors' Fund). K ATB SINGLETON.
First Old Woman and Character. Disengaged.
Address 311 East 65th Street, New York, or Min

Starring in THE BUCKEYE.
C. E. CALLAHAN, Manager.
Address Havlin's Theatre, Cincinnati, O.

MR. AND MRS, R. J. DUSTAN (Mary Richardson). AT LIBERTY.

MAUDE WILMOT.
Soubreste and Boys. At Liberty

Eleanor Tyndale.

Addie Cora Reed, PRIMA DONNA

THREE YEARS WITH ACCUSTIN DALY. COMEDY OPERA.

MISS COGHLAN COMPANY.

ANGELICA DAMASK.

Miss Emily Rigl.

Kathryn Kidder.

FANNY DENHAM ROUSE.
An Nancy Dunks in A Legal Wreck.
En ro

Address J. J. SPIES or Mis

GUSTAVUS R. WINTER.
At liberty. Character or Beavy.
Address J. J. SPIRS, or 131 Stuckton Street, Br

ANES L. CARHART.
As Seth Preene in H. R. Jacobs' Lights o' London.
Seagon 1888

LOUIS K. QUINTEN. Open for Fall and Winter of 1880-00. Hereafter I wish to be known by my full name, LOUIE & QUINTEN LEWIS. LIZZIB EVANS

Tiske was like herself. She patterned after none. She was a genius, and put her soul into everything she did and wrote. She cared nothing for roads, nothing nothing for the footsteps of others. She went across the fields, and through the woods, and by the winding streams, and down the vales, or over crags, whe he wrote lines that leaped with laughter, and words that were wet with tears. She gave us quaint thoughts and sayings filled with the 'pert and nimble sp pages were flecked with sunshine and shadow, and in every word were the pulse and breath of life. Within her brain was the divine fire called genius, a 'touch of nature that makes the whole world kin.' She wrote as a stream runs, that winds and babbles through the shadowy fields that falls in foam of d, laughing, joins the sea."

THE GIDDY GUSHER PAPERS

MARY H. FISKE

(EDITED BY HARRISON GREY FISKE)

CONTENTS:

A Tribute of Song—Agricultural Experiences—The Hospital Over the Way—A Suicide—An Anatomical Discovery—Sundry Grave Substs—Bottled Extract of Soul—Theatrical Farmers and Sailors—The Fortune Tellers—Unforgotten "Paulines"—Some Public Nuisances—A Prison cident—Ye Chewers of Gum—The Sad Story of Charlotte Elizabeth—Mrs. Pratt's Equestrian Exploit—A Religious Watering-place—Delights of a Country—Popular Superstitions—Some Awful Mothers—"Baby" Literature—The Watchman's Ghost—The Drug Craze—The Story Told by the ctus—Ouida—Life in a Flat—Prevalent Perfumes—Down East—At the Industrial Exhibition—A Real Home for the Aged—The Plan of the comerang—A Study of Bald Heads—The Green Paper Box—Asa Farwell's Cherry—The Inequality of the Sexes—A Railway Acquaintance—and are the Hard of Heart—The Baby—About Infant's Nurses—Dreams—Decorative Art—The Sergeant's Story—First Love—About Dogs—the Best Time to Die—A Specimen Boarding-House—Our Professors of Dramatic Art—The Horrors of Moving—A Recollection of Childhood—An persoll Lecture—Fragments—"Tiger Lily's" Race (from the play of Philip Herne).

The Giddy Gusher Papers is a handsome 12mo volume, printed from large type, on heavy paper, and bound in cloth. The contents are characteristically representative of the quaint wit, unctuous humor, oving pathos and tender sentiment for which the author was widely celebrated. The book will prove particularly interesting to members of the ofession and readers of The Dramatic Mirror, at the request of many of whom its publication was undertaken.

THE GIDDY GUSHER PAPERS CAN BE HAD ONLY FROM THE OFFICE OF PUBLICATION

Orders by mail will be promptly filled. Money may be sent by postal note, post-office order, express money order, or registered letter.

. PRICE, $1.50. BY MAIL, $1.60.

THE NEW YORK DRAMATIC MIRROR, 145 Fifth Avenue, New York.

On Tour in England (Under the management of Mr. E. C. Dobson) with CHISPA, re-written by Clay M. Greene. New Scenery. Cos-by Angel & Son, London. Music by Michael Connelly, Royal Princess Theatre, London.

CHARACTERS IN
leke Stevens	Mr. Theo. Balfour
rank Pairfax	Mr. I. Denis Covne
ulin Mianro	Mr. Alfred Russell em Downey	Mr. James Bartlett
dary Munro	Miss Gertrude Henderson ittle Harry
hispa	Little Grace Leslie
Sarah Downey CHARACTERS 1
hispa.	Miss Louise Litta
eke Stevens	Mr. Theo, Balfour
Inctur Iones	Mr. I. W. Mandhey

H. S. TAYLOR.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PLAYS.

al Attention Given in Placing Plays and Collecting Royalties. 25 WEST 30TH ST., NEW YORK.

In Elevand Erlanger's Theatrical Exchange.
OFFICE HOURS, 12 A. M. TO 3 P. M.

NOTICE.

PADUCAH, KY. WANTED.

heatre attractions at popular pri-pen June 1. Senting capacity, 2,0 transpersons. Liberal terms to o

Vinnett's Amusement Exchange

AT LIBERTY

FOR SEASON 1889-90.

Broadway Theatre Building

DALY'S THEATRE. MONDAY, APRIL'30. MISS ROSINA VOKES

LONDON COMEDY COMPANY.

The following favorite connedies will be presented during the FIRST WEEK ONLY:

A GAME OF CARDS, MY MILLINER'S BILL, THE ROUGH DIAMOND.

SWEETSER'S OPERA HOUSE, MARION, IND.

TO MANAGERS AND ACTORS.

MESSRS. J. W. SHANNON AND FRED WILLIAMS

Describing, Stage Managers, Translators and Adapters of French and German Flays, Respectfully amounce that, believing they perceive a want which their services can supply, they have established a BUREAU OF STAGE MANAGEMENT AND DRAMATIC LITERATURE IN THE BROADWAY THEATRE BUILDING, ROOMS NO. 11 AND 12,

magers, Authors, or Actors, who require assistance in any detail of dra onstruction or production of plays, whether Stage Direction, Designs fo on or Adaptation of Prench and German pieces, or revision and alteration

A NEW DISCOVERY FOR

SINGERS, READERS, ACTORS, PREACHERS, LAWYERS,

AND ALL OTHERS WHO USE THE VOICE.

VOX* is one of the best Tunics for Thickness of the Voice, Swelling or Tickling of the Throat, Colds, Hoursenss, Acute or Chronic Catarrhal Affections of the Throat and Lungs.

VOX* is a Pronounced Success—Gives Satisfaction—Immediate Results—Nothing Like It—The Vacalist's Friend—The Public Speaker's Gen—Enthusiastically Praised by All Who Blave Given It a Irrial.

VOX* taken before Using the Voice gives Instant Resid. Put up in two onnec buttles, 50 cents. Sample buttles for 1 cents. Set by mail on receipt of price. Ask your druggist for it, or address the propriets 6.

lengent for it, or address the propietre, SOTTS, 414 Bedford Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.